HENDREN & TALLANT CO

Wash Fabrics.

The much-wanted kind.

Dimities, Batistes—Thin Dress Goods—A lady remarked yesterday: "I'll buy my dresses now and have them all made up and the worry over before the warm weather." Wise, wasn't she? She should have added that she would also secure the best collection now. It is the best pattern that sell first. You will never find a better selection than you will find now. We have a line of Dimities, Batistes, etc., elegant colorings, superb designs and qualities that will give satisfaction at the popular price, a yard. . . . 10c

Popular-priced Gingham—You will marvel at the elegant selection the following price will secure. They are excellent imitations of the expensive novelties and colors are equally as fast. They will make the waist you will want for hard wear and many of the checks and stripes are especially adapted for Children's Dresses—a superb collection—a yard. . . . 12½c

Waist Gingham—A special lot—A little shrewd merchandising on the part of our buyer secured for us a lot of Gingham especially designed for a large waist manufacturer. The patterns are especially designed for Waists. There are the broad stripes, the narrow stripes, in fact every stripe and coloring that the well dressed demand—25 cents is the real value of the goods, but to stimulate early buying the price a yard is. . . . 19c

Waist Patterns of Fine Gingham—Appreciating the fact that those who purchase the finest novelties do not wish to have them sold promiscuously over the city we have purchased waist lengths of the newest designs and choicest colorings to be found on the market. They are the proper length for a waist and sell, a pattern from $2.12 to. . . . 85c

Dress Goods.

Seasonable Fabrics Lowly Priced.

Black Wool Kersey bargain for Thursday's selling; 56 inches wide, unequalled for pedestrian skirts, a finish that is desirable and so finely woven that they will not shrink. Excellent values at $1.25 and $1.50, but Thursday the price will be. . . . $1.25 and $1.00

Black Venetian of superior quality and exceptional fine finish; 54 inches wide, all wool of course. You would be content to secure it for $1.65 a yard, but our special price a yard is. . . . $1.39

Colored Venetians, 52 inches wide—For weight and finish this quality is unequalled. This quality is "our leader" and is reasonably priced at $1.35 yard. Our special sale price for Thursday is, a yard. . . . $1.00

Silk Striped Wool Challies for Waists—Not the ordinary kind, but an especially attractive lot of Waists. All the new shades, 28 inches wide, requiring but 2½ yards for a waist. We add to the lot some very pretty figured wool and half wool challies and will sell. . . . 75c, 50c, 35c

Silk Striped Granite and Albatross Waistings. The demand for Waistings is great and will be yet greater. We are prepared to meet the demand. This lot is comprised of a beautiful line of these popular fabrics in every wanted shade. They are going rapidly, for we are combining a low price with the high quality and the price you can secure them at, a yard, is 89c and. . . . 75c

Cloak and Suit Room.

Satisfaction and Economy "Merged."

For several years the tendency of the American lady has been to make nothing she could buy ready made. She has sought to free herself of the worry of planning and making the garments. In this she has frequently met defeat. Nothing has quite provoked her so much as to be shown garments that have no fitting merits and which are only intended for "misfit parlors." There are some people who cannot find a ready made garment to fit, but where there is a fit possible we will guarantee satisfaction.

New Suits are arriving daily and our accom-modating salespeople will take pleasure in demonstrating to you that we can give satisfaction. You will be kindly treated whether you buy or not.

New Skirts, lined or unlined, in every new style and trimming; a beautiful line of colors. We have exercised more care than usual in selecting these garments and we show them with pride. Prices from $25.00 to. . . . $5.00

Wrapper Special for Thursday—A handsome line of new Wrappers in red, blue and black and white. All are made with wide flounce and neatly trimmed. Are values at $1.25. Thursday, price. . . . 98c

Shirt Waists—A Genuine Bargain—We unfortunately carried over a few dozen cotton Shirt Waists from last season. Our new ones will soon be ready to show and we want these out of the way. They sold regularly from $1.00 to $2.00 each. To close the lot we price them at. . . . 25c

Handkerchief—Extra Special.

Values Without a Precedent.

We found a large wholesaler who had 200 dozen Handkerchiefs of varied styles that he wanted to close out. They had become a remnant lot to him. We made him a proposition and he accepted it. They are Swiss Embroidered, lace edges, and every style you would desire. We could have asserted them and sold them for 15c, 20c and 25c each, but we prefer to allow you to share the good purchase and we place them on sale Thursday; your choice. . . . 10c

FIRE AT BIG MINE

Serious Conflagration at Treadwell Property on Douglass Island.

Great Loss of Life Prevented By Superhuman Efforts.

One Hundred Miners Were Working In Lower Levels.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 19.—The great Treadwell mine on Douglass Island were assailed by fire on Tuesday, Feb. 13, and large loss of life was prevented by almost superhuman attempts of everybody who could reach the scene to stay the progress of the flames.

The steamer Dirigo, reaching port this morning, brought particulars of the fire. The Alaskan American Compressor building was entirely destroyed. Thirty-eight thousand dollars worth of stamps and mill plates and a 20-horse mill with the engine room were saved. More than 100 miners were in the lower workings and in the mine when the fire broke out. H. G. Hall, superintendent of the compressor plant, discovered flames issuing from one corner of the huge structure. The flames gained headway rapidly, and before even those in the compressor room could be brought into service, the entire interior was a mass of flames. From the compressor the fire spread to the hoist and tramway and before warning could be sent to the men down in the mines the shaft house was the same and the lower end of the 120-stamp mill was burning fiercely.

The firemen confined their efforts to the mill adjacent to the compressor building and though their clothing frequently caught fire and their hands and faces were badly blistered they finally got the fire under control, after several buildings had been destroyed. In the meantime the flames in the shaft had been burning rapidly and Sven Burdick, one of the men working on the 200-foot level, was the first to gain knowledge of the fire above. He shouted a warning to the miners on the 40-foot level.

After some delay an old gallery communicating between the new and old workings was discovered and after a hard struggle in the smoke, gas-laden levels, the men reached the bottom of the pit in safety. In the meantime, with the help of additional apparatus from Douglass, the fire had been confined to the compressor building shaft, shaft house and a nearby mill building. These were destroyed. The fire in the Dirigo, which was not certain all the men in the mine had escaped, but the mine officials believe they are safe.

AT CLOQUET.

Cloquet, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of John O'Donnell, one of the best known residents of our city, took place yesterday morning at St. Mary's Catholic church. Father Giroux officiated. Mr. O'Donnell had been sick for some time suffering from chronic heart trouble and died Sunday morning last. Julia Dixon, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. O'Donnell, died about 1 o'clock Monday, of cerebral meningitis, and died suddenly in the morning, and suffered for a few hours only. Her death, which was very sudden, was the result of the same disease.

Paul Kusick, accused of stabbing Louis Beach, has been remanded to jail for another week, the complaining witness being unable to appear.

Mrs. Joseph Bleson left for St. Paul Monday. Surveyor Waldford was in town yesterday, preparing plans for a new addition to Scandinavia's youngest son is sick, although it is hoped the case is not serious.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS. Louise B. Partridge, for six years postmaster at Kennewick, Wash., committed suicide by shooting herself in the head. It is apparent that she was suffering from a shortage in her accounts.

It is known here that President Iglesias has agreed to co-operate with President Zelaya in Nicaragua in the proposed canal project. The proposed canal, which is to be traversed by the proposed Nicaragua canal and was an old project in this matter can easily be adjusted.

The big strike at South Bend, Ind., is still on, 150 men refusing to go back to work, until their demands for 25c per hour increase is granted. The strikers, who have formed a union, will use pickets to prevent any men from going to work.

James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railroad, has made another offer to an educational institution in the Northwest. Mr. Hill will donate $100,000 for additional improvements. E. A. Nelson, state librarian, has called upon Mr. Hill in the interests of the Swedish Lutheran institution.

Harry J. Wilson and Fred Buell, structural iron workers on the Seaford building at Cleveland, were killed by falling fourteen stories to the ground late Tuesday afternoon. The men were descending in an elevator. A large timber projecting from the elevator caught in a passing beam and tore the floor of the elevator out. Both were dead when picked up.

Twenty-five families were injured on Tuesday night in a fire that destroyed the 4-story apartment building located at Fifty-sixth street and Madison avenue, Chicago. Many women and children were compelled to leave the building by way of the fire escapes, aided by firemen, but all the occupants of the structure have been accounted for. Loss, $100,000.

A special dispatch from Ketchikan, Alaska, states that three miners perished in a snow slide on Prince of Wales Island on the morning of Feb. 3. They were Thomas McDewitt, James Lodge and Chris Jensen. The men were carried 90 feet down a mountain side by the avalanche. They were buried deep beneath the snow. The bodies were recovered.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured. With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and surface of the mucous membrane. Catarrh is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and a regular prescription. It is composed of the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surface. The Catarrh Cure is a combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in the cure of Catarrh. Send for testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O. LEAD ORE

Output Will Be Controlled By Guggenheim Exploration Company.

Denver, Feb. 19.—The News today says: Advice received from outside sources and borne out by information obtained in Denver indicate that the Guggenheim Exploration company has secured control of the output of lead fluxing ores of the country, and is in a position to dictate prices for this indispensable element in the smelting of precious metals.

One by one, during the past few months, the Guggenheim Exploration company has secured control of the leading fluxing mines in the San Juan and Lake county districts of Colorado, the mines of the Coeur d'Alene district in Idaho and in the Utah district, and has effected a combination with the Ryan-Whitney interests to control the South Missouri fields. To do this several hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent by the Guggenheim Exploration company incidentally with the millions which have been invested in the endeavor to control the ordinary lead product.

CANADIANS

Succeed In Controlling Dominion Iron and Steel Company.

New York, Feb. 19.—Canadian interests in the Dominion Iron and Steel company, in Cape Breton, have succeeded, says a Montreal dispatch to the Times, in preventing the "Americanization" of that company. As a result, H. M. Whitney will, it is stated, resign the presidency of both concerns and be succeeded by James Macdonald, Montreal Vice President and General Manager. A. J. Moxham, who has brought from Pittsburgh, also will retire, it is further stated, and be succeeded by Herick Duggan, a Canadian.

These changes are interpreted as meaning that there will be no further steps taken toward combining with the United States Steel corporation.

BURIED ALIVE.

Awful Act of Superstitious Chilkot Indians In Alaska.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 19.—The steamer Dirigo, which arrived from Alaska, brings news that Chilkot Indians near Haines, Alaska, on Feb. 5, buried alive one of the tribe, a boy 15 years of age. The boy had been seized by the Chilkot Indians, a Methodist missionary, and in the act of being buried alive.

THOUSANDS OF FAIR WOMEN

HERALD PRAISES FOR PERUNA

Catarrhal Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration Make Invalids of More Women Than All Other Diseases Combined.

Peruna is the woman's friend everywhere. It is safe to say that no woman ever used Peruna for any catarrhal disease but what it became indispensable in her household.

Letters From Women. Every day we receive letters from women like the following. Women who have tried doctors and failed; women who have tried Peruna and were cured.

Miss Katie Klein, 615 Barmer avenue, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Peruna has done me more good for catarrh than the best doctors could. I had catarrh so bad, but after taking Peruna it is entirely gone, and I feel like a different person."

Miss Anna Prescott's Letter. Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes: "I am sincerely grateful for the relief I have found from the use of Peruna. I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. My doctor advised me to try Peruna and the relief I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful. I have now taken five bottles and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to myself as well as to my friends."—Anna Prescott.

Peruna a True Friend to Women. Mrs. W. B. Krause, wife of the publisher of the Port Washington Herald, writes from Port Washington, Wis.: "Peruna has cured my catarrh and the suffering which I had in my back and bearing-down pains. I am very thankful for Peruna, at it has cured me where other medicines have failed. I always will speak a good word for Peruna."—Mrs. W. B. Krause.

Peruna Makes You Feel Like a New Person. Miss Marie Coats, a popular young woman of Appleton, Wis., and president of the Appleton Young Ladies' club, also speaks in glowing terms of Peruna. A letter recently received from her by The Peruna Medicine Company, of Columbus, Ohio, reads as follows: "I am glad to call the attention of my friends to Peruna. When that languid, tired feeling comes over you, and your food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruna will make you feel like another person inside of a week."

"I have now used it for three seasons, and find it very valuable and efficacious."—Miss Marie Coats. "Dyspepsia and nervous prostration are traceable directly to catarrh of the stomach. It is directly traceable to catarrh. With the slightest catarrh of the stomach no one can have good digestion."

Very few of the many women who have catarrh of the stomach, suspect what their real trouble is. They know they feel bad, but they do not know what the cause is. A sensation of weight or heaviness, a fullness, irregular appetite, nervousness, empty sensations, occasional pain—they all know this, but they do not know that their trouble is catarrh of the stomach. If they did they would take Peruna.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. As soon as Peruna removes catarrh from the stomach the digestion becomes good, appetite regular, nerves strong, and trouble vanishes. Peruna strengthens weak nerves, but by temporarily stimulating them, but by removing the cause of the trouble, it cures them. This is the only cure that lasts. Remove the cause, Nature will do the rest. Peruna removes the cause.

CHIEF OF POLICE

Rumor Is Again Tying
With New Names
For the Place.

Nels O. Nelson, President of Central Republican Club, Suggested.

A Report That Capt.
Stevens Could Have the Office.

The question as to who will be chief of police grows still more interesting. The West End of the city has, within the last few days put forth a candidate who is said to be receiving strong support from the Sixth ward. The new candidate is Nels O. Nelson, president of the Central Republican club at the West End. Mr. Nelson is one of the prominent business men of the Sixth ward and has never been a candidate for a city office of any kind. The Central club is bound by rules not to take action in endorsing candidates for appointive offices, but it is understood that almost to a man, the club members are in favor of the personal support of the West Enders.

Mr. Nelson's candidacy for the office of chief of police has been working quietly for three or four days past, but his friends have been keeping it very close. They say he is not personally anxious for the position, but he has consented to become a candidate for the mayor's pleasure if his friends desire it, and will support him.

The Sixth ward Republicans claim that in view of the candidates which have arisen on account of the candidates already named for the position, the mayor's appointment of another person, and that because the Central club support him, the Sixth ward during the recent election, the mayor will give it to the West End to appoint its candidate.

At the Central club banquet which was held at the Belmont hotel last week, Mayor Hugo, during a speech in which he referred to the candidates for the position, declared that he was the Sixth ward that saved the day for him. Since the banquet, the Sixth ward Republicans are said to attach a great deal of weight to the mayor's utterance and hold to it that if they saved the day they certainly deserve some favor at least. In this case the appointment of Mr. Nelson as chief of police.

In up-town Republican circles it is claimed that Mr. Nelson has slim chances of becoming a chief of police. The party men from the other portions of the city are not very far from being right. Mr. Nelson is not a candidate from the West End, but he is a candidate from the West End, and he is a candidate from the West End.

It was reported on the street yesterday afternoon, and from Republican sources claimed to be reliable, that there was a strong possibility that Mayor Hugo may give the city council for consideration of the candidacy of Capt. Stevens, chief of police. It is said that the matter has been brought to the attention of the city council, and that it is the thinking of the matter very favorably. The council is the position of Capt. Stevens to the municipality, and the council is the position of Capt. Stevens to the municipality.

HAS FALLEN OFF.

Business of Surveyor General
Is Not Rushing.

G. Fred Stevens, surveyor general of the Duluth district, says that the business of his office has fallen off a great deal this winter, owing to the fact that many of the lumbermen are doing their own logging. He says the high prices of material and the high wages demanded by labor at the beginning of the logging season frightened off many of the jobbers that have for years past been so active in the Northern pine districts, and fewer contracts were made at the opening of the season. It is believed that had the jobbers known that the lumbermen later on in the winter would have been more favorable to them, there would have been many more contracts and a consequent increase in business for the surveyor general's office here.

To Put on New Ships.

The Dominion Steamship line has added two new ships to its Boston-Liverpool service, the Havford, which came out last fall, and the Merion, which is now ready for her first trip. This will make a regular weekly passenger service between Boston and Liverpool via Queenstown. The Dominion and the Vancouver will also be restored to this service, and the Canada, which has been used by the British government as a troop ship, will be released and be placed on this route. The weekly sailings service will be effective March 1. The Mediterranean service of the line will be continued also.

AT THE HOTELS

A young Michigan lumberman, who is stopping at the Spaulding, caught sight of Miss Edythe Chapman in the dining room yesterday, and remarked to his friend that the lady resembled very much the teacher of his Sunday school class back East some years ago. His friend suggested that he had probably made an error, in view of the fact that Miss Chapman was looking toward him for James Neill. The young lumberman was justified, however, and by accident Miss Chapman entered the same elevator to descend to a lower floor of the hotel. It was she this time that recognized her former Sunday school pupil, and the two had a pleasant time discussing their earlier days. Miss Chapman entered the dining room yesterday, and the lumberman, who is now in the city on business, has always borne the reputation of being one of the most refined and cultured players on the stage.

Travel is looking up again, and the hotel registers are beginning to reveal the arrival of many new guests. Quite a few people are coming from the coast at the St. Louis are George W. Myers, president of the village board of Chicago, and his wife, Fred K. Most and wife, of Mountain Iron, William Orr, of Two-way, and J. H. Clifton, of Hibbing. Mrs. J. Stuart, of Hibbing is a guest at the Spaulding.

Fred Erickson, of Ashland, is a guest at the McKay. H. S. Abbott, Theodore Wetmore, Minneapolis; A. G. Butler, New York; C. W. G. Ward, St. Paul; J. H. Henderson, Minneapolis; C. J. Jones, Wheeling; A. M. Holt, Minneapolis; L. H. Norwood, Duluth; and J. H. Forbes, St. Paul, are at the Spaulding.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN

State Conference Is Now In Session at Red Wing.

Rev. J. Fremling, D.D., of Hastings, Is the Presiding Officer.

Duluth Represented By Rev. A. F. Elmquist and Rev. J. Krantz.

Red Wing, Minn., Feb. 19.—The annual meeting of the Minnesota conference of the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Augustana synod opened in this city last evening, with an attendance of about three hundred ministerial and lay delegates. The Minnesota conference consists of the congregations in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and the Western part of Wisconsin.

Delegates began to arrive Monday and that evening the executive committee, consisting of the following, held a meeting and put the finishing touches to the program.

Rev. L. G. Almon, Hallston, Minn.; Rev. L. P. Bergstrom, Winthrop, Minn.; Rev. J. O. Lomberg, Sola, Minn.; Rev. H. H. Hultquist, Center City, A. Lindgren, Red Wing.

The present officers of the conference are: President, D. J. Fremling, Hastings, Minn.; secretary, Philip Helander, Stillwater, Minn.; treasurer, L. T. Bergstrom, Winthrop, Minn. There are about four thousand communicants in this conference district.

One of the important questions to be considered at this meeting will be the establishing of a divinity institute in connection with the theological hospital in St. Paul. A grant may favor this project, but there is also a determined opposition.

A number of changes in the constitution of the conference and the Augustana college will be proposed, and will create a great deal of interest. The delegates to the conference are being entertained in the homes of the city. All denominations assisting the Swedish Lutheran in this. The conference will be in session until Sunday evening, and during the week the Swedish church, as well as in the English Lutheran church, the beautiful new edifice, in which the business sessions are held.

The devotional program arranged for the week is as follows:

Tuesday—The opening sermon, Rev. J. Fremling, D.D., of Hastings, Minn., president of the conference.

FACE OF TAX BILL

section by section a lot of time will be consumed, and the tendency of the senate toward throwing open the door to general legislation further postpones the end.

The Herald's article showing that the tax commission clearly evaded its duty in submitting a tax code based on the present constitution, instead of one based on the most modern and most enlightened ideas, together with the constitutional amendment necessary to carry it into effect, has created much discussion. It is odd that it has not been brought out in any of the discussions that have been held, but it certainly will now, and it will have much weight. Supporters of the tax commission say that it could not follow out the law, because the bill presented under the precise direction of the law could not have been acted upon at this session, nor until the constitutional amendments had been carried. This is true enough, but if the commission had obeyed the law creating it there would have been no such perplexing problem before the legislature at this time, and much worry and grief would have been avoided. Just why the commission took the law into its own hands and twisted it to such an extent is not explained.

Republican politicians are wondering what will be the harvest. The principle output of the special session of the legislature was the tax commission, and the coming campaign, in almost any event, there seems to be no way of avoiding it. Even if there was a republican caucus on the tax measure it would result in a hopeless split. If the tax bill is passed it will drive a large proportion of the population into a most distressing condition of servitude, and the Republican party will be blamed for it. If the bill is not passed the party will have to explain why the session was called without any practical or valuable result, except the abolition of the tax law applicable in farming communities.

Among the St. Louis men who addressed the house yesterday on the St. Louis exposition was Rev. Cornelius H. Patton, formerly pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church at Duluth.

J. P. Johnson and A. L. Agatn are in the Twin Cities talking over the Torrens law with the officers here that are interested in its application. They are getting suggestions on the proper blanks and blank books to put the law into effect. Other Duluth men here are Capt. T. H. Pressnell and John D. Howard.

In the senate yesterday Senator Schaller, of Hastings, made an eloquent plea in behalf of his bill taking municipal and school elections in cities of 5000 inhabitants and less out of the operation of the primary election law. He said that the law as applied to such elections is cumbersome, expensive and unnecessary. Politics seldom enters into these elections, he said, and the primary law is only an injury and not a benefit. The primary election law will have to be handled every carefully, however. Many of the country members are rather sour on it, and it is very much tampering with it is done they might get together and wipe it off the books altogether.

The senate committee on taxes and tax laws yesterday afternoon held the first session it has had in several days, and listened to some more criticisms of the proposed tax law. The committee is composed of Senator Schaller, of Hastings, and Senator Gruber, of Stearns county, and interest in the disposition of penalties and interest on delinquent real estate taxes provided by the code. Senator Gruber, of the same county, objected to the tax levy on delinquent real estate taxes provided by the code. Senator Gruber, of the same county, objected to the tax levy on delinquent real estate taxes provided by the code.

Messrs. Furlong, Currier and Campbell, of Duluth, who are members of the Brokers' association, protested against the proposed code, as it would affect the live stock interests. They said that breeders are conferring a great benefit upon the state by improving the cattle, and that if farmers could be assessed at its actual value instead of being assessed the same as other stock, it would be a great benefit to the state. It is now in the most critical stage, and it would be a great benefit to the state.

The judiciary committee of the house continued its session yesterday, and in an endeavor to hit upon something satisfactory in the shape of a bill for the submission of amendments to article 2 of the constitution. The committee had before it both Gen. Childs, of the tax commission, and Attorney General Douglas, and they gave their views on the subject. Gen. Childs, of course, argued for the tax commission's amendments, and Attorney General Douglas, on the other hand, argued for the amendments submitted by the committee.

The committee will consider all the various sets of amendments submitted in the commission's bill. In all probability the committee will consider all the various sets of amendments submitted in the commission's bill. In all probability the committee will consider all the various sets of amendments submitted in the commission's bill. In all probability the committee will consider all the various sets of amendments submitted in the commission's bill.

BETTING IS LEGAL
When on Horse Races, Says Louisiana Court.

New Orleans, Feb. 19.—The supreme court of Louisiana has handed down a decision that betting on horse races was not against the law.

This decision, although it will be hailed gladly by racing men and breeders, as signaling the end of the betting on horse races does not come without in the province of gambling, was in reality a triumph for the pool rooms. The city council of Shreveport passed an ordinance against them some time ago, and the pool room men went to the courts and got a decision in the lower courts declaring that under the state law which permits betting on horse races, the ordinance was inoperative. The attorney general appealed to the supreme court, and that body upheld the lower court.

This is said to be the first decision by an American court that betting on horse races is legal. Similar decisions have been made a number of times in English courts.

TOWNE

Again Declares He Is Out of Politics For Good.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 19.—Charles A. Towne, the late nominee of the Populists for vice president and one of the recent leaders of the Democratic party, is in the city to confer with business men from the South and West regarding oil lands in Texas.

"I am out of politics for good," said Mr. Towne. "Perhaps in years to come, after I have provided bread and water, I may write a few books and make a few speeches on economic questions. When I was in politics I not only devoted all my time to politics, but I found myself short in finances last summer, so I decided to go to New York and see what I could do there toward regaining it."

Asked if the current rumor as to free silver being dead was true, Mr. Towne said: "This is a matter that cannot be discussed in a few minutes' talk. I will say, however, that the fact that an increased supply of gold for the past year has been discovered, is proof of the correctness of our position. We decided we would have no more money, and the gold is now in the most critical stage, and it would be a great benefit to the state."

LAW INVALID.

Wisconsin Inheritance Tax Law Is Declared Unconstitutional.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 19.—The supreme court has declared the inheritance tax law of Wisconsin unconstitutional and invalid. The court in its opinion upholds the general principle of the law, but says that its provisions for classification bring about unlawful discrimination between beneficiaries of the same class.

"Thus it results," the court says, "that one who receives a legacy of $2000 from one testator whose estate amounts to but $3000, pays no tax, while another who receives a legacy of $2000 from another testator whose estate amounts to $4000, is obliged to pay a tax here, is an unlawful discrimination pure and simple."

BOTH LEGS CUT OFF.
Died Before He Could Reach a Hospital.

Betherville, Iowa, Feb. 19.—John Cain, of Buffalo County, was run down in the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern yards in late city and instantly killed. He with his son had loaded a car of stock and the elder man was waiting for the train to start. The son, who had not noticed a string of box cars over him, seeing the engine coming, tried to get out of the way, but he was struck and killed before he could be taken to the hospital.

SAVED HER CHILD'S LIFE.
"In three weeks my chubby little boy was changed to a skeleton," writes Mrs. W. Watkins, of Pleasant City, O. "A terrible cough set in, and he then used Dr. King's New Discovery for several weeks, grew worse every day. He then used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was soon sound and well. We are sure this great medicine saved his life. Millions know it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung diseases. W. A. Abbott, druggist, guarantees satisfaction. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottles free."

THE DAKOTAS.

Cattle Driven Southward By Snow and Cold Weather.

Armour—the great heavy snow on the range west of the Missouri river, especially along Bull creek, is driving the range cattle south and east and they are winding up in the country. But creek is lined with cattle for miles, some of which have perished from the cold and for want of food.

Clear Lake—Frank Williams, upon returning home, was surprised to see a team and wagon before his door. As he came out the owner of the team rushed up the house, unlocked the door, and from the wagon, and mounting one of them, rode up to the house. Williams found his violin, his best suit of clothes and all his seed grain, which he had lost in the snow. He was very much surprised to find the team and wagon before his door.

NORTH DAKOTA.
Farmers—On Thursday the elevator men of the North will meet here to complete the organization of the Independent Elevators' association of the Dakotas, which was made in St. Paul Jan. 10. The meeting was called by Mr. McPherson, of Valley City, who is president of the association.

THOUSANDS of women are unconsciously, step by step, following the path from health to sickness. The failure of health is often gradual, and women do not notice the coming of disease until actual pain and suffering is upon them. After the pain ceases temporarily they think little of "the trouble" and go on as usual. They do not know that headaches, biliousness, stomach troubles and colds create deep-seated diseases. They do not realize that a sallow complexion and a leathery skin are forerunners of Bright's disease of the kidneys; that constipation and a feeling of languor show a torpid liver. Bright's disease comes from diseased kidneys and develops completely before any warning is given, because kidneys have few nerves. A torpid liver invites all kinds of contagion. Irregular menstruation is the beginning of a life of suffering affecting every part of the body if not promptly corrected. Wine of Cardui is the remedy that has a record of over 1,000,000 cures of this malady. Every woman who values her health should keep Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Dracht in her home and take it regularly before and during the menstrual period. This will insure a regular and healthy menstruation and guard against a running eruption and guard against a running eruption and guard against a running eruption.

Thousands of women praise Wine of Cardui as a remedy for women's ills. It is medicine widely known in every state in the Union and we have yet to hear of a case of female weakness where Wine of Cardui has not been tried.

PETERS' DILEMMA.

First Wife Has Him Arrested For Bigamy.

Oto, Iowa, Feb. 19.—Thomas Peters, aged 51, a well known farmer living near here, was arrested today on a charge of bigamy preferred by Mrs. Thomas Peters, of Fremont, Neb., whom he married twenty-four years ago. He married a well known young lady here and was always supposed to be a respectable man.

that I decided to try it, although I had little faith in patent medicines.

"I am now very thankful that I did so, for within ten days blessed relief came to me, and in less than three months I was cured, and have enjoyed the health ever since.

"I know there is nothing better for a sick woman who wishes to enjoy perfect health and am very pleased to give my hearty endorsement."

No suffering woman can afford to ignore such a letter as Mrs. McDonald writes. Her plans and advice have proved valuable in building up one of the greatest women's organizations in the United States and she takes time to give advice which she knows will help you. But thousands of other home-loving women have written letters like this one, all praising Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Dracht. It is easy to put off securing this medicine, but the trouble grows worse and harder to cure. Why not be rid of the pain and suffering as soon as possible? Go to your druggist today and secure a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui and a twenty-five cent package of Theodor's Black-Dracht. PUGILIST Tells What He Knows of Marks and Mancos.

London, Feb. 18.—On the resumption of the hearing of the charges growing out of the Bank of Liverpool frauds at the Old Bailey today, the defense was begun with an examination of "Dick" Burge, the pugilist, one of the accused men. He testified that he made $30,000 from boxing during the last ten years; that he had known Laurie Marks, the missing American bookkeeper for eighteen months, and that he advanced him $250 in August last on the understanding that they were to divide the profits on Marks' business. Subsequently informed the witness that James Mancos (an American bookkeeper, who is said to have been connected with the robberies) had a rich friend in Liverpool, and that he (Burge) got there with Mancos, as a lot of money might be made by their transactions.

Burge declared he never saw Thomas P. Goude, the second bookkeeper of the bank, until he met him in Holloway jail. The witness never knew that Mancos was a friend of Goude, and never knew the checks were forged. When he heard of the Bank of Liverpool frauds he had no idea that Marks and Mancos were connected with them.

"My child is worth millions to me," says Mrs. Mary Bird of Harrisburg, Pa., "yet I would have lost her by a group had I not purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure." One Minute Cough Cure is a sure cure for cough and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Max Wirth.

CHANGE OF BASE

Commissioners Would Have Free Employment Bureau on Bowery.

Claim That Is the Only Advantageous Location For It.

Has Done Well Considering Handicap Which It Has Had.

The municipal free employment bureau may be located on the Bowery. Since the first of November the bureau has been established in the Armory, and the commissioners have decided that this location is impractical and detrimental. The Bowery is the labor center of Duluth and Duluth is the labor center of the Northwest. The labor commissioners say that with the city bureau located seven or eight blocks away from the Bowery they are hiding their light under a bushel. In fifteen weeks the free bureau has furnished positions at the rate of thirty-three a week or about 500 altogether. It is claimed that the bureau could do three or four times this business if located on the Bowery or nearer the Union depot. The servant girl department of the free bureau has been fairly successful. Positions have been found for eighty-one girls during the fifteen weeks of operation. Many of these girls were brought in from the country towns and villages as applications were made for them by Duluth housekeepers.

Speaking of the needs of the bureau, Commissioner Bowersock says: "Our commission held a meeting the other evening and we have virtually decided to make efforts to get nearer the center of labor. The Armory is an out of the way location for such business and even the inducements of free employment cannot overcome the handicap of location."

"We do not know for certain that we can get a more central location or that the city council will agree to our proposed change, but in the opinion of the commission the bureau would mean great success to the venture."

"During the fifteen weeks that the bureau has been doing business in the Armory it has been doing business in the Armory. As a rule the women and men in Duluth seeking work know the bureau and they are not likely to stumble across our free bureau in its present location unless they get considerably off the beaten trail."

NEGROES
Meet In Eleventh Annual Conference at Tuskegee Institute.

Tuskegee, Ala., Feb. 19.—The eleventh annual session of the Tuskegee negro conference assembled at Tuskegee normal and industrial institute today. Booker T. Washington will preside at all meetings.

At the opening session, Principal Washington said: "It is most encouraging to note that the time has come when Northern and Southern people can co-operate in the uplifting of all classes who need assistance."

"It is with a sense of responsibility and the place to begin to make improvement is right where it is. If we cannot improve our condition here, I do not believe that there are many spots on earth where we can do so. There is an opportunity open in the South for every black man to purchase a farm and make an independent living upon the land."

"Throughout the South the youth of our race should be constantly reminded that we are the occupation that relates to the advance the mechanic and domestic employments practically in any part of the South."

There is nothing in politics, or any other avenue of life, that can begin to compare in importance just now to the

Good Progress In Trial of Bennett For Murder.

Their leader appeared to know the most important persons in the party, for he told Miss Stone and Mrs. Talika to stand by one side. The brigands then robbed the prisoners of all their money, but subsequently returned to them some small silver.

After a time the robbers separated. Part of them took Miss Stone and Mrs. Talika away up a mountain path. The others stayed behind to guard the remainder of the missionaries.

Two hours later, when the brigands who took Miss Stone away had a good start, the missionaries in the road were set free and told to take the news of Miss Stone's capture to her missionary associates and to say that the two women would be held for ransom in the sum of $2,000 Turkish pounds, or $10,000.

The brigands had taken the two women's horses with them, together with one they had seized with the Turk they murdered.

The liberated missionaries walked to Samokov, Bulgaria, forty miles north of the border, where they told Rev. Henry Haskell and Rev. J. W. Baird, representatives in Bulgaria of the Congregational church, of Miss Stone's fate. The Bulgarian authorities and Rev. Dr. J. H. House, representative of the board at Salonika, Miss Stone's headquarters, were also informed of the capture.

Dr. House hurried to Constantinople, where he placed the matter before United States Minister Leishman, who promptly made the proper formal representations to the Bulgarian and Ottoman governments. Those governments forthwith sent troops to the border to prevent the brigands from capturing the captives and to rescue the captives and punish the brigands.

Bulgaria said that the brigands were Turks and had taken their prisoners to Turkish territory. The Turk said the brigands were Bulgarians or Macedonians, in the employ of the Macedonian committee, and were in hiding in Bulgarian territory. Each government placed soldiers on the border to prevent the brigands entering its territory.

The Macedonian committee denied having any part in the abduction, and declared that it was instigated by the Turk. The government in rescue for having been forced by the United States to pay $10,000 indemnity for destroying commercial missionary property during the Armenian massacres.

The captives have been reported from time to time in various parts of Bulgaria. The government in rescue for having been forced by the United States to pay $10,000 indemnity for destroying commercial missionary property during the Armenian massacres.

Negro Says He Ran From Quarter House Fight.

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 19.—Charles M. Dye, a negro, who is said to have been one of Lee Turner's men in the fight at the "Quarter House" near Middleboro last week and for whose arrest Governor Beckham offered a reward of $200, was secured today. He admits he conducted a restaurant near the "Quarter House," but claims he was not in the fight, stating that he ran when he saw the officers coming.

A NUISANCE
Court Enjoins Action of Porters' Alliance at Portland, Ore.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 19.—In the state circuit court Judges George and Clelland rendered a decision that the nuisance of the "Quarter House" restaurant with an inscription to the effect that the restaurant has been declared unfair is a nuisance, which a court of equity may enjoin. The case decided was that of A. J. Hall against the Porters' Alliance. The restaurant was a nuisance, which a court of equity may enjoin. The case decided was that of A. J. THE PLANT IS SOLD

Bondholders' Committee Buys Commercial Light & Power Company.

Duluth General Electric Company Is New Corporation's Name.

Contracts Made For the Better Equipment of Plant.

The electric light and power system and franchise of the Commercial Light and Power company was sold at noon today to the bondholders' committee for $107,405.22, which represents the indebtedness of the old corporation. The effect of the sale will be to place the assets and business on a solid basis and under the ownership and direction of the Duluth General Electric company.

The sale of the property under mortgage bond foreclosure proceedings was held on the front steps of the court house at noon. The sale was held by Special Master Howard S. Abbott, of Minneapolis, acting under a decree of the federal circuit court. The only bidder that had qualified by depositing the required $500 was R. R. Dunn, of St. Paul, who represented the bondholders' committee and he announced that he was prepared to bid the price fixed by the court as the minimum figure at which the property could be sold. No other bidders appearing and no objection being raised, the special master declared the property sold to Mr. Dunn.

The Duluth General Electric company in reality represents the dominant interests in the Commercial company. A. W. Hartman is president of the new company. O. C. Hartman, vice president. Robert R. Dunn, of St. Paul, treasurer, and Benwick B. Knox is secretary. These gentlemen, with C. E. Van Bergen, constitute the board of directors. Ten days' time is allowed under the decree of the court for the redemption of the property from sale, and it will probably be thirty days before the new company takes possession. In the meantime, the latter officials, A. W. Hartman and R. R. Dunn, will continue to conduct the business.

In anticipation of the new order of things, the interests in control have re-equipped the generating station of the company with entirely new machinery and have placed contracts for a large addition to the plant during the coming summer. New machinery has taken the place of the old from generators to transformers. An order has

PATRICK'S SCHEMING

To Secure Rice's Property Is Told By Valet Jones.

The Trouble In Getting Witnesses For Forged Will.

The Valet Finally Concludes His Testimony In Case.

New York, Feb. 18.—Charles P. Jones concluded today his testimony in the trial of Albert T. Patrick, accused of the murder of William M. Rice. Jones was Rice's valet and clerk. In his testimony yesterday Jones referred to an affidavit which he said was shown him by Patrick and which purported to be signed by Rice. Assistant District Attorney Osborne called upon the defense to produce the affidavit. Mr. Moore, counsel for the defense, protested that the action of the prosecution was improper and Recorder Goff sustained the defense. The assistant district attorney was urging a reversal of this decision when the recorder adjourned court and he resumed his argument today.

At the close of Mr. Osborne's plea the recorder ruled that the prosecution submit present secondary evidence of the existence of the affidavit. The examination of Jones was then resumed. He was asked to tell what were the contents of the affidavit shown by Patrick. He said it was a paper swearing off Rice's personal taxes in New York on the ground that he was a resident of Texas. Patrick asked if Mr. Rice was worth twice that much. Jones said he was not sure, but he thought it was $50 a month, replied that he, Jones, was worth twice that much. He said the witness, Patrick showed him a form of the will.

Patrick said he would help Jones if he read law and would help make a smart man of him. Patrick said he did not believe this. The form of will submitted by Patrick, said Jones, purported to leave all the property of William M. Rice to Albert T. Patrick. He asked Patrick what he was going to do with it.

Jones said: "He told me if I would typewrite it he would see about the signing of witnesses. I said I would help him. I wrote it and he told me to sign it. He said it was his will. I signed it and he would have it rewritten at his office. Patrick asked if Mr. Rice had made any other will, and I told him yes. I said I had seen it and knew where it was kept. I got for him, the will of 1896. He said he did not think it right for Mr. Rice to leave so little of his property to his relatives and so much for charity. I agreed with him."

Patrick said he would give me anything I wanted," witness said, "to help the thing along. I objected to being a witness to the will and having to swear to the signature, but I agreed to help to get the will probated. It was decided that I should not be a beneficiary because the heirs might make a claim of undue influence. One of the forms of the will was discussed made me heir instead of Patrick."

Patrick wanted to get the 1896 will probated. He said he would call on Rice to get some money to take up a mortgage on Texas property. He said he was not successful, and I thought it a good chance to get hold of him as a witness while he was suffering from his disappointment. I called up Patrick on the telephone and told him. Patrick suggested that I call on Mr. Wetherbee and sound him up. I called on Wetherbee and told him Mr. Rice got up "dopey" at times and on such occasions I could get him to sign anything. I told him if he could get a will written naming himself as executor I could get it signed.

"What did Wetherbee say?" asked Attorney Osborne.

"He said it would be like cutting his throat off. He said he would like to be executor of such a big estate as Mr. Rice's, but he would not go into any such scheme as that."

"Did you tell Patrick of that interview?"

"Yes, and he told me not to bother Wetherbee any more. He told me he could get one witness and I would have to be the other. I objected, saying I could not be a witness and a beneficiary too. He said that difficulty could be gotten over. Some days later, in January, 1900, he told me Short and Meyers would serve as witnesses."

A UNIQUE CLAUSE.

Paragraph in a Foreign Will Filed Here.

A rather unique clause appears in the will of Hoffman Atkinson, of New York, whose death occurred last fall, and whose will has just been filed for probate in this county, where he owns considerable property. Mr. Atkinson left surviving him a widow and two twin sons, the latter 14 years of age. He bequeaths all his property to his wife to enjoy during her lifetime and educate her sons. Mr. Atkinson, who was a diplomatic representative of this nation at foreign courts, and spent much of his life abroad, wrote in his will:

"I earnestly hope that every descendant of mine, both man and woman, may be taught and acquire some one profession, trade or handicraft during adolescence, whereby to avoid the risk of begging or borrowing. The awful shame of stealing, begging and borrowing is best provided against by the possession of a profession or trade, and no profession or trade can be degrading or low as compared with the shame of getting for nothing the fruits of others' labors."

A VICTORY FOR DULUTH

House Amends Tax Bill Concerning Vessels.

Not an Objection Made to Present Tonnage Tax.

State Capitol Bureau.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house this morning adopted without a dissenting vote amendments to the tax bill replacing vessel property enrolled at Duluth on its present basis, and averting the prospect of its taxation at full value. Mr. Laybourn moved several amendments designed to carry this out. One added to the section describing vessel property as taxable property, a phrase excepting vessel navigating in the waters of the great lakes, and another added to the proposed tax code all of the law of 1885, providing for a tax of 3 cents per ton upon vessels observing certain requirements, half of the tax to go to the state and half to the county in which the property is situated. There was no dispute whatever, and Mr. Roberts, of Minneapolis, one of the strongest supporters of the bill, seconded Mr. Laybourn's amendments. The house made considerable progress this morning in dissecting the bill, and several important changes were made. When the noon adjournment was reached the Wallace set of amendments had been reached, and Mr. Jacobson had just offered an amendment to them, which he hoped would give the authorities power to reach property that escapes a taxation under the present law.

At the opening, Mr. Kelly, of Northfield, indulged in a little sarcasm at the expense of Mr. Roberts, who, he said, had argued the other day that the bill was immaculate in every respect, and now he has brought in a bunch of forty-six amendments, gotten up on the spur of the moment.

Mr. Pennington, of Dakota county, wanted to amend the law so as to provide for a single tax commissioner, instead of a state tax commission, but his idea was swamped with adverse votes.

Mr. Deming, of Hennepin, got through two amendments of the provision for the year or years during which it may be changed have escaped taxation. One change cuts out the provision for adding 7 per cent interest, and the other excepted from the operation of the section property in the hands of innocent purchasers, acquiring it after the taxes that had been omitted became payable.

Mr. Roberts introduced an important amendment to section 32 of the law by striking out the words "or bankers," which is not in the old law. This is the provision that it was feared would require bankers to list their deposits and thus create an annual panic. The amendment was adopted.

Then Mr. Wallace's set of amendments was reached and they were opposed by Mr. Jacobson, who did a stunt in high C.

Mr. Stark, after Mr. Wallace had stated that his amendments eliminated the inquisitorial features of the bill, got up to say that it seemed to him that there had been a combination of the friends and enemies of the bill, and he did not understand it. This raised a laugh.

Mr. Jacobson said that the Wallace amendments went a long way toward satisfying the complaints against the bill, but it was a question if they did not go too far. He thought it unwise to adopt the amendments. They were in favor of class of tax delinquents that have not paid their just share of taxes; it was truckling to a lot of people that threaten to remove from the state if their demands are not satisfied. For his part, he would let them go, for they are not good citizens. He offered an amendment to section 30, phrasing and corrections of minor errors in detail, though several of them were important. Those making changes in the inquisitorial features of the bill he withdrew, however, stating that Mr. Wallace, of Minneapolis, had presented a set of amendments that would do the work better.

He then called up the exemption matter, however, and then Mr. Nyquist, of Blue Earth county, offered a substitute making the exemption $200. There was an extended discussion of this point, after which it went through by a vote of 70 to 31. Mr. Roberts voting for it. During the discussion, Mr. Armstrong, of Minneapolis, said that if the proposed tax law doubled the assessed valuations, it will be necessary to double the exemption to keep things as they are. Mr. Stallor, of Duluth, said he represented a district composed largely

The House Is Now Considering the Tax Code—Many Amendments Being Offered and Some Are Adopted.

State Capitol Bureau.

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house yesterday afternoon got down to direct consideration of the tax code, section by section. In the morning it started in as though the consideration of the various provisions of the bill was to be preceded by several days of oratory, but the general talking on the bill came to an end with the morning session. Immediately after the house reassembled in the afternoon Mr. Roberts, of Hennepin county, moved the adoption of an amendment changing the personal property exemption from $25 back to $100, where it is under the present law. Mr. Roberts had sent up forty-six amendments to the bill, most of which are changes in

LEE TURNER IS ARRESTED

Knoxville, Feb. 20.—Lee Turner, proprietor of the Quarter house, near Middleboro, which was burned during the fight between officers and mountaineers, was captured here this morning.

Middleboro, Ky., Feb. 20.—It is reported here that Lee Turner, whose "Quarter house" was burned last week in a gunnary battle, had gone to Frankfort, Ky., to intercede with Governor Beckham in his own behalf. Turner, it was said, went the first of the week by La Fayette where he went to Jellico and then to Frankfort. Four hundred dollars have been offered for his arrest by Governor Beckham and friends of Detective Charles F. Kelly, who was killed, have made up $250 more. John Doyle, shot in the "Quarter house" battle and Boone McGinnis, wounded previously, are dead.

A SERIOUS FIRE AT ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A destructive fire broke out in the building of McCormick, Behne & Co., Fourth and Wacouta streets, about 4 o'clock this morning.

Before the flames could be checked, damage amounting to about $12,000 resulted. The firm does a jobbing business in teas and coffees. The building, also owned by the firm was damaged $500; the stock about $700.

UNITED STATES GIVES WARNING

That the Integrity of the Chinese Empire Must Not Be Molested.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—The Tribune today prints the following special cablegram from Peking, China, under date of Feb. 19. A sensation was caused in diplomatic circles here today when it became known that the United States, through Secretary Hay, had sent a note to the Russian and Chinese governments, following closely along the lines of the Anglo-Japanese treaty of Jan. 30.

The note is a distinct warning to both China and Russia that the United States will not permit the integrity of the empire to be molested in favor of one nation to the detriment of all others.

The note, which practically endorses the English treaty with Japan, says: "Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—An agreement whereby China gives any corporation or company the exclusive right or privilege of opening mines, establishing railroads, or in any other way industrially developing Manchuria, can be but viewed with the gravest concern by the government of the United States.

"It constitutes a monopoly, which is a distinct breach of the stipulations of the treaties concluded between China and foreign powers, and thereby seriously affects the rights of American citizens.

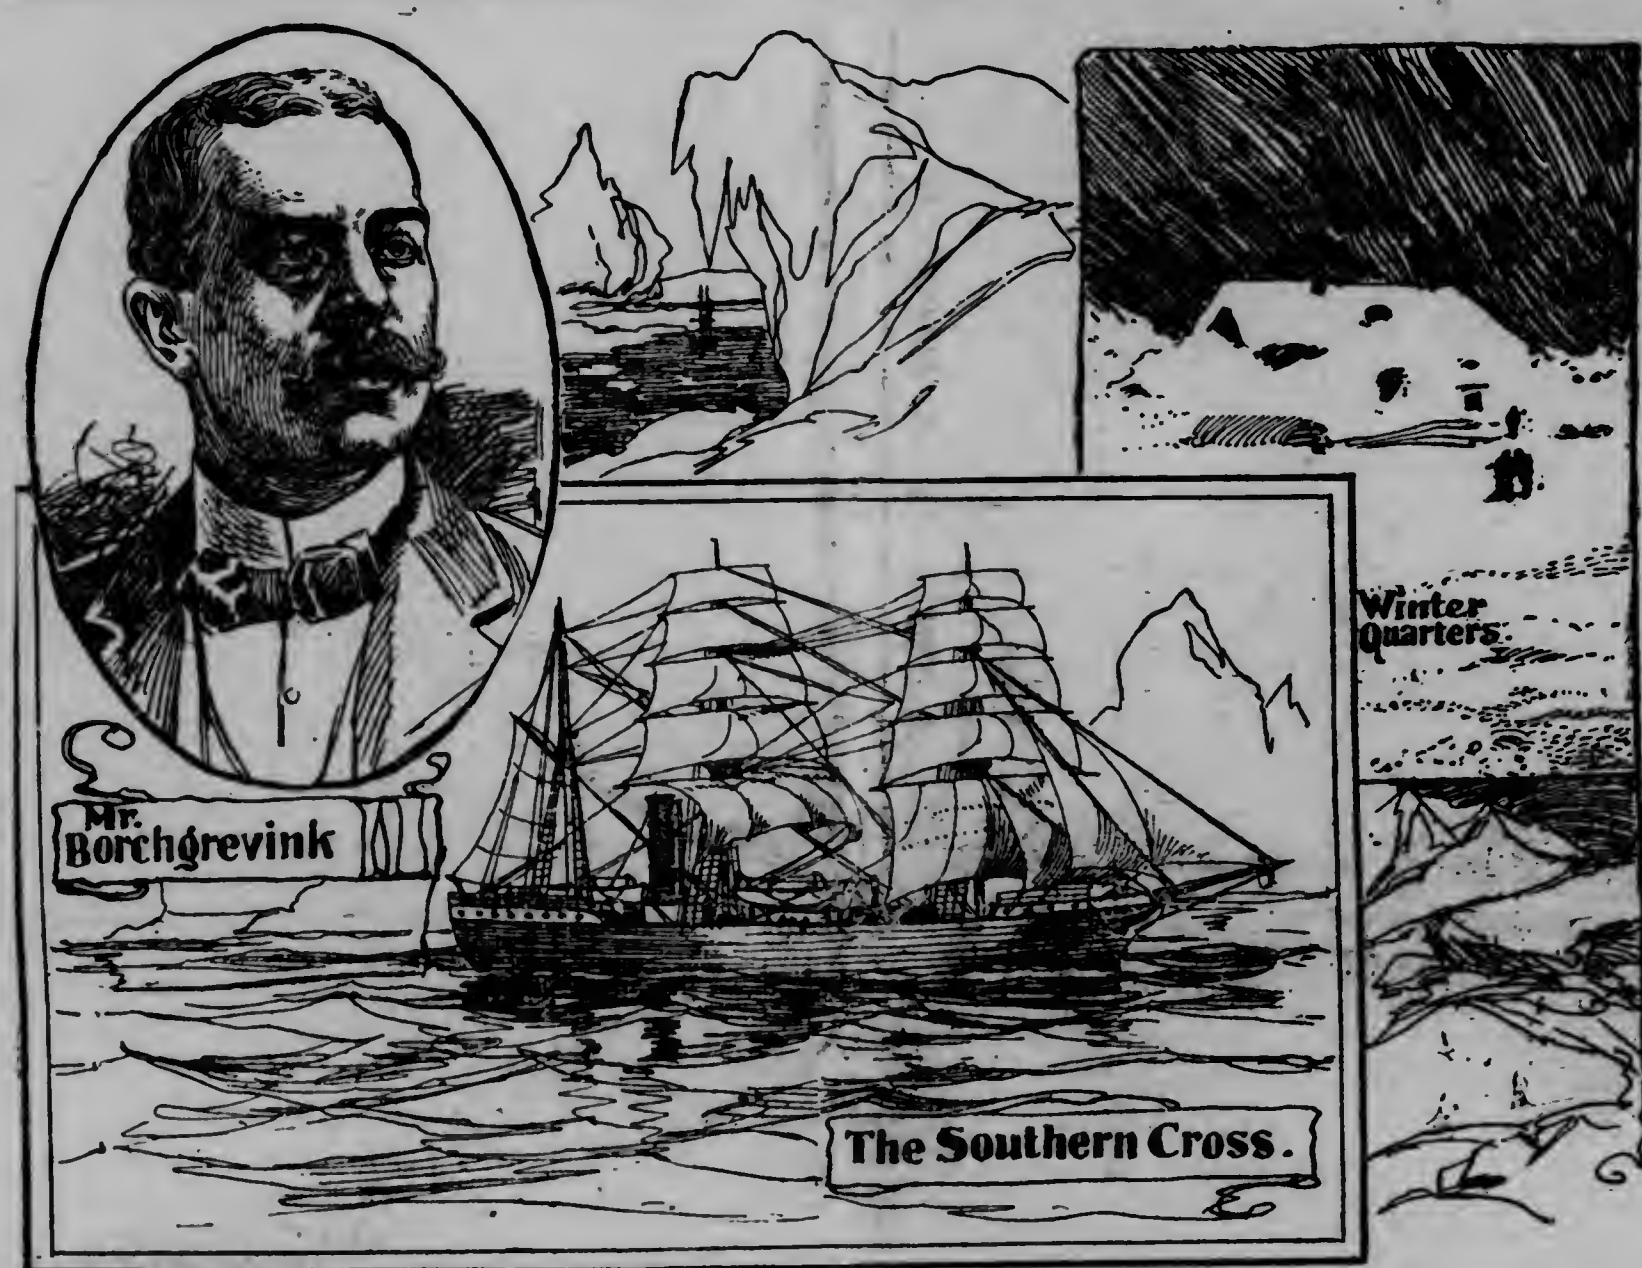

"It restricts their rightful trade, exposing it to being discriminated against, interfered with, or otherwise jeopardized, and strongly tends to permanently impairing China's sovereign rights in this part of the empire, while it seriously interferes with her ability to meet her international obligations.

"Furthermore, such a concession on China's part would undoubtedly be followed by demands from other powers for similar equal extensive advantages elsewhere in the Chinese empire, and the inevitable result must be the complete wreck of the policy of absolute equality of treatment to all nations respecting trade, navigation and commerce with the empire's confines.

"On the other hand, the attainment by one power of such exclusive privileges for the commercial organizations of its nationality conflicts with the assurances repeatedly conveyed to this government by the imperial Russian ministry of foreign affairs of the imperial government's intention to follow the policy of the open door, as advocated by the government of the United States and accepted by all the treaty powers having commercial interests in the empire.

"It is for these reasons that the government of the United States, now as formerly, animated by the sincerest desire of insuring to the whole world the benefits of full and fair intercourse between China and the nations on a footing of equal rights and advantages to all, submits the above to the earnest consideration of the imperial government of the Russian empire and the government of China, and Russia, confident

BORCHGREVINK, WHO WILL TRY FOR THE SOUTH POLE AGAIN.

C. E. Borchgrevink, the Norwegian explorer, who is now in this country, is not content with his record of having penetrated more than 500 miles nearer the south pole than any of his predecessors. He is already making preparations for another trip to that mysterious southern continent which supports no mammalian life and produces no representative of the vegetable kingdom save an unimportant lichen. Mr. Borchgrevink has not yet decided whether or not he will again use his old ship, the Southern Cross. He will, however, probably decide in her favor, inasmuch as she is peculiarly adapted to the work in hand.

A CAPTAINS' BATTLE

President Roosevelt Decides the Schley Appeal Adversely to the Admiral.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The president has made the following statement public: "White House, Feb. 18, 1902.—I have received the appeal of Admiral Schley and the answer thereto from the navy department. I have examined both with the utmost care, as well as the preceding appeal to the secretary of the navy. I have read through all the testimony taken before the court and the statements of the counsel for Admirals Sampson and Schley; have examined all the official reports of every kind in reference to the Santiago naval campaign, copies of the log books and signal books and the testimony before the court of claims, and have also personally had before me the four surviving captains of the five ships, aside from those of the two admirals, which were actively engaged at Santiago.

"It appears that the court of inquiry was unanimous in its findings of fact and unanimous in its expressions of opinion on most of its findings of fact. No appeal is made to me from the verdict of the court on these points where it was unanimous. I have, however, gone carefully over the evidence on these points, also. I am satisfied that on the whole the court did substantial justice.

"It should have specifically condemned the failure to enforce an efficient night blockade at Santiago while Admiral Schley was in command. On the other hand, I feel that there is a reasonable doubt whether he did not move

FOUR HOUSES SNAKES CAUSE TROUBLE

Indians Are Incensed at the Springing Up of New Towns in Creek Nation and Threaten to Burn Them All.

Holdenville, I. T., Feb. 20.—About twenty armed Snake Indians threatened to burn Holdenville Wednesday, and Marshal Kats, learning of their intention, placed a large number of deputies on guard to protect the city. While there were some demonstrations, nothing was done. It has been known for some time that the Snakes are incensed at the springing up of new towns all over the Creek nation, and it is feared that serious trouble will be the outcome.

Mounds and Beggs, new towns along the line of the Frisco, were threatened also, but they were well guarded, and an attack was not made. The Snakes seem to be determined not to give up their country to law and order without strenuous resistance.

United States Marshal Bennett of Muskogee has ordered the arrest of all armed Snakes.

Capture a Detachment of a Crack Regiment.

The Scots Greys Suffer In Fight at Klipdam.

London, Feb. 20.—A detachment of the Scots Greys (Second regiments), one of Great Britain's crack dragon regiments, has been cut up by the Boers at Klipdam. Maj. C. W. M. Feilden and Capt. E. Usher were severely wounded, two men were killed, six were wounded and forty-six were captured. The news was received this morning from Lord Kitchener in a dispatch dated Pretoria, Wednesday, Feb. 19.

The Scots Greys formed part of Gen. Gilbert Hamilton's column. The latter, while moving on Nigel, Feb. 18, engaged a force of Boers at Klipdam. The Scots Greys became detached, were surrounded and cut off. Gen. Hamilton was unable to dislodge the Boers from their position, so he continued his march towards Nigel. The Boers released the Scots Greys who had been made prisoners.

FLURRY IN WALL STREET

Caused By Report That Attorney General Knox Will Bring Test Suit Against the Railroad Merger.

New York, Feb. 20.—There was a sensational flurry in the stock market this morning which proved how disagreeable a surprise President Roosevelt had given the speculative world by his instructions to the attorney general to begin proceedings to test the legality of the formation of the Northern Securities company. The bore the chief brunt of the process of unloading stocks, as they are most immediately concerned in the project represented by the formation of the company. Great Northern preferred is the only stock still listed on the exchange, while is immediately involved in the company, and the first sale of that was 34 lower than last night. However, Union Pacific, St. Paul, Northwestern and Southern Pacific all show close sympathy with the affairs of the Northern Securities company, and all of them dropped sharply. Union Pacific losing 34, St. Paul 3 and Southern Pacific 2 1/2.

The weakness was by no means confined to this group. The wide branches in value among the Southwesterns and in Reading as well as in high-priced industrials like Sugar, Tennessee Coal and the local traction, was a fair indication of how confident a hope had been cherished that the supreme court next Monday would dispose of the Northern Securities' uncertainty and relieve the stock market from that oppressive influence.

Generally speaking, the first prices were the lowest, and the bear party was evicted of the transactional railroads as low a level as they dared, with the purpose of uncovering margins and dislodging stocks. Support for the market was prompt and powerful. The buying on this account had to absorb very heavy offerings for a time without any indication of a check to their flow. The evident fact that confident buying was going on relieved apprehension, however, and the selling became less urgent. The bull interests were then able to bid up prices again and the market rallied. Their recovery by no means restored prices to last night's level, but improvements of from 1 to 2 points were scored by some of the principal active stocks. The buying then decreased again and prices yielded, but the market became much quieter.

TO SOUND THE PACIFIC

Big Sea-Going Tug Will Start on Trip to Ascertain the Depth of Water in the Pacific Ocean.

New York, Feb. 20.—To take soundings in the Pacific ocean from near San Francisco to the Hawaiian islands, thence to the Ladrone and from there to the Philippines, for the projected Pacific cable, the Titus, a 120-ton sea-going tug, will leave New York within a few days. Stops will probably be made at Valparaiso and Panama. One of the governments most trusted transport captains, who has a knowledge of soundings and mathematics, has just arrived here from the Philippines for the purpose of taking the Titus out.

He expects to begin taking soundings about the end of April, and to complete this task by the end of May. For ascertaining depths a new device will be used. It is a large iron cylinder, topped by a cone, containing air, and is hemoispherically sealed, except when the cylinder is immersed. Then water flowing into the cylinder and through a tube has access to the cone containing the air.

Working on the principles of hydraulics and gravitation, it is possible to drop the cylinder to a reasonable depth, and the pressure is indicated on a dial attached to the cone. When the cylinder is drawn up, by taking the pressure and the depth, and making the proper computations, the total depth of the sea at that point is determined.

Soundings will be taken every half hour, with the tug going at a speed of about six miles an hour. It is not expected that a depth greater than 6000 feet will be found on the course.

CITY OFFICERS OUSTED

Municipal Business at Kansas City Came to Standstill By Reason of Supreme Court Decision Removing Officials.

Kansas City, Feb. 20.—Kansas City today is without its five principal charter officers, as a result of yesterday's decision of the state supreme court ousting City Comptroller Lund, City Physician Coffin, Clerk Curry, Assessor Yost and City Counsellor Middlebrook, hold-over Republicans. After the decision had become thoroughly understood and they had sought the advice of their attorneys, each of the ousted Republicans left their offices refusing to assume responsibility for their future conduct, and informing their clerks that if they remained at their desks they must do so upon their own responsibility. This practically all the city's business came to an abrupt standstill.

The trouble arose a year ago when the city council refused to confirm the nominations for these offices, sent in by Mayor Reed, a Democrat. The mayor has called a special meeting of his political associates to consider the situation.

FISH FOR THE BEAN EATERS

Vancouver, Feb. 20.—The Halibut express, comprising nine cars of fresh halibut, one car of Puget sound salmon and one car of Squamish valley hogs, left here yesterday for Boston. This is the first through fish train to run from the Pacific to the Atlantic. It will make the same time as a passenger express and the fish will be landed in Boston Monday morning.

UNFAIR GAMBLING SCHEME

Vincennes, Ind., Feb. 20.—E. W. Roberts, an electrician, created a sensation in the suit against Matthew Kelly and Dallas Tyler, charged with causing the downfall of Richard Davis, former bank cashier, by unfair gambling schemes. He testified that at the direction of Kelly he placed a new battery in the saloon and adjusted two saucer magnets under the bar, where it is alleged that Davis lost $50,000 throwing craps. The electrical work was done at midnight, and witness was warned by Kelly not to mention it.

AT WEST DULUTH

The funeral services over the remains of the late John Brown were held at the St. James church at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and the funeral was large and impressive. He was a prominent member of Local Association No. 12, Longshoremen's International union, and the members of the organization turned out in large numbers to pay the last tribute of respect.

The procession started from the late home of the deceased on Fifty-second avenue west and marched to the church, where Rev. Father Feehely preached the funeral sermon. Afterward the remains were escorted to Duluth. The procession was headed by Lanners' band of twenty pieces, playing a dirge. Following came Local Union No. 12, 100 members strong, bearing the American flag and the "longshoremen" banner. The "longshoremen" were headed by the officers of the organization.

The line of march was from West Duluth to Duluth, the band and union accompanying the remains up town, the procession passing through the business portion of the city about 11:30 o'clock. Interment was made at Calvary cemetery.

BOTH ARE CLAIMING

Republicans and Democrats Are Equally Confident of Victory.

Democrats Offset Republican Claim as to Second Ward Precinct.

Can Throw Out a Hugo Precinct on Same Ground.

Truelsen's election is now claimed by a plurality of from two to thirty.

The Republicans, on the other hand, are claiming the election of Hugo by from four to thirteen plurality.

Democrats that yesterday said Truelsen only had the ragged edge of a fighting chance, despite his plurality of one on undisputed ballots, are more confident and enthusiastic today.

Mr. Truelsen and his attorney, J. B. Richards, have gone over the situation very thoroughly, and Mr. Richards says that leaving uninitiated ballots out of consideration he considers Truelsen in the lead by one plurality, with excellent chances of gaining two more votes in counting the election, the Democratic aspirant by a plurality of three.

Mr. Richards further says that if Truelsen should lose all the votes which he expects to gain in court, the result would be a tie.

Yesterday the Republicans said that nothing would sell them better than to see the courts throw out all ballots not signed by two judges of election, claiming that would mean the elimination of all votes in the Fourth precinct of the Second ward, where the judges neglected to sign the ballots given out early in the morning and signed them after the polls closed in the evening. This would leave Truelsen a plurality of thirty-six votes.

Today, however, it was discovered that the judges of election made the same mistake in the Second precinct of the Sixth ward, which gave Hugo a plurality of 22.

Democrats say that if the Republicans throw out the Fourth of the Second ward, the Sixth ward would mean the election of Truelsen by 26 plurality, and it is on this that many politicians are claiming that Truelsen really has a lead of 30.

Mr. Richards was asked regarding the rumor of the Second of the Sixth ward. He said second of the Sixth ward would mean the election of Truelsen by 26 plurality, and it is on this that many politicians are claiming that Truelsen really has a lead of 30.

The time for the majority case has not been determined. It could not possibly be made up before March 1 and would be by stipulation. Should the Republicans decline to stipulate and claim all the time that is allowed them, the case will not come up till March 15.

Neither Mr. Mitchell, representing Mr. Hugo, or Mr. Richards, representing the contestant, could say just when the litigation would proceed.

The friends of Mr. Truelsen seem very confident that the courts will throw out all the ballots not properly signed by the judges of election. It was even claimed today that Judge Collins of the supreme court had written a decision that would furnish a precedent.

The only decision written by Judge Collins that is the only decision which comes nearest to touching the points involved in the present dispute was handed down in October, 1894. It was in a contest for the office of sheriff of Winona county, and the contestant desired an entire precinct thrown out because two judges of the same party signed the ballots instead of two judges of opposite political parties as required by law.

The court held that where the law providing that the initiative party signed the ballots instead of two judges of opposite political parties, and where no wrong or fraud had been intended or perpetrated, the requirement was not mandatory.

This decision is given in the fifty-ninth Minnesota report.

Mayor Hugo was in St. Paul when the Truelsen gains were made toward the end of the recount, and was much surprised to find the result so close when he returned this morning.

He said: "We were very trouble for me on my return the last time I was away, and this time they try to count me out. Guess I'll stay at home after this."

It was reported on the street today that Alderman Cromwell was going to contest the election of Joseph Mannheim in the Third ward, and that this contest would have some bearing on the majority situation.

It is claimed by the Republicans that Awful Pile Pain.

A. E. Aurlinger, Braidwood, Ill., says: "After suffering untold agony for twelve years from both hemorrhoids and piles, I am completely cured by the 'Pile Cure' sold by Dr. J. B. Richards, 29 cents a box. Book, 'Piles, Cause and Cure,' while the insurance of the Australian land tax system in Colorado.

I Will Cure You of RHEUMATISM

No Pay Until You Know It.

After 200 experiments, I have learned how to cure Rheumatism. Not to turn bony joints into flesh again; that is impossible. But I can cure the disease always, at any stage, and forever.

I ask for no money. Simply write me a postal and I will send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure, for every druggist keeps it. Use it for a month, and if it does what I claim pay your druggist $2.00 for it. If it doesn't, I will pay him myself.

I have no samples. Any medicine that can affect rheumatism with but a few doses must be drugged to the verge of danger, using no such drugs. I fully take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that, even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. No matter how long it has been with you, I know it and I take this risk. I have cured tens of thousands of cases in this way, and my records show that 39 out of 40 who get the six bottles pay, and gladly. I have learned that people in general are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. I will not expect a penny from you.

Simply write me a postal card or letter. Let me send you an order for the medicine, also a box of pills. If for a month, if it won't harm you anyway, if it cures, pay $2.00. I leave that entirely to you. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 88, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

The election judges of the first precinct of the Third ward did not administer the required oath to voters at registration and therefore the entire precinct should be thrown out. This precinct gave Mannheim a majority of 43, so that if thrown out he would still lead Mr. Cromwell by four votes. The precinct gave Truelsen a plurality of thirty-six votes, and if that should be wiped out it would bring disaster to the most sanguine Democratic claims.

The morning paper seeks to correct The Herald's statement that on the face of the returns in the report of the recount inspectors, Hugo suffers a net loss of eight votes. The original returns are to Hugo 353 votes. The recount inspectors gave him 360 undisputed votes. The difference or loss is fifty-two.

The original returns gave Truelsen 354. The undisputed returns of the recount inspectors give him 392. The difference or loss is forty-three. Subtracting forty-three from fifty-two, a net loss of nine is shown for Hugo.

GIVEN UP.

Fight Over Cloquet Water Plant Has Been Adjusted.

The fight over the Cloquet water system proposition has been given up for good, it is said. The lumber companies obtained a writ of injunction preventing the village officers from selling the bonds which it was proposed to issue for the purpose of building an extensive system of waterworks. The large taxpayers were willing that a system should be put in covering the principal part of the village, but objected to rock being blasted for trenches for the laying of mains to outlying districts.

It was found that there were serious technical defects in the form of bond that had been prepared to raise funds with for building the plant, and that nobody would be likely to purchase the issue. In the meantime a great change of heart had come over the partisans of the original plan, and it is said they came to regard the position of the large taxpayers as quite reasonable.

A Card.

During the special discount sale now in progress at this store it has been impossible to properly wait upon the great number of customers coming in the afternoon.

The suggestion is respectfully made that all, who can conveniently, shall come in the forenoon when better service can be rendered.

which he wanted adopted, providing that if anybody refuses to swear to his personal property list, the assessor shall make an arbitrary assessment, and the auditor shall add a penalty of 50 per cent to the assessment.

Mr. Wallace laughingly accepted the amendment and said he would vote for it if Jacobson would vote for him. The latter wanted a vote on it then, but it was noon, and many wanted a chance to consider it longer, so an adjournment was taken to this afternoon. Under the Wallace amendments the oath would be optional.

The senate this morning passed Mr. Schaller's bill excepting cities under 1000 inhabitants from the operation of the primary election law on municipal or school elections, but it was amended to make it apply to cities under 10,000 instead of 5000. There was but one vote against it, that of Mr. Stockwell.

The tax bill was reported by the committee and placed on general orders, and it may be postponed from day to day. The senate refused to take up Mr. McGowan's bill abolishing the present railroad and warehouse commission and requiring the governor to appoint a new one. The bill was indefinitely postponed.

The governor's bill appropriating $11,500 for the public examiner's office was received and referred. The Knatvold bill appropriating $25,000 for the anti-merger fight was passed. Senator Ives being refused a chance to amend to require the attorney general to report what is done with the money. A number of local and curative bills were passed.

Senator Larson secured the passage of his bill requiring counties from which a change of venue is taken in criminal trials to pay all expenses of the trial.

MARTIAL LAW

To Be Declared Throughout Spain By the Government.

Madrid, Feb. 20.—Premier Sagasta is preparing a decree establishing martial law throughout Spain. The signature of the decree, it is believed, will be followed by an extreme national crisis.

It was persistently said when the chamber of deputies discussed this evening that the minister of war, Gen. Weyler, had a long conference with the queen regent yesterday, followed by a conference with the military authorities today. Afterwards, it is asserted, arms and ball cartridges were served out to the troops in Madrid, who are in readiness to start at a moment's notice.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH HARMFUL DRUGS. TAKE NATURE'S OWN MEDICINE.

Nature provides a cure for everything if we know where to look for it, and SMITH'S GREEN MOUNTAIN RENOVATOR is a medicine of her own making.

Among the roots and herbs which grow in old Vermont there are some which have been shown by experiment and experience to be the best, quickest and safest cures for blood troubles, malaria, rheumatism, scrofula and all ailments of the liver, kidneys and stomach—that is to say, more than ninety per cent. of all known diseases.

These roots and herbs are compounded in Smith's Green Mountain Renovator and offered to you as the best medicine which can be made. As a matter of fact, it isn't made at all—it is simply compounded skillfully and scientifically.

Any dealer in medicines will tell you that New England, and particularly the State of Vermont, is one of the hardest places in the world to establish a business. The people up in that section of the country are very careful what they buy, decline to buy new things and never make two purchases of an unsatisfactory article. Yet up in Northern Vermont you will find that almost everybody uses Smith's Green Mountain Renovator, and on every hand you will hear words of the highest praise for it.

This has been the case for more than twenty-five years, and this remarkable medicine has grown stronger and stronger in popularity as the years go by, although, until its present owners got hold of it, it has been advertised only by word of mouth.

This proves better than pages of argument that here we have a medicine that meets every possible requirement and is really good and reliable.

You ought to use it for yourself and your family. We are glad to be in a position to offer it to you and to recommend it.

When the unmistakable signs that your blood is out of order appear, take Smith's Green Mountain Renovator at once. The bad complexion, the dull eye, the lack of strength and endurance, the loss of vigor, all tell the story of impure blood. Pains in the back, rheumatism, constipation and all other diseases due to the liver and kidneys can be immediately relieved and permanently cured by this purely vegetable product of the Green Mountain State.

It is the first and foremost duty that you owe to yourself and your family to see that everybody is kept well, and you ought further to see that no harmful, dangerous drug is used.

This medicine is the safest and best for every member of the family, young or old. It is a renovator of the entire system.

Of course, you want blood that is pure itself, and you want sound, firm flesh, strong muscles and nerves, and clear complexion and a continual feeling of brightness and cheerfulness. These all come from the use of Smith's Green Mountain Renovator, and if you will give it a trial you will say, as thousands of others do, that no medicine you ever knew anything about was its equal.

We sell it with the strongest kind of a money-back guarantee.

Any sufferer may come and buy this medicine, give it a fair trial and judge it by the results. If the results are not beneficial, all you have to do is to ask for your money back and you will get it promptly.

S. F. BOYCE, Sole Agent.

Second Beethoven Club Chamber concert, Friday, Feb. 23.

AMUSEMENTS.

GAMBLE CONCERT COMPANY.

The people that attended the concert at the Grand Casino company at the Elks M. E. church last evening were treated to a fine recital by accomplished artists.

Gamble, the basso, has a magnificent and melodious voice, and a splendid command of his instrument.

There was some stiffness in his manner but he was undoubtedly a favorite with the audience.

"The Armorer's Song" and "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" were the first two songs being sung by request and demonstrating his wonderful talent.

Miss Grace Courtney Jenkins is an artist in the piano, and her playing was a masterpiece.

She played a number of selections with perfect skill and technique.

Her skill and technique were demonstrated in her playing of the piano.

The piano selections of Frederick B. Morley, a fine artist and his repertoire of music was well known.

that they will give due weight to its importance, and that they will adopt such measures as will relieve the just and natural anxiety of the United States.

The Tribune prints the following special from Washington.

It has been understood here from the outset that the terms of the British-Japanese agreement to preserve the integrity of China was submitted in advance to President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay and approved by them.

Following out the traditional policy, however, of avoiding outstanding alliances, the United States positively declined to become a party to any agreement concerning China.

When Lord Cranborne, in the British parliament, last week, declared there was no doubt that the British-Japanese agreement would command the full approval of the United States, he spoke by authority.

The agreement between Great Britain and Japan was dated Jan. 30. There is, therefore, deep significance that on Feb. 1, two days after the treaty was signed, this country sent to Russia a note practically adopting the principle of the treaty as the policy of the United States.

COOKING IN CAMPS

Enormous Work Falls On Men Who Prepare the "Grub."

Some Figures Indicating Work Done In a Big Camp.

The Amount of Supplies Consumed Daily Is Enormous.

When the logging industry in the Northwest begins to decline with the decrease in the amount of available stumpage, there will also be a considerable falling off in the business from that source of the head of the lakes.

There is something about the smell of a pine forest, to say nothing of the vigorous exercise of the woodsmen who are not accustomed to see the tons of supplies that are shipped every month to the localities where logging operations are active, the figures would be astonishing.

Some of the smaller camps are easily cared for with a shipment of supplies every two or three weeks, but to the larger camps, where the number of men fed ranges from 200 to 250 sturdy woodmen, shipments of meat and other staple goods are made almost daily.

RULES OF LIFE.

Do not worry. Keep sweet. Vinegar in a jug is a good thing, but in people it is a nuisance. Never depart from the truth. Be courteous. Never blame another when it is possible to blame yourself. Touch elbows with the rank and file. Speak every day to some superior. Speak every day, if possible, to some one whom you know to be your inferior.

Ask no impertinent questions. Keep your discouragements to yourself, hiding them from the world with a cheerful exterior for your own sake and for the peace around you. "To thine own self be true; and it must follow, as the night the day, thou cannot not then be false to any man."

GRAIN MAY BE TAXED

House Refuses to Amend Provisions of Code.

Strong Efforts of Duluth Members Unavailing.

State Capitol Bureau.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald).—To offset the victory on the vessel tax won by Duluth yesterday, the house this morning turned down the proposed amendments on grain taxation, one and all. The Duluth delegation made a good fight for them, but they were lost by a large vote. One of them referred to listing by consignees, and struck out the provision for that. This was voted down yesterday in the Wallace list of amendments so it did not come up this morning. The other three amendments changed the wording of the provisions for the assessment of grain so as to except grain stored in transit for points outside the state, and these the house opposed them strenuously. They feared that the result of the passage of the amendments would be to permit practically all the grain in the state. Mr. Jacobson said the law would not permit the taxing of grain in transit anyway, so there was no use of passing any amendments. He said the talk of driving the Duluth grain interests out of the state was not meant; they had said the same thing on other occasions. He said also that the Wisconsin law taxing grain is just the same as this and there would be no discrimination in favor of Wisconsin. Mr. Laybourn said the amendments were of vital importance to the elevator and grain interests of Duluth, and he thought the state could not afford to drive these interests out of the state. He made a stirring speech and Mr. Mallory, followed with another, showing that the amendments would only apply to grain in transit for points out of the state. It was of no use, however. The amendments were voted down overwhelmingly. The house spent the remainder of the morning amending the bill in many particulars, but none of the amendments were of especial importance. The amendment of Mr. Sander, of Sibley, to cut the salaries of the tax commissioners from $2000 to $2400 was lost. One provision that was taken up and not finished was to provide a fee for the clerk of district courts for entering real estate tax judgments, which the proposed law does not provide. It had been expected that the friends of the bill, who have become suspicious that they have been betrayed, would move a reconsideration of the Wallace amendments, but this did not appear. After adjournment yesterday the friends of the bill found that the

RESULT OF COMPROMISE

Between Friends and Foes of the Tax Bill Was Adoption of the Wallace and Jacobson Amendments.

State Capitol Bureau.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald).—The house yesterday afternoon adopted the Wallace amendments to the tax bill with slight modifications, and it also adopted the Jacobson amendment. This was the result of a compromise meeting between the friends of the bill and its foes. Later in the session some of the far-seeing members began to break away from the compromise, and it was feared late in the afternoon that an attempt would be made to reconsider the vote on the Wallace amendments. This was headed off by adjournment, but a reappearance of this tendency was looked upon as one of today's possibilities. The Wallace amendments, as carried, take out the inquisitorial and drastic features of the measure, as applied to the local assessment of personal property, but the powers of the tax commission and the county supervisor of assessments remain unchanged. The bill opened yesterday afternoon James A. Peterson, of Minneapolis, leading off in favor of the Jacobson amendment and the Wallace amendment. He spoke of the benefits of the tax commission, which is left in the bill, and said it could reach the iron corporations, which are now exempting taxation as much as the public service corporations. He said that the tax commission in Michigan added $2,500,000 to the assessment of the iron mines in that state the first year. He told the friends of the bill to take what they could get if they could not get everything. In reply to the charge that some had made that the Wallace amendments would enslave the law, Mr. Dobbin, of Hennepin county, showed that pro-

AMERICAN WAS MURDERED

San Francisco, Feb. 21.—News has been received of the murder of Rudolph Hanson, an American citizen, at Port Lot, on the island of Ponapi, in the Caroline group. He had spent the evening of Jan. 10 on board the brig John D. Spreckels, which was to sail the next day, and went ashore late at night. Soon after he was found dying, having evidently been struck on the head with some kind of a blunt instrument. It was learned that the assault was provoked by an argument he had with several natives, but the slayer had not been apprehended when the Spreckels sailed.

ENGINEERS BADLY BURNED

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—An Iron Mountain, Mich., special to the Dispatch says: Will McClellan and Thomas Vincent, engineers at the Cundy mine, were badly burned last night by the explosion of a gasoline lamp, which the former was filling while lighted. Both men were enveloped in flames and Vincent was compelled to jump into a tank of ice water to put out the fire. This brought on a chill which, together with his burns, makes his condition serious.

ARREST OF TSILKA IS DENIED

Constantinople (Thursday) Feb. 20.—The authorities here deny that Rev. Mr. Tsilka, husband of Miss Ellen M. Stone's companion in captivity, has been arrested for complicity in the kidnapping of the latter. They say that, according to last reports, Mr. Tsilka is in Sofia, Bulgaria.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR HUNTER

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 21.—Matt Hunter was given a life sentence by Judge Parish at Mount Airy this morning for the murder of Homer Hollen Nov. 9. The sentence is the limit that

C. H. WESSELS. A. D. W. WOLMARANS.
BOER ENVOYS COMING TO THE UNITED STATES.

Considerable significance attaches to the second visit to this country of Messrs. Wessels and Wolmarans, the Boer envoys. They come ostensibly for the purpose of making arrangements for the judicious and economical distribution of the Boer fund contributed by persons in the United States. It is, however, pretty broadly intimated that the journey is undertaken at this particular time because of the developments in the Anglo-German controversy concerning Lord Pauncefote's attitude toward this country and Spain in April, 1898. The Boer envoys profess to hope that the revolution in public sentiment brought about by these revelations will impel our government to modify its attitude on the subject of mediation.

TO PLEASE THE PRINCE

Morgan Et Al Will Dress the Waiters at Sherrys as English Flunkies to Serve the Royal Visitor From Prussia.

New York, Feb. 21.—Of all the entertainments organized in honor of Prince Henry there will be none more elaborate than the luncheon to be given for him at Sherrys on Wednesday next by the representatives of American finance, trade and industry. The moving spirit in the affair is J. P. Morgan. In the way of giving the royal visitor an idea of the possibilities of American gastronomy, it is projected to surpass anything of the kind that has ever taken place here before. The cost of the luncheon will be great, and among the items of expenses will be the highly ornate liveries now being made for the entire staff of waiters employed in connection with the entertainment. The prince and his entourage will be surrounded by servants who will look as if they had stepped out of a canvas

Aroused the Ire of Canadians.

New York, Feb. 21.—Strictures of the Canadian press on the reply of Colonial Secretary Joseph Chamberlain to the Welsh delegation of Patagonian agriculturalists who wish to emigrate to Canada, are considered well founded by prominent Canadians here, says the Tribune's London correspondent. They say that the British government ought to have avoided the implication that the aid of the imperial government might have been secured by the Welsh colonists, but not to Canada.

Kansas City, Feb. 21.—Gen. Strangulation follows as a matter of course. When the victim is about suffocated the application ceases and he is given

GOING AFTER BIG FORTUNE

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 21.—By the departure for the East today of William G. Henshaw, president of the Union Savings bank, and executor of the will of the late Henry G. Cogswell, the eccentric philanthropist of San Francisco and his wife, Mrs. Carolina E. Cogswell, is disclosed a quest for a fortune that has been buried in an Eastern bank for thirty years by the Cogswells. All of these years it has lain untouched, accumulating interest. It was only after the death of Mrs. Cogswell several weeks ago that the existence of the hoard became known. The bank in which it is deposited has not been revealed to the fortunate heir.

Kentucky Banker Was

Judge Shot Him Three

A Tragedy at Lawrenceburg Which May Result Fatally.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—As the result of a pistol duel at Lawrenceburg, Ky., Alf Witherspoon, president of the First National bank of that city lies seriously wounded at his home, and Judge Porter Walker is under official surveillance awaiting a change in the wounded man's condition.

The trouble, says the Inter Ocean's Lawrenceburg special, was begun last fall, when Witherspoon came under the hands of the law by recklessly firing his revolver and shooting through some windows. He was arrested, and Walker, judge of the police court, fined him $200. Since that time is said, bad feeling has existed between the men.

Walker had occasion to go to Hawkins' dry goods store and found Witherspoon there. Witherspoon cursed Walker, but the latter, making no response, walked off. After he had eaten his luncheon, Walker returned to the store, and finding Witherspoon still there, asked him to retract his remarks. Witherspoon, realizing that trouble was coming, retreated to the door, where he turned and attempted to draw his revolver. The weapon had caught in his pocket while using both hands to release it. He was compelled to turn aside and reach for his gun drew his own and fired a bullet into the wall. The bullet clipped his ear. Walker then fired again, and this time grazed the shoulder of his antagonist. Before Witherspoon could bring his revolver into play, the judge had fired at him a third shot, which struck Witherspoon in the back and slightly to the left of his shoulder. Witherspoon fell to the floor and was removed to his home, where his life is despaired of. Walker gave himself up to the authorities and was released upon his own recognizance.

Witherspoon comes of a wealthy family, and is a leading citizen. His brother, Horace, after killing two men, was himself killed by a man named Wood.

BANK NOTES

Skillfully Forged Are Bothering Scotland Yard Detectives.

New York, Feb. 21.—Some hundreds of forged Bank of England notes for payment have been put in circulation during the past fortnight, say a Herald dispatch from London. They are almost perfect counterfeits, and have been accepted without hesitation by bank cashiers and at business establishments.

Scotland Yard is busily engaged in the task of trying to track down the counterfeiters, but the work is so immeasurably superior to that of all the known forgers that new hands are suspected which greatly increases the difficulties of running them down.

CANCER

To Be Studied By Physicians of Great Britain.

New York, Feb. 21.—The official heads of the medical profession of Great Britain are determined to unite for a systematic investigation into the causes, the prevention and the treatment of cancer, according to the London correspondent of the Herald. The king has given countenance to the movement, and it is likely interesting developments will follow shortly. The councils of the Royal College of Surgeons and the Royal College of Physicians have adopted a joint resolution empowering delegates to draw up a detailed scheme of work. Sir William Church, Sir William Broadbent and others equally well known are on the committee.

TROUBLE IS SPREADING

Fierce Rioting Continues
In Spanish Cities.

Forty Persons Killed In Barcelona Streets.

Barcelona, Feb. 21.—Forty persons have been killed since the disturbances broke out here. The strikers today attacked the jail in an attempt to rescue their imprisoned comrades, but they were repulsed by the troops, after a number of rioters had been killed or wounded.

The ordinary necessities of life are failing, and the distress is becoming accentuated. The strikers are said to be receiving large sums of money from London. In the neighboring towns the disturbances are spreading and are increasing in gravity.

Bilbao, Spain, Feb. 21.—A number of anarchists have arrived here with the object of starting a strike. The socialists have refused to co-operate in the movement.

London, Feb. 21.—Dispatches received here from Madrid and Barcelona and from various frontier towns in close touch with the scenes of the disturbances in Spain quite discredit the sensational dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, saying that a fierce battle had been fought between troops and rioters in a suburb of Barcelona; that the artillery raked street after street, and that 600 persons were reported to have been killed or wounded on both sides. As a matter of fact, up to last evening the total number of persons killed throughout the disturbances was only forty.

Castellon de la Plana, Spain, Feb. 21. The employers and their employees reached an agreement this afternoon, and the strike here is over.

Saragossa, Spain, Feb. 21.—A number of rioters attacked the Jesuit college here last night. The fathers fired on the mob, believing their assailants to be thieves.

ANXIETY AT PITTSBURG

Pittsburg, Feb. 21.—Anxiety was increased today along the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, where great ice gorges have formed by the continued rain and the prospects of warmer weather. The situation today was disquieting, and rivermen of years' experience say that with the present weather conditions lasting the ice is due to move by Sunday. In the meantime owners of improved property along the rivers, and the officials of the river coal combine, are preparing to move their effects so as to be clear of the impending danger. The great gorge on the Allegheny river, which extends seventy miles up the river and varies in thickness from five to fifteen feet, is being watched night and day by the rivermen, and early warnings are to be sent out when it begins to move. It is still hoped that the rain will cease and the thaw will be a slight one, but that the ice may melt and move out slowly.

HOBSON, HERO OF THE MERRIMAC, RECOMMENDED FOR RETIREMENT BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

It will be remembered that Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac, recently made application for retirement on the ground that his work in the construction department of the navy made demands upon his already weakened eyesight which prevented its complete restoration. His application was rejected, and then President Roosevelt took the matter up by sending to the senate a message recommending Hobson's retirement and referring to the young officer's valiant conduct in the service to San Diego harbor. The special bill which was introduced in accordance with this suggestion will doubtless pass and will naturally be promptly signed by the president.

LIVE BIRD SHOOT.

Pigeons Are Here For The Big Contest.

About 700 pigeons have arrived in the city and will be shot at in the live bird contest between the crack shots at the head of the lakes tomorrow. The contest will take place on the ice on the St. Louis river and bay, at the foot of Twenty-first avenue west and promises to be a very large and interesting event. The entries are open to everybody and there is said to be much rivalry among the shooters of the two cities, for the winner of the contest will receive a handsome trophy which will be held at Kansas City, March 21 to April 1. Each man entering the contest pays a fee of $5 and shoots at twenty-five birds. The money derived from the entrance fees will go to pay the expenses of the delegates sent to Kansas City.

Last year neither Duluth or Superior was represented at the Kansas City meet, but in 1901 Levi Fulton, of West Superior, attended the shoot. Tomorrow's contest will be a handicap shoot a number of the well-known shooters being handicapped from twenty-six to thirty shots. The start will be made at 9 o'clock in the morning, and there will be a preliminary shoot of three birds to a man a half hour earlier. Entries can be made until the shooting begins.

MAY MOVE HIS MILL.

James T. Hurst May Bring It to Minnesota.

James T. Hurst, the lumberman, returned this morning from a visit at his home in Wyandotte, Mich. Mr. Hurst has finished his lumbering operations in Northern Michigan where he has been cutting for some years past. He says that no decision has yet been reached in the matter of moving his mill in Northern Michigan to Duluth or near his timber on the north shore, but that unless he disposes of his timber the move may be brought about in short order.

Mr. Hurst has in great deal of pine stumpage in Cook and Lake counties, accessible to the lake shore. While in Detroit, Mr. Hurst met a number of the Eastern buyers that have been in the Duluth market recently and some of these told him that they had purchased stock here running all the way from $200,000 to $2,000,000. From the reports of sales that he has heard of, Mr. Hurst is inclined to place the estimate of the cut of his already sold, at from 60 to 70 per cent.

PAYMENT OF TAXES

Personal Property Tax-payers Have Another Week to Get In.

Penalty of Ten Per Cent Attaches Saturday of Next Week.

Residents Outside of City Are Promptest In Payment.

There is only one more week for personal property tax payers to find their way to the county treasurer's office. Up to that time the road will be a free one, with no toll gates. Beginning a week from tomorrow a tax of 10 per cent will be imposed on those that have been slow to travel the road.

County Treasurer Whipple says that he thinks personal taxes have been paid in about the same proportion as at this time last year. It is difficult just at this stage of the collection to get definite information concerning the amount of taxes paid. The receipts during the rush are kept with the county tax collector's books, and the whole, it is considered that the proportion of last year has been well maintained. This is regarded as fortunate, considering the fact that the number of personal property assessments was increased this year from 2000 to 2500. The assessors got after the holders of speculative and investment securities, such as Consolidated stocks, and the result was that large taxpayers were largely increased, and many who were not supposed to be met. The increase came much more important in the eyes of the tax collector. The treasurer has heard no protest, nor have there been indications of legal opposition to the collection.

Six years ago there were only 4000 names on the personal property tax list. Collections have come in very well from outside the city, but the metropolitan taxpayer is inclined to put off the payment on the theory that it is an easy matter to attend to. City collections came in well at first, but a full follow-up until the last few days, and now the tardy taxpayer is making a rush to save himself from the 10 per cent penalty that attaches Saturday of next week.

The owners of personal property outside the city are much more prompt than those that live in town. This is no exception to the general rule, either, for it is true of every year in the past. In a number of ranges towns the banks or the postmaster makes it an object to obtain the tax lists for their towns and taxpayers can then find out just what they owe and have the business attended to for them without coming to the county seat. This has been the practice for a number of years. It is a great convenience to the taxpayers, and considerable of an object to the county treasurer, for the collection of slow taxes in outlying towns. It is particularly valuable in the case of foreigners living in the range towns, who if they could not pay their taxes to somebody at home who could explain the matter to them, probably be very slow to pay. If they paid at all. These collectors charge enough to cover their expenses and it is said that less money is really spent for paying taxes in this way than as if they were paid individually, while the work is reduced to a minimum and the chances for errors are much less than as if anybody and everybody were to do the work.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

B. M. Peyton and Miss Phillips of Amsterdam, N. Y.

At a dinner that will be given this evening by Miss Amy Stover, of Amsterdam, N. Y., at her home, the engagement of Miss Daisy E. Phillips, of that city, and Mr. Murray Peyton, of Duluth, will be announced.

Mr. Peyton is the second son of H. M. Peyton, of this city, and is proprietor of the Bank of Superior. Miss Phillips has upon several occasions visited in Duluth for several months at a time and is well known to a large number of Duluth society people. Her home is now sitting in Amsterdam, N. Y.

WOOD-FERGUSON.

Pretty Wedding at East First Street Home.

A pretty home wedding occurred last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wood, of 316 East First street. The bride was their daughter, Miss Lucille Wood, and the groom was E. M. Ferguson, junior member of the Knudsen-Ferguson Fruit company, of this city.

The ceremony was performed, at 8 o'clock, by Rev. Alexander Milne, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church. In the presence of the relatives and a few of the intimate friends of the bride and groom, the wedding ceremony was performed. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Edith Herrington, her sister, Miss Mabel Herrington, accompanying on the violin. The house was very prettily decorated with roses and carnations.

The ceremony was followed by a reception and Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson left on a late train for the Twin Cities. They will go from there out to California, returning to Duluth in five or six weeks.

It May Snow.

Tomorrow being a legal holiday, and as a great many of the offices will be closed for the day, there have been frequent inquiries at the local office of the weather bureau regarding the forecast of Saturday's weather.

Local Forecaster Richardson has been doing all he possibly can to bring about fine weather tomorrow, but the best he can promise is partly cloudy weather tonight and tomorrow, with possibly snow flurries. The temperature will remain moderate, with a light breeze from the south. The minimum temperature during the past twenty-four hours was 15 degrees and the maximum was 32 degrees.

ANSWER SERVED

Mayor Hugo's Formal Reply to Henry Truelsen Is Made.

A Document Absolutely Barren of Anything Interesting.

Attitude of Council as to Appointments Becomes Interesting.

The principals in the majority fight to find a way to satisfy the tremendous public yearning for news. Today Mayor Hugo's answer to Mr. Truelsen's original complaint was served on the ex-mayor. The answer is very formal and very legal, about as interesting reading as a directory. Each and every allegation of the Truelsen complaint is met, and the errors against Truelsen, discovered in the account, are specifically cited. With a requisite change of names the answer is almost identical with the original served by Mr. Truelsen.

This was the last day for serving the formal notice, and the impression seems to be that inasmuch as the Republicans took the time limit in making this answer, they will also take the time allowed in bringing the matter up in court. Should this be correct the case would not be taken up in the district court before March 15.

Neither J. B. Richards or Oscar Mitchell, attorneys for the contestant and contestee, respectively, can tell when the case will be met for trial. Mr. Mitchell says he does not know whether there will be stipulation for the purpose of hastening the case, or not.

In view of the fact that Mayor Hugo remains in office until the matter is finally decided, there seems to be no cause for hurry on the Republican side.

When the appointments of the mayor requiring confirmation by the council, are made on the second Tuesday in March, there is likely to be some interesting doing. Half the council will be Democratic and naturally they will not care to vote for the confirmation of Republicans, when there is a chance that the Democratic candidate for mayor may still be declared elected.

The appointments requiring confirmation are city attorney, commissioner of health, city engineer and building inspector.

Without confirmation the mayor can appoint a chief of police, member of the board of public works, member of the board of fire commissioners and members of the board of water and light commissioners and civil service commission.

He also has plenary powers for appointing a city assessor, but this appointment is not made until the first Tuesday in September.

Mayor Hugo does not seem to share the apprehension and anxiety of many of his supporters. The possibility of Truelsen occupying the cheap looking chair which the city furnishes its chief executive does not worry him much.

"I don't see that I have anything to do but look on and wait," says the mayor. "The two paramount questions at present seem to be—who is entitled to the office of chief of police, and who is to be appointed chief of police?"

The courts are deciding the first question and The Herald seems to be deciding the second.

Algerman Cromwell says that while the voters in the First precinct of the Third ward were not properly registered, he has no intention of contesting Joseph Mannheim's election.

LONG TO RESIGN.

Secretary of Navy States That Report Is True.

Washington, Feb. 21.—After the cabinet meeting today Secretary Long stated that the report that he intended leaving the cabinet was quite true. He said he had fixed upon no specific date for his leaving, and he had not yet forsworn his resignation to the president and might not do so for some time. The president, however, was fully aware of his purpose, which was formally announced today.

GOATS AS FARM HANDS. Goats make successful farm hands in the state board of agriculture, draws his conclusions from the results of his experiments with goats in the capacity of laborers, says the Chicago Record-Herald. When put to graze on bad lands a herd of Angora goats will consume all the weeds and undesirable shrubbery, eating close to the roots and saving the expense of having the land cleared by hand work. Secretary Bliss advises farmers to invest in goats and says that much land can be reclaimed in this manner. The experiments will be conducted on a large scale in the future, as Missouri farmers have now taken up the goat question in earnest.

"NIBBLERS." Not the Proper Way to Take Food.

Clerks in grocery stores are apt to nibble at this and that article of food, and if they are not careful, acquire a "case of stomach." This was the case with L. Shoemaker, Artie, Ind. "While I was clerking in a grocery store it was difficult to resist the temptation to eat a little of this and that; a bit of candy, some fruit or crackers, and so on, and another. After about a year I had serious stomach trouble and had run down to 81 pounds, was thin and sallow and poor as a snake. I could sleep but little at night and my distress was terrible."

"Finally I was compelled to give up my position and take treatment for my health. I heard of Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food and began to use it regularly. I soon began to recover both health and strength, until at the end of about three months I was as well as I was so fat and well that I was weighed and found I weighed 160 pounds, which was a gain of 80 pounds in that time. This may sound a little fishy, but it is the plain truth and can be verified by anyone who cares to inquire of my friends who know the facts."

VERDICT IS SUSTAINED

Supreme Court Approves of the Decision in Schus Suit.

Was Personal Injury Case Against Powers-Simpson Co.

The Plaintiff Was Thrown Under Train at Hibbing.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court, by Justice Brown today, affirmed the decision of the Hennepin county district court in favor of Jacob Schus, in a personal injury suit against the Powers-Simpson company.

The company operated a logging road at Hibbing. Schus was employed as brakeman. While coupling cars one dark night he was thrown under the train and injured. While Schus was in the hospital an agent of the company called and presented him with $75, and at the same time induced him to sign a paper, which afterwards proved to release the company from liability for damages.

Schus subsequently testified that he did not know that he was signing such release, and that he regarded the $75 as a donation.

The testimony also showed that the engineer had disregarded the usual custom of stopping his engine when the track to black rock had been thought to be clear, and had it backed over a large log of wood which had been left on the track. The jury awarded the plaintiff a verdict which the court sustains, on the ground that the release he signed under a misapprehension was not binding.

OLD IDEAS ABOUT GEMS. The Indians called rock crystal an "uncle diamond," and until the beginning of the eighteenth century it was thought to be the only kind of precious stone. It was not, therefore, until the discovery of India that the diamond was known to us. Yet as far back as 600 B. C. a "Didactic History" of precious stones was written, and in Pliny's time the supply must have been plentiful, as he wrote: "We drink out of a mass of gems and our drinking vessels are formed of crystals." We are also told that Nero aided his weak sight by spectacles made of emeralds. But it is very difficult to determine whence all the gems came, as discoverers took care to leave no record. The nations who traded in them were afraid of their whereabouts being known, and even the most ancient merchants would not disclose any definite locale. All sorts of myths have, accordingly, sprung up concerning the origin of gems. "Diamond was the name given to a youth who was turned into the hardest and most brilliant of substances to preserve him from the 'ills that flesh is heir to.' Amethyst was a beautiful nymph beloved by Bacchus, but saved from him by Diana, who changed Amethyst into a gem; whereupon Bacchus turned the gem into wine color, and endowed the wearer with the gift of preservation from intoxication. The pearl was thought to be a dewdrop the shell had opened to receive. Amber was said to be honey melted by the sun, dropped into the sea and solidified, according to the Talmud, Noah had no light in the ark but that which came from precious stones."

BUILT BY A PIRATE. The Tacon theater in Havana, one of the largest and most beautiful in the Western hemisphere, was built by an old pirate, Marti, who was a notorious pirate in his day and obtained immunity for himself by betraying his comrades to the army and navy. Marti, says the Army and Navy Journal, was a very shrewd and successful pirate, and the Tacon theater was built by the sentry guarding the palace in Havana and entered the apartment of the captain general, who was writing at a table. When the governor general raised Marti's head he saw the skeleton of a pirate who he reached for the bell. "Stop," he cried, "I am here on a desperate enterprise. I have

The New Tailored Suits...

Mesdames LeRoy and Longtin give their personal attention to all fittings.

The opening of new Suits necessarily comes early this year because so many depend upon this store for their Easter Gowns.

We are showing, mostly, model garments—costumes that show in a modified American manner the extreme of French fashions as evolved by Paris modistes.

But many are extremely plain; and, when trimmed, are severely so, with only the stithest bands and braids.

It's only five weeks to Easter. You will want to see and study these new styles—for there are mainly one of a kind and we will not duplicate any of model Suits—or perhaps some alterations will be necessary on the costume you might select. All of this takes time and we are able to give more attention to all of this now than later.

New Silk Lined Suits $25.00—

Jacket lined with Taffeta—and a drop skirt of Taffeta—a handsome, dressy suit, gotten up to retail at this price now. When the real busy time comes you may have to pay much more! From this price you can go as high as $125.00 by one and two-dollar jumps—or, you can pay less—you can get a very charming suit for $15—nothing fancy, but very tastefully trimmed—and of good material.

Just now we are offering good Suits at $7.50

Clean-ups of various lots of the past season—beautiful garments—of very good materials and splendidly trimmed—but they must be cleaned out—hence, $7.50 for Suits worth as high as $20.00.

$10 Winter Jackets at $2.75—

The final clearance—not many of them, but enough to give early comers a fairly good selection—some blacks and some tans—it will pay you to own one even for the occasional wintry days that we get during the spring—tomorrow only $2.75.

$17.50 to $25.00 Coats at $7.50—

come to deliver into your hands every pirate on the Cuban coast upon one condition, a pardon for myself. "You shall have it," was the answer, "but who are you?" "I am Marti and I rely upon your promise you have given me."

Preparatory to this interview Marti had appointed a rendezvous for the different bands to which he conducted the Spanish force, and every pirate was captured and righteously garroted. As for Marti, he was not only pardoned, but was given a monopoly of the sale of fish in Havana, which made him a rich, and a very contentedly respected citizen, who ended his days in the odor of sanctity. It will be remembered that another, famous buccannier, the Welshman, Henry Morgan, showed such remarkably military talent that he was knighted by Charles II, and made governor of Jamaica, which he had previously captured.

OLCOTT IS UNLUCKY

State University Student In the Hands of the Police.

Started Out Badly and Bad Luck Has Pursued Him.

Jumped Bond and Arrested Through Resemblance to Another.

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—A young man of wild ways does not often come so quickly to the end of his rope as has Bertram Olcott. After a year of the pace that kills, the young man has fallen to a place among criminals: he has an alias; he has been a fugitive from justice; his photograph has been sent to all the metropolitan police departments of the country.

He claimed that his luck in business was bad, and recent developments have shown that his unlucky star prevailed also over his criminal cupidity. The police say that if any criminal hereabouts ever worked under a bad planet, it was Olcott. It was poor luck for him that was responsible for his first arrest, and, after he had escaped from the law, it was even poorer luck that got the law's clutches on him again. He was never cut out for a bad man, the detectives say.

Olcott is 22 years of age. He came from a small town in North Dakota last winter to attend the state university. He studied assiduously for some time, but a woman came across his path. She was a good-looking girl and had previously been a friend of Olcott's roommate. She caused a quarrel between Olcott and his friend and the two young men separated. Olcott and the girl remained friendly. It soon came to be a matter of money for him; he had come to the city to get through school as best he could, and he was ill prepared for the life he had chosen.

One day his former roommate received a telegram from his mother asking why he had written for money. The young fellow responded that he had not done so. Further communication disclosed that, in answer to a letter purporting to have been signed by her son, the mother had sent a considerable sum of money to him.

Detectives were put on the case. They found the letter unaltered for at the postoffice. They kept a close watch on the window for several hours, and when, as they say, Olcott asked for the letter, they arrested him. He thought he had been arrested for taking the trunk of his former roommate; he explained that the young man had owed him some money and that he was holding the trunk for that reason.

At the preliminary hearing in the federal court Olcott was bound over to the grand jury in $200 bonds on a charge of using the mail for fraudulent purposes. The money was put up by a friend, and as soon as Olcott got into the open air he started to run. He probably intended to start his life over again. The police did not have his picture, and their chances for capturing him again were practically nil.

Olcott went to St. Louis. His unlucky star shone more than it has ever shone before. The police there had never heard of him, but he bore a striking resemblance to Raymond V. Sanborn, a Chicagoan, suspected of being implicated in a big diamond robbery at San Francisco, and they arrested him on that suspicion. He was photographed and the pictures were sent out to the police departments of the country.

One of the pictures came to Minneapolis. Col. Ames happened to show it to Detective Harvey, and the latter recognized the original as Bertram Olcott. In St. Louis he had been known by the name of Cook. The St. Louis police, having ascertained that their prisoner was not the Cuban, agreed to turn him over to the Minneapolis police. Detective Harvey left for St. Louis last evening to bring Olcott back to Minneapolis.

It is a belief among old-time crooks that when a man is as unlucky as Olcott has been, even the devil has gone back on him.

LOVE ABETS UNIONISM.

Girl Clerks Make Effective Pickets at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Love played an important part in the demonstration of the retail clerks on West Madison street Wednesday night. "Between love and duty" was the watchword of fifty young girl clerks who turned out to aid their brethren in the cause of unionism. Their duty, as they saw it, was to help induce merchants to close their stores. The meeting with their sweethearts, imbued with the same desire, was supposed to be accidental.

That the girls did valiant service in the way of distributing cards, the merchants who kept their stores open are ready to testify; that they made a few young men happy with their smiles and merry laughter is quite as true.

Policemen summoned by Louis Forster, Halstead and Madison streets, drove the men away, but the women were irresistible, and the patrolmen threatened and enjoyed by turns, but the girls held their ground. "Close your store and let your clerks off, you mean thing," they shouted as they threw cards at the door. They did not heed the police who strove to stop them.

"Take the girls to the business," said one picket as he stood on the corner and saw his sweetheart turn away a few customers from one of the proscribed stores. "Our union wasn't worth a cent until we began to organize the girls. Now we are doing a lively business. Tell you, one of them is better than six men on picket duty."

"You don't need a new hat tonight," said a pretty girl as a man was about to enter a hatter's at 157 Madison street. "Think not," he quivered.

"Don't patronize him. The mean thing you do is close his store. You can get a hat tomorrow."

"Tomorrow will do just as well. I didn't think of that before."

SURPRISED.

Aldermen Astonished By Magnitude of Marshall-Wells House.

Members of the city council and the aldermen-elect inspected the mammoth wholesale establishment of the Marshall-Wells company yesterday afternoon by special invitation.

Not one of the aldermen had any idea of the magnitude of the establishment, as they admitted afterward, they expressed themselves as delighted with what they saw and the courtesy shown them.

Each of the councilmen was presented with a handsome pearl handled pocket knife as a souvenir of the occasion, and it is said that one of them, who has quite a reputation in the council during the past year, as a temperance advocate, traded his knife off for a cork screw.

The other members of the party joked him about it till he threatened to see that section 42 of the new charter was enforced. This section prohibits any officer or employee receiving any gift whatsoever without forfeiting his office. The enforcement of this meant that the pearl handled knives would have to be given back, or else turned over to the city treasurer, and now the aldermen are not saying a word about the cork screw.

One of the visitors said: "I wish it were possible for every citizen of Duluth to see that Marshall-Wells establishment as we saw it. It would be a revelation to each one, as it was to us. Duluth should certainly feel proud of such a jobbing house."

DECISION OVERRULED.

District Court Reverses Municipal Court In Case Tried.

The three judges of the district court have signed a decision overruling the findings of the municipal court in the case of Paine, Webber & Co. against Cornelius O. Flynn. The question involved was one of law—whether the court below should have submitted to the jury the issue of fact in the case. The district court holds that the plaintiff's purchase of stock to make good a short sale and the difference between the sale and purchase price, and that he was not liable for the loss of the stock. The lower court should have allowed the jury to determine the amount of this difference.

It appears from the memoranda accompanying the decision that Paine, Webber & Co., acting for Flynn, sold short a certain stock. When the market went against Flynn, he was given that the sale would be covered by purchase unless the speculation was proved by the evidence. Flynn claimed that it was the custom to give notice by wire, as well, and that he was not advised in this way. The district court holds that while it is the custom it was not necessary when notice had been given orally. The findings declare that the defendant authorized the plaintiff to assume liability, and that he was not liable for the loss of the stock.

It is ordered that the plaintiff may recover the amount of the loss, less the amount for which it had been previously sold on defendant's account, plus reasonable commission for doing the business.

Eveleth Election.

The citizens of the village of Eveleth will hold a special election a week from today to vote on the question of incorporating as a city. There is said to be no opposition to the proposition. After the vote is taken the returns will have to be made to the county commissioners. This will be done at the regular monthly meeting, which will be held on March 4. The county board will then fix the date for holding the first election of city officers.

Up to date nothing of importance that will come before the county board at its next session has shown up in the auditor's office.

A Townsite Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Southern Townsite company were filed with the register this morning. The incorporators are: Marshall H. Alworth, Frank W. Helmick and Philip F. Helmick, all of Duluth. The capital is $50,000, and the purpose is to buy, improve, sell and lease lands, townships and hereditaments in this state and elsewhere, principally in St. Louis county, including the right to plat lands into town lots. It is stated that Alworth is president, Frank Helmick secretary and treasurer, and Philip Helmick vice president.

ASPHALT TRUST

Likely to Be Reorganized By Collapsed Companies.

New York, Feb. 21.—It is becoming quite apparent that the five companies of the collapsed asphalt companies are maturing a comprehensive plan for the reorganization of the asphalt trust, according to the Journal of Commerce. Concentration of the business seems to be the general impelling motive of the receivers, as the expenses of management will be reduced. It is stated that concentration is to be completed by establishing three companies, one on the Pacific, one on the Atlantic and one in the Middle West. This plan will involve the abandonment of many of the underlying and operating companies.

WILL BE A MARVEL

Miniature World's Fair to Be Given By Military Companies.

Companies A and C Unite In This Stupendous Project.

Five Thousand Dollars Spent on It For the Details.

'Mid walls of splendor whose beauty will be enhanced by the soft radiance of thousands of incandescent lights, an international exhibition in miniature will be presented in the Armory the first two weeks in April.

For the past nine months the members of the Duluth National Guard companies have been preparing it. When ready for opening to the public this marvelous little exposition will represent an outlay of $5000.

So far as known, the project is without a parallel. It is strictly a Duluth affair, reflecting great credit on both the city and the military men promoting it.

A year ago Company C presented its international military pageant which gained for it much financial success and an international reputation.

This miniature international exposition has absolutely nothing in common with that unique entertainment, and so far surpasses it that there would be no comparison, if it were along the same lines.

The interior of the Armory is to be converted into a world's fair ground, buildings of imitation European architecture, of the most beautiful and superb decorations will fill the building from basement to gallery.

The fine arts building, one of the most imposing in the miniature exposition, is of Grecian architecture. The outside is of tinted white marble, while the prevailing colors of decoration for the interior are olive and maroon. In this building there will be a choice exhibit of fine arts, and a number of rare and valuable paintings have been promised for the occasion.

The Moorish palace will also be a thing of beauty. The exterior is of old rock and-ceramic tile design. The south end of the drill floor will be occupied by various buildings of Spanish renaissance architecture. On the east side there will be a German village, copied after the Teutonic style of architecture of the middle ages. The interior will be a dancing pavilion.

Then there will be a museum, moving pictures and educational exhibits in separate buildings. Next to these exhibits will be the Siberian building, in which there will be a very brilliant snow cave and electrical display.

On west side of the Armory will be located the streets of Cairo and if "she" never saw the streets of Cairo she will have an opportunity to see the thing which many artists dream of.

At the north end of the auditorium will be the building of ethnology and anthropology, where there will be numerous fine models of many interesting races.

The fine arts building, the Moorish palace and the administration building will occupy the center of the auditorium.

In the western gallery will be located a large hall, which will be filled with exhibits interesting and Oriental. There will also be an old vine-clad tavern, much of which was on exhibition at the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo last summer.

The eastern gallery will be taken up with a military display in which there will be models of the forts of the view, government fortifications, artillery and everything pertaining to military affairs.

The market room in the basement of the Armory is to be converted into an open house, in which will be given vaudeville entertainments, concerts and theatricals. There will be a change of bill each evening.

There will be guards patrolling the exposition just as if it were the real thing. They will wear military uniforms of red and white.

The members of Companies A and C expect that it will take them two weeks to get the various buildings in position. In fact it took that long for two skilled workmen to make a model that is to be exhibited.

SYNDICATE

Will Buy Everett-Moore Holdings In Cleveland Railways.

Cleveland, Feb. 21.—The bankers' committee of the Everett-Moore syndicate today issued the following official statement concerning the sale of the Big Consolidated system of this city:

The deal for the Everett-Moore holdings of stock in the Cleveland Electric Railways company has been practically closed. A syndicate, headed by Horace E. Andrews, has contracted for the entire holding of stock of the Everett-Moore syndicate in the company. The price at which the stock will be sold is $80 per share. The Elkins-Widener-Dolan syndicate, which was negotiating for the property, failed to make application satisfactory to the committee.

Mr. Andrews, who was formerly president of the Big Consolidated, already has a holding of stock in the company estimated at 20 per cent of the whole. In order to take full control of it he said he must purchase about 45,000 shares more, at a cost of nearly $4,000,000. Mr. Andrews and his associates are also

LAW IS INVALID

The Tax on Property of Freight Lines Is Void.

Supreme Court Declares That the Law Is Unconstitutional.

Violates Provision That All Taxation Shall Be Equal.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court today declared unconstitutional, the law placing a 2 per cent tax on the property of freight lines.

The court holds that the law makes unequal taxation. The decision was in the case of the state against the Canadian Cattle Car company, an action to collect $400 alleged to be due as taxes.

The decision also involves about thirty other companies owning the state 2 per cent tax on the property of freight lines. The decision affirms one by the Ramsey district court. The report of the state attorney general, Douglas, said he was not surprised at the decision that it is unconstitutional, but in the absence of a change in the constitution, the legislature can still enact a law providing that when the board of equalization has fixed the assessed valuation of these companies the state auditor may levy the average rate of state tax upon the property.

Each week there are probably 200 men of the sea in this city, including sailors in the deep sea and coasting trades, also engineers and firemen of steam vessels. Of these about 20 are deep-sea men, who are sought as much by the boarding house keepers, because they are paid for long trips at a time and land with small fortunes. Of the boarding house systems there is much said against many of them that is just and unjust. There are many evils complained of, all of which tend to the depletion of Jack's pocket-book, and which are traced by the complaintants to the arrangement by which outward crews are secured through agents, the violation of the law restricting gamblers, and to "pickers," "shades," "leeches" and "barnacles," who fasten their claws on the sailor's pockets, and probably in no city is Jack in better hands than when he is here. If he is taken advantage of he is generally himself to blame.

Of course, Jack's greatest enemy is drink. Pent up for months on a trip from the Orient, without a drop of liquor in all that time, his thirst is a long one when he arrives in port. He wonders that he starts in on his fortune in drink, and the latter slowly makes its way up the belvedere river, says the Philadelphia Record. The sailor has arrived from a long trip, and he is here. If he is taken advantage of he is generally himself to blame.

These are some of the cries that rise out of the half-dozen, or more, of liquor which race out to the sailing vessel, as the latter slowly makes its way up the belvedere river, says the Philadelphia Record. The sailor has arrived from a long trip, and he is here. If he is taken advantage of he is generally himself to blame.

having been made the runners climb up the vessel's side as nimbly as the aboriginal pointed to by Darwin. Once on the deck the runners give a performance that would put to shame the best efforts of the barkers on an up-to-date Midway. Flasks of whisky and plugs and papers of tobacco, cigars and pipes are offered, and the sailors are enticed to accept of these things. The sailors are enticed to accept of these things. The sailors are enticed to accept of these things.

Let a sailor accept of any of these presents and he is claimed as having practically signed a contract to board at the house for which the man who handed over the glass is bound. Before the sailor is docked all the sailors have accepted terms of 50 cents to $1 a day, except, perhaps, one or two, who, having been here before, will stop at their old boarding places.

Salvor proper, where the deep-sea sailors abide while in Philadelphia, extends along Front and Water streets, between Lombard and Bainbridge streets. A few scattering boarding houses may be found all the way to Washington avenue. Near the wharves about the latter thoroughfare the Swanson street abode come in handy. But of other big cities, is scattered. There is a sailors' quarters in Richmond street, but with few exceptions at Greenwich Point and Point Breeze are second-hand devoted to the sailors while ashore.

The most important boarding houses have runners—men who take orders and make their positions worth according to their abilities. It is not always that the runners can make terms. It is unfavorable for them to board the ships in the stream. However, the law is only observed where the captain insists, and such a captain is not at all numerous.

In the past decade there has been a great change in the sailor's life. It used to be that sailors were picked out by the ship's clothes he wore—the blue-bottomed pants, the red-collared blue shirt, short coat with immense buttons, and round hat with great brim, now one ends hanging over. Now some of the sailors are picked out by their own clothes.

The ship once securely docked, the crew, captain and all, rush ashore like rats leaving a burning house. Jack, with his store clothes in a bundle, makes quickly for the boarding house he has picked out, strips in a jiffy, washes thoroughly and shaves. When he has made his change he may be found in a fine suit of dark clothes, with white shirt and high collar, and Derby hat. Of course, this Jack is the exception, the majority not being so stylish, but content with a comfortable suit of street clothes, soft shoes and cap, like that now worn by the sailor on the merchantman.

Each week there are probably 200 men of the sea in this city, including sailors in the deep sea and coasting trades, also engineers and firemen of steam vessels. Of these about 20 are deep-sea men, who are sought as much by the boarding house keepers, because they are paid for long trips at a time and land with small fortunes. PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Makes Nerve Fibre and Nerve Force, Cleanses the Blood and Strengthens and Gives Tone to Every Function of the Body.

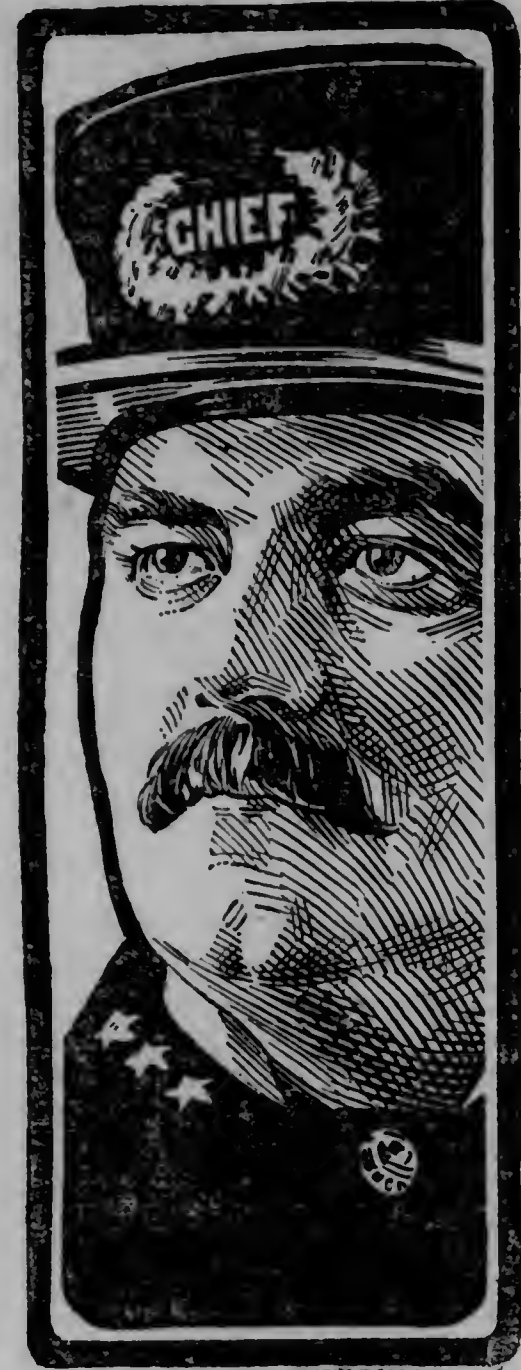

"As a medicine for doing immediate and effective work in sickness, resulting from impaired nerves and impure blood, my family considers your Paine's Celery Compound without a peer." "It strengthens and gives tone to the system." "It has saved many a doctor's bill."

So writes J. J. Donahue, Chief of Police of Omaha, to the proprietors of this never-failing remedy. Paine's Celery Compound makes nerve fibres and nerve force, and imparts true health to body and brain. It is the only known positive cure for nervous prostration, resulting from business responsibilities, irregular habits and overwork.

Paine's Celery Compound is the one great remedy for dyspepsia and weak nerves. Dyspepsia is caused by acute inflammation of the nerves centered about the stomach. Palpitation of the heart, dizziness, carillgia and distention of the stomach are common in dyspepsia. Languor and irresistible drowsiness are certain symptoms. Paine's Celery Compound keeps the muscular walls of the stomach in vigorous action until the process of digestion is made complete. It restores energy, gives renewed vigor to all affected parts, checks dizziness and always heartburn. It is a safe and reliable cure for nervous dyspepsia.

Paine's Celery Compound will build up weakened and inflamed nerves, keep the stomach, liver and kidneys in healthy action, and make mind and body healthy. It is the greatest re-constructant of the nervous system known to medical science. It permanently cures nervous exhaustion. It is particularly efficacious in all cases where the afflicted are "worn out" and "run down."

If you have the first symptom of failing health, if you are conscious that something is wrong, that you lack strength, if the buoyant feeling of perfect health does not return after each night's sleep, it is time to give the nerves and blood the food that Nature requires. Paine's Celery Compound is rightly called Nature's medicine. Medical science has failed to produce its equal as a nerve tonic and revitalizer. It purifies the blood, restores to healthy action every function, rem-

ed depression and languor, strengthens the kidneys to perform properly their work, always indigestion and gives tone to the whole system. The remarkable increase in the demand for Paine's Celery Compound in the last few years is due to the one fact that every person who has ever tried a single bottle of this great restorative has found that the remedy accomplishes what no other remedy does. It accomplishes all that is claimed for it. A sample trial will convince the reader.

WRECK

Of City of Boston Recalled By Cape Breton Paper.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 21.—After thirty-two years, the newspapers of the province are making public what is believed to be information concerning the lost Inman line steamer City of Boston. The steamship, which sailed from Cape Breton on Feb. 2, 1870, with a large number of passengers, never reached port, and was believed by many that she struck an iceberg and foundered, while others held the theory that she was wrecked on the coast of a storm which swept up the day she sailed, and foundered. All these theories had been generally supposed that the City of Boston was never sighted by any vessel after leaving Halifax, on that day. The North Sydney Herald now states that there is reason to believe that the steamer was seen during the storm well off the Cape Breton coast, and was not lost by striking an iceberg as many thought. The North Sydney Herald says: The late Thomas Hackett, of this town, was on a voyage in a schooner from St. John's, N. F., to this port at the time the steamer passed a steamer in distress. The steamer was firing rockets. Capt. Hackett could

Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is Digested.

Nearly everyone who admits as a nation to eat too much, and of little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful. Only men engaged in a severe, out-door manual labor can eat a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten. But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly. It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive, and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ, but only on the food eaten. They simply assist weak stomachs to digest, cleanse, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion which means perfect health. There is no danger of forming an injurious habit as the tablets contain absolute morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

COMMERCE OF CUBA

Imports During Eight Months of 1901 Show a Decline.

WORKED IN DULUTH. George Peabody Who Was Found Dead at St. Paul. St. Paul, Feb. 21.—George G. Peabody, a peddler for J. P. Grotty, an installment dealer, was found dead in a room in the Omaha lodging house, 614 East Seventh street, at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Mochie, the keeper of the place, states that Peabody got a room at the hotel last Monday evening, and that Tuesday when he came a second time for a room he seemed to be dazed. He fell against the door and broke the glass panel.

Mr. Mochie says that she looked into the room late Tuesday evening and that she thought Peabody was sleeping. He was breathing heavily when she spoke to him. When the woman went to his room Wednesday afternoon his head was resting on a table near the bed, and his body, which was fully clothed, was across the bed. Coroner Miller had the body removed to the morgue and will hold a post mortem examination.

Peabody was 50 years old and came here five years ago from Detroit. He had also been employed in Duluth in the same business. He is said to have a family in Detroit.

MEN AND BOYS STRIKE. Shamokin, Pa., Feb. 20.—Six hundred men and boys today went on a strike at Hickory Ridge colliery, owned by the Union Coal company, causing a shut down. The strikers asked for the discharge of a clerk who, they claimed, treated them unfairly in dealing out supplies. The superintendent refused, and the strike followed.

GRAIN MEN

Meet at Fargo and Form Northwestern Elevator Association.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 21.—A large number of delegates representing private grain buyers and independent elevators in Iowa, North and South Dakota and Minnesota, met here yesterday and formed the Northwestern Elevator Association. The officers elected were: President, W. H. McPherson, Valley City, N. D.; first vice president, A. L. Ballou, Laurens, Iowa; second vice president, E. W. Perry, Bath, S. D.; secretary, J. C. Hanley, St. Paul; treasurer, J. M. Finney, Clinton, Minn.

The object of the association is to secure more friendly relations between the line and independent elevators by adjusting serious competitive fights at local stations, and thus obtain a more equitable margin for the handling of grain, by which a fair profit can be made by the farmers and independent elevators, resulting in permanent and satisfactory prices at local stations. It is also contemplated to bunch shipments of grain through the association, thereby securing advantages as to rates enjoyed by the line elevators and denied to isolated shippers.

President McPherson was elected to represent the twenty-nine North Dakota delegates at a meeting to be held in St. Paul March 5. At this meeting it is intended to incorporate a co-operative commission company and establish offices in Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago to receive shipments of grain for its members and all other who wish to ship grain through them. A close co-operation between the newly formed association and the National Grain Growers' association is assured.

At an hour when business was slack and when no one but employees were in the bank, the robber entered the building unobserved, made his way to the vault, near which was the cashier, whom he covered with a pistol and demanded that he give up the money in his custody.

Upon the cashier's refusal the robber fired, one bullet striking the cashier in the head, killing him instantly.

Other employees made a rush for the robber, but he was shot at and without effect, and as the men continued to advance and seeing that his capture was inevitable, he turned his pistol on himself, sending a bullet through his brain, dying instantly.

The dead robber had no papers or any article on his body that would serve to identify him, and as he was an American, nothing of him is known. He was well dressed in a tailor-made suit, wore a full beard, trimmed and was about 45 years of age. His general appearance was that of a well-to-do business man.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Record-Herald says: The steel corporation has found a competitor in the Union Steel company of France. That company now has representatives in Chicago endeavoring to obtain contracts at less than corporation prices.

Rene Blum and Gaston Block, who were sent to this country by the French company, say the steel they sell is made by a new process, which is known only to those engaged in its manufacture.

By this secret process they assert that their concern can produce the best steel at about half the cost of American manufacture. They further say the new product is practically non-rustable.

The Frenchmen visited the offices of the Burlington, the Alton and other railroads, and it is said the new road made contracts for large consignments of steel to be used in the manufacture of tools for their machinery shop.

THE DAKOTAS

The Trial of Lignite Coal Proved Very Successful.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Jamestown—The test of Washburn lignite coal for fuel on the Washburn engine, run from Mandan to Jamestown, was successful in every particular. The engine left Mandan at 9 a. m. and arrived at Jamestown at 7:30 p. m. The actual running time was five and a half hours. Seventeen tons of Wilton lignite coal were consumed. The average speed was twenty miles an hour and the steam was not below 185 pounds at any time. The engine was a Baldwin compound, and hauled 128 tons 106 miles. Engines frequently consume twelve tons of soft coal in going that distance. Although it is not officially given out, it is understood the Northern Pacific will order several engines of the same pattern.

Some remarkably large real estate transactions have taken place during the past few days. There is a remarkable activity in Stutsman county land. One of the largest deals is that of the Hackney Boynton Land company to the America Live Stock company of 11,605 acres of land for ranch purposes. The consideration was given as $25,880.60.

Fargo—Graduates of universities and colleges have formed a University club in Fargo. Judge Pollock of the local district court was elected president.

A MUDDLE IN HAWAII

Over Legality of Governor Dole's Acts In Transition Period.

An Enormous Expense Caused By the Lack of Legislation.

The Ship of State Two Years With No
Rudder.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 21.—A Honolulu letter to the Transcript says: A transition period muddle which threatens to surpass all others has been opened in an attack upon the legality of all acts of Governor Dole as president of the republic of Hawaii between the time of the supposed annexation of Hawaii in June, 1898, and the adoption by congress in April, 1900, of the organic act providing a government for the territory. The question is raised in the supreme court here in the case of Hind vs. Wilder. Steamship company, of which the United States supreme court refused to take jurisdiction a few months ago. The failure of congress to have prepared the organic act at the same time Hawaii was annexed has caused endless litigation here, and which expense might have been avoided by the proper legislation immediately upon annexation.

The papers filed in the supreme court yesterday raise a startling legal point, and if sustained will invalidate all the acts of the governor during the transition period and of the officials appointed by him. The former attacks in the courts have been simply as to the legal status of the laws of Hawaii during this period, between August, 1898, and June, 1900, it having been claimed that the constitution of the United States was in force here at that time, and consequently that all acts not in conformity with that instrument were illegal. This, however, referred only to the prison doors for all persons convicted during that period. This phase of the question will be presented to the supreme court at Washington, April 14, and will, it is expected, settle once and for all the transition-period troubles.

The point raised in the present case is an entirely different one from that presented in the criminal cases, where the question only of the conviction by majority juries, and without grand jury indictments, is involved. The argument now made is that Hawaii was a part and parcel of the United States from the transfer of sovereignty here in August, 1898, and that the republic ceased to exist at that time, and consequently all acts of Sanford B. Dole were illegal. In brief, the contention now is that Hawaii had no government during the transition period, and that the acts of the United States, and that authority not having been exercised by President McKinley, Hawaii's state was being steered without a rudder for nearly two years.

The charge is that the judges Davis and Sullivan who heard the case in question were not judges, having been appointed by President Dole. It is in reality the appointing power rested at that time with the president of the United States. It is the president of the United States who is the president of the circuit courts of Hawaii and the supreme court had no admiralty jurisdiction during that time. Those judges were appointed by the United States federal court in existence at that time. The case in question involves the sinking of the ship Wilder by the Wilder steamship company for the sinking of coal cargo in a sailing vessel owned by the plaintiff.

If the contention now raised by the defendants in this case be sustained, it will vitiate the entire transition period, and will invalidate all the acts of President Dole prior to June, 1900, and before his appointment as governor.

RAGLANS
Brought About Marriage of an Indiana Couple.

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 21.—When Oscar T. Sines, of Toledo, Ohio, and Miss Ophelia Van Nuy, of this city, were married in this city Tuesday, it was termed a raglan wedding. It was told at the wedding that Mr. Sines was the first young man who came to town wearing a raglan overcoat two years ago.

The same day Miss Van Nuy received a raglan, and immediately donned it. Some friends concluded it would be a joke to have Mr. Sines and Miss Van Nuy meet, inasmuch as they were the first to wear raglans here.

The introduction occurred, acquaintance ripened into courtship and the romance of the raglans culminated in a pretty home wedding at the Van Nuy home.

Among the presents were two new raglans, and they were worn away on the wedding trip. The bride is a daughter of the late Dr. Van Nuy, and is prominent in society. The groom is a traffic agent for the Central Union Telephone company, with headquarters at Toledo.

DRIVEN INSANE
By Ominous Prophecies of a Fortune Teller.

New York, Feb. 21.—On a cot in the Cooper hospital, at Camden, lies pretty Miss Belle Hanna, of Philadelphia, who has been driven insane by a fortune teller, and who is growing worse all the time. She recently visited a fortune teller, who prophesied bad luck for the girl and nearly frightened her to death. She became so excited over the prediction that she would be poisoned to death that she brooded over it all the time, and finally became very violent.

NEW CLUB.
Anglo-American House to Be Opened In London.

New York, Feb. 21.—The new Anglo-American club is to be opened at the Hotel de Ville in London. The club is to be a fairly smart club, without the exclusiveness of the Bachelors, the Marlborough or the Turf. Some very well known men of position on both sides of the Atlantic are on the committee. The Duke of Abercorn is one of the Englishmen referred to as Senator Chauncey M. Depew on the American side. All the members of the Union, the Knickerbocker and the Metropolitan clubs of New York, as well as the other leading clubs of America, will be admitted without ballot. Great things are expected of this club, as it is thought it will be a great convenience to American men who have not the use of a club house in London of any importance. The club will be in working order before the coronation.

BOSWELL CITY.

HIS HOUSE IS RUINED

Burlington Road Pulled
It Down With a Locomotive.

John W. Martin's Title
In Dispute at Clinton, Ia.

Party Broken Up and Women Taken Out of Windows.

Clinton, Iowa, Feb. 21.—The house
"The Bull," a three-room cottage, which was erected by John W. Martin, of Sterling, on land claimed by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway company, is now a worthless pile of kindling wood, strewn upon the ground along the tracks of the Burlington road. Its tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Aldus Harting, who moved into the house the first of this week and settled down in their snug and cozy home, have sought more congenial quarters. A few stones of the foundation is all that remains of the pretty little cottage.

The house was removed by the railway company, the engine crew and force of men being in the command of Mr. Tuttle, roadmaster. At the time of the removal, about 8 o'clock in the evening, there were within the house its residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harting, Miss Engle, John Schneider, Miles
Warfield and others. The company was enjoying a pleasant social evening, when the peace and quiet of the occasion was interrupted by a loud knocking on the side of the house. Next came a warning from one of the men on the outside to the effect that the railway company was going to tear down the house and advised the occupants to vacate if they did not want to get hurt. Mr. Warfield left the building, but the other occupants refused to move.

A rope was placed around the house and one end was made fast to a switch engine. The locomotive was started and the building was wrenched from its foundation. The women screamed in terror; the furniture was knocked over; the red hot stove was upset and burned the carpet. Seeing the company employees, Mr. Schneider forced open a door and ran around the house to a window, which was opened, and the women were taken out. The house was dragged about fifty feet the first pull.
After the occupants left the building the engine was again started, the strange trailer following. The house was overturned and set on its side.
The flames were extinguished, but the building was torn to pieces by the locomotive.

MAY STRIKE.

Window Glass Workmen Demand Increase In Their Pay.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—A general strike in all the window glass plants located in southern New Jersey is threatened. A conference has been held here between the window glass manufacturers and employees of six plants in South Jersey at which they attempted to come to an agreement on wages. The workmen requested an advance of 15 per cent, which,
it is said, the employers refused to grant.
The men say that if the demands are not granted immediately, the fire in all the plants will be out by Saturday. Bridgeton, Millville, Vineland and Altco are among the towns that will be affected if a strike is inaugurated.

ROSEBERY'S

Separation From Banner-man's Liberalists Causes Comment.

London, Feb. 21.—Lord Rosebery's announcement of his final separation from Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's section of the Liberal party forms a fruitful topic for the editorial writer and for discussion in all quarters. One of the most noticeable phases is the curious effect the letter produced on the subject, its friendliness to the ex-premier might easily be explained on the ground of Unionist delight at a definite split in the opposition ranks.
Its declaration that "What the country wants is not a brand new set of principles, but a new set of men capable of replacing the policy of the empire," presents the significant demand, "the fruitful" of efforts in that direction may seem to be remote, we can only say it came sooner than anybody expects.

This cryptic utterance has started speculation as to a new coalition between the Liberal Unionists and the Unionists and Imperial Liberals, under the leadership of the duke of Devonshire and Lord Rosebery. It is possible defection of the Times in its support of the present government.
Something of this kind is suggested in the editorial article this afternoon, which, while congratulating Lord Rosebery on his "commanding position," is strongly on the pettiness of the differences between his policy and that of the Unionists.

The Westminster Gazette follows another Tory opinion in declaring that "A man who writes such a letter as that in reply to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has the grip which the empire expects of those who lead it."
The Westminster Gazette, heretofore divided in its allegiance, comes out in favor of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, but sorrowfully admits that Lord Rosebery's letter means another "test of government" for the Unionists, while it fears that Lord Rosebery's group may be liable to absorption in that party.

Leading St. Louis Citizens Called Before Grand Jury.

St. Louis, Feb. 21.—Former Governor
D. C. Francis, president of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company, is one of four witnesses summoned to appear today before the grand jury that is investigating franchise bribery. Dr.
P. Swinney, president of the First National bank of Kansas City, and Dr.
Neal, vice president of the Union National bank of Kansas City, have been summoned to appear before the grand jury next Monday. Their testimony is desired for the purpose of verifying certain facts in connection with the Central Traction deal involving R. M.
Snider.

IN MICHIGAN.

Deaf and Dumb Lad Struck By a Train.

Menominee—A serious accident occurred the other afternoon at Menominee near the office of the A. W. Clark Lumber company. A wrecking train was coming down the sidetrack and a little boy was standing on the crossing.
The engine blew the whistle several times and thought, of course, that the little fellow would get off the track.
He did not, however, and was struck and killed.

The Menominee and Marinette street railway companies, which recently consolidated, intend building double tracks around the two cities as soon as the franchise can be amended and the frost is out of the ground. The consolidated companies have already sent in orders for rails, but the work may be somewhat delayed, as the steel factories are rushed to their full capacity and cannot promise rails very soon.

Menominee may have a new paper mill. Emil Dreyer, of Green Bay, Wis., has been in the city looking over the Kirby-Carpenter Lumber company's brick mill with a view of purchasing.
If the deal is made, the building will be fitted with machinery for the manufacture of paper and the mill will be run by steam. Mr. Dreyer is a well-known lumberman and has much capital of his own. He intends to sell much of the stock to citizens if a company is formed.

But Educator's Mormonish Plan Meets Obstructions.
Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 21.—The school committee of Hemet, in Riverside county, W. V. Holloway, for three years principal of the high school, has confessed his love for his pupil, Bessie Rogers. So deep is this affection, that he induced his wife, the mother of two children, to apply for a divorce that would permit him to marry Bessie, the compact including that the first wife should remain in the family and share equally in the domestic life.
The wife declared that if he loved Bessie more than herself she would not feel so jealous. Holloway, however, was left alone. Bessie's father, who says he will hunt Holloway down, Holloway is a well known educator. He was married while she was a student

THE CASKET AT WEST DULUTH

For Prince Henry Will Be a Beautiful Affair.

St. Louis, Feb. 21.—The solid gold and silver casket which will be presented as a souvenir to Prince Henry of Prussia by Mayor Wells will be finished within a day or two. It will be 15 inches long, 14 inches high and 12 inches from front to back. The material is of solid silver and gold, with decorations in full relief, richly cut by hand in solid metal and enamel.

The most ornate embellishment will be the device on the cover. This consists of a shield divided into four parts, on each side of which are the American and the German eagle, the key to the city of St. Louis, and the coat of arms of the lower part being a spray of forget-me-nots.

Inside the casket will be lined with navy blue watered silk. The casket will be placed in a black seal leather box. The casket will hold the address of welcome, handsomely engraved on parchment.

Range to Be Established
Somewhere Near Fort Sheridan.

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 21.—It is learned that the government is planning to establish an artillery and rifle range somewhere within fifty miles of Fort Sheridan, if the land can be secured.
To this end an inspector general of the army has been in the city for several days visiting Lake and McHenry counties, in Illinois and Kenosha county, Wis., looking for a suitable site. A tract of land four miles long is desired. While it will be used chiefly for artillery work, a range of 2000 feet for infantry practice would also be put in. There is no room at Fort Sheridan for an artillery range, consequently at the new range barracks and other buildings will be given preference for a site, so as to be as near Fort Sheridan as possible.

FOR THE PRINCE.

Milwaukee Making Elaborate Preparations to Entertain.

Milwaukee, Feb. 21.—Arches, which will make an electrically lighted colom-nade of Wisconsin street and Grand avenue, from the Flister hotel to the Court of Honor at Eleventh street, in honor of Prince Henry, are being put in place. In addition, other arches will be erected on Third street, down which the prince will pass to the exposition.
At the banquet which will be given to the prince at the Flister in the evening, covers will be laid for 250 persons, in addition to the prince's party.

REALTY SALES.

Matters are reported to be looking up in real estate. J. J. Frey, the real estate dealer, has sold this week lot 15, block 118, Second division, for $200, and a house and lot in block 13, Third division, for $800. Among Mr. Frey's other sales of the week are the candy store property at 312 Central avenue, and some pine stumps in 31-51-16. There is said to be quite a number of inquiries for West Duluth residence property.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.

Anthony Kellar, the little 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellar, of Sixty-seventh avenue, died shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The remains will be taken to Minneapolis this evening for burial.

Frank F. Hagerty, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hagerty, of the Tremont house, died this morning at 5 o'clock. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

John Mattson, aged 20, died at the Red Cross hospital this morning of pneumonia. The remains were removed to the undertaking rooms of M. Fillatrault. The deceased had no relatives here, but a large number of friends, and these will make arrangements for the funeral.

John Cullom, aged about 40 years, died this morning at the Red Cross hospital, where he has been a patient since last October. He will be buried by the county.

At the regular meeting of the Knights of Pythias last evening a committee was appointed to make arrangements for a members' social, to be held at the hall two weeks from last evening.

George Shepard returned last evening from a several weeks' visit with relatives at Butte, Mont. Mr. Shepard says that business is very lively in the Western city and that Butte is growing rapidly.

Mrs. Thomas Doyle has gone to Ishpeming, Mich., where she was called by the death of her sister, Mrs. Wall.
The smallpox scare at Proctor Knott is said to be over and the school has again resumed its sessions. There was but one case, one of the residents contracting a light case of smallpox while away visiting. This case was promptly quarantined and the contagion did not spread.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rix and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith have gone to Salem, Ore., to live. Mr. Rix recently purchased a fruit farm there.
John M. Peyton has taken the position left vacant at the bank at Proctor Knott through the resignation of Mr.
Blenkmar.

Joseph Foucault, who lost a leg at the St. Louis mill some weeks ago, is making little progress toward recovery.
Mr. Foucault is well advanced in years and his wound is not healing as has been expected.
L. S. Neuman, of Eveleth, was in the city yesterday.
A number of the young people will attend a dance at Cloquet this evening.

Wooster University Said More Money Than Was Needed.

Wooster, Ohio, Feb. 21.—It was announced today that subscriptions have been received in excess of the amount necessary to secure the $100,000 donated by a New York gentleman, whose name has been kept secret for the rebuilding of the Wooster university recently destroyed by fire. The trustees will have $50,000 at their disposal.

In addition to this the university will have $50,000 given by L. E. Severance of Cleveland, $100,000 raised by the Presbyterian church in general, $40,000 by Wayne county and $60,000 insurance on the buildings destroyed. The time allowed for raising the amount required expires at 4:30 this afternoon, at which time the name of the New York gentleman will be announced.
Wooster is celebrating their success today.

WARDROBES FOR SUMMER SEASON

Limp But Lovely Mercerized Lawns the Newest Thin Fabric and All Are Elaborately Trimmed With Lace.

New York, Feb. 15.—It would require a feminine stole who suited the principles of a dress reformer with the environment of a savage to live oblivious just now to the enticing charms of the muslins, dimities, mercerized lawns and various weights and widths of grass lilies, madras and batistes that have come to town. That there are few or none such abnormal women is proved by the excited, pleased and enthusiastic crowds of the sex that barterade the muslin counters every morning and select and purchase with eager relish until evening shades and the shops' shutters bar them out. The dressmakers, who usually take a rest from model-drawing and fitting appointment at this time, groan over the fact that every customer is clamoring to have her thin things made up. From the contents of the cutting and sewing room it would be easy to believe that the hot waves of July were near, and what excites the ire of the sartorial artists is the lace and the elaboration

ELEGANT PRINCESS EVENING GOWN.

Doeuillit model, princess evening gown. White silk underdress covered with black dotted net. Vertical stripes of black spangled velvet broadening at foot into a deep circular flounce elaborately cut floral design of velvet entirely outlined in orange. Corage of pink chiffon and roses. From Lord & Taylor.

lawn of this nature. A study in green was the color scheme. The treatment was in that application of Mauresque insertion, which is a soft beige in tone and the fulness at the hip, shoulder, sleeve tops and head of the deep foot flounce is secured by plentiful gathered tuckings. There is, by the way, nothing so expensive or complicated in the little gown that the purse of a stenographer and the fingers of an amateur could not buy and make it up. Mauresque lace is most modest in price and one of the potent inducements to the purchase of a mercerized lawn is that it looks best for being made up by hand and jacks like a spun silk stocking.

A word of commendation is called for by the hat that crowned the model's head. This was fabricated of white flou braid stitched in back, bound with a brim band of black velvet and ornamented with roses made of clearly gathered loops in thin Liberty satin ribbon.

The possibilities offered by the satin striped, figured and unfigured dimity, are simply limitless, though the tendency is steadily in the direction of combining black with white where the dainty outdoor toilet is concerned. This is a contrast for which woman is ever too old or too poor. To meet the demand for tasteful arrangements in black and white the manufacturer have put forth not only bewitching white dimities and lawns and linens delicately stamped or embroidered in black, but laces and needle worked flounces have been produced for their especial and harmonious decoration. For example, it is possible to buy white wire net Valenciennes figured in black and white lawn bands and edgings upon which runs white embroidered vines that bear delicate black leaves and fruit.

Just how this approved combination can be most effectively made is shown in models of two deliciously pretty dimity gowns. The one for a matron is white figured in a black globe pattern and relieved by a yoke and sleeves of white lawn embroidered in little black fern fronds. Bands of white lawn worked in black outline the base of the skirt. A toque of white handkerchief striped with bands of black baby velvet ribbon is the fitting crown for this crisp and spring like gown.

The companion frock is a white grass lawn set off with tucks. In the yoke and at the knees of the skirt and with applications of black and white are net Valenciennes. A big bow of soft green peau de sole ribbon garnishes the left shoulder and gives just the single note of color that all these contrast gowns for young girls should display.

Women who have an instinct for dress know that the cornerstone of every spring wardrobe is a brown grass linen. A good grass linen can rush in where silks and satins dare not tread; that is to say in trains, on yacht decks and under burning suns, and yet an all around properly developed grass linen can excite admiration at a garden party, and appears to the greatest advantage at a summer luncheon. A really smart linen is this season transparent, but tough as mosquito netting, and it is usually striped or figured. The sand brown and golden tans lean to association with green, and the few that are not figured are made up over green foundation skirts. Let the seeker after truth, as revealed in the grass linen, look on the pretty picture of the gown that is always welcome and serviceable. This is a brown transparent linen, striped in a goodly tint of green and it is made up with a heavier linen embroidered in dots of green with coarse ceru Arabian lace. A white lace Louis XV hat with a crown of flat pink roses and foliage seems the natural accompaniment to so seasonable a symphony.

The dressmakers boast that a genuinely new idea is in process of evolution into a practical novelty in dress. The inspiration was first made manifest in the models of evening gowns that have come over recently from Paris. In Paris the dress architects lay all their emphasis on the under or lining skirt. The over dress is simply a misty veil through which the glories of the foundation skirt is for the belt or dinner gown of the very rich woman, a superb and brilliant brocade upon which is hung a silk muslin or Zinnia gauze of some neutral tone, such as fog gray, pearl gray, antique green, etc. For the less extravagant woman a taffeta printed in bouquets of dazzling roses serves as the drop skirt, and on this is hung a chiffon, silk lawn or transparent liberty crepe of a faint color and the rest of the story is told in lace applications.

To present the idea yet more clearly attention should be directed to an orchid gown, shown by a leading dressmaker. The foundation skirt is printed over with blue, red and yellow orchids of peculiarly daring tones and arrangement, but a wonderful dim painted glass effect is secured by the over drapery of after glow yellow chiffon in which a broken skeleton black ring is woven. Heavy tea dyed Irish crochet lace is artfully applied to skirt and bodice and through a maze of narrow yellow chiffon flounces, crisp and curl; about the foot the final garishment of the bodice is a scarf of black panne ribbon, enhancing the white of the shoulders and falling in a single knotted streamer below the wearer's knee.

TREATIES.

Secretary Hay Arranges For the Final Formalities.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Lord Pauncefoot was at the state department today and it has been arranged between himself and Secretary Hay that the final ratification of the Hay-Pauncefoot treaty shall be exchanged here as soon as the mechanical work of pressing the exchange copies can be executed. The British government has conveyed to its ambassador full authority to conclude this arrangement.

Mr. Hurn, the Danish minister also saw Secretary Hay in relation to the ratification of the treaty for the cession to the United States for the Danish West Indies. It seems improbable now that the mooted problem of the inhabitants of the islands will be held by the Danish government. However, should it be decided otherwise the taking of the vote will be a very small matter, inasmuch as the franchise is enjoyed in the Danish West Indies by only a few hundred of the total population and their votes could be recorded in a day or two. It will not be necessary to wait upon congress for the appropriation of $500,000, as a preliminary to the acquisition of the islands by the United States. Under the treaty, as soon as the ratifications are exchanged, the United States flag will be hoisted and the $500,000, if not already appropriated will be charged up against the United States as a debt.

START FOR PHILIPPINES.
Chicago, Feb. 20.—The Second and Third battalions of the Twenty-ninth United States Infantry, numbering 299 men, left Fort Sheridan today for the Philippines.

TWO PLEAD GUILTY.
London, Feb. 20.—At the resumption of the hearing of the charges growing out of the Bank of Liverpool frauds, at the Old Bailey today, F. T. Kelly, a bookmaker of Bradford, and Stiles, another bookmaker, both charged with complicity in the robberies, both pleaded guilty. Sentences in their cases were postponed until Saturday.

It is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women.

Mrs. Watson tells all suffering women how she was cured and advises them to follow her example. Here is her first letter to Mrs. Pinkham:

(PUBLISHED BY PERMISSION.)

March 15, 1899.

"TO MRS. PINKHAM, LYNN, MASS.:

"DEAR MADAM:—I am suffering from inflammation of the ovaries and womb, and have been for eighteen months. I have a continual pain and soreness in my back and side. I am only free from pain when lying down or sitting in an easy chair. When I stand I suffer with severe pain in my side and back. I believe my troubles were caused by over-work and lifting some years ago.

"Life is a drag to me, and I sometimes feel like giving up ever being a well woman; have become careless and unconcerned about everything. I am in bed now. I have had several doctors, but they did me but little good.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been recommended to me by a friend, and I have made up my mind to give it fair trial.

"I write this letter with the hope of hearing from you in regard to my case."—Mrs. S. J. Watson, Hampton, Va.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice was promptly received by Mrs. Watson and a few months later she writes as follows:

(PUBLISHED BY PERMISSION.)

November 27, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to acknowledge to you the benefit that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

"I had been suffering with female troubles for some time, could walk but a short distance, had terrible bearing-down pains in lower part of my bowels, backache, and pain in ovary. I used your medicine for four months and was so much better that I could walk three times the distance that I could before.

"I am to-day in better health than I have been for more than two years, and I know it is all due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I recommend your advice and medicine to all women who suffer."—Mrs. S. J. Watson, Hampton, Va.

Mrs. Watson's letters prove that Mrs. Pinkham's free advice is always forthcoming on request and that it is a sure guide to health.

These letters are but a drop in the ocean of evidence proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound CURES the ills of women.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends.

Do not be persuaded that any other medicine is just as good. Any dealer who suggests something else has no interest in your case. He is seeking a larger profit.

Follow the record of this medicine and remember that these thousands of cures of women whose letters are constantly printed in this paper were not brought about by "something else," but by

THE PRINCE TAX BILL IS DELAYED MAY PASS

The Kron Prinz Wilhelm Votes Made For It By the Not Yet Reported. Amendments Adopted. Ice Causes Much Trouble Move to Tax Iron Mines to Evans Squadron. For State's Benefit.

New York, Feb. 22.—No word had been received of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm up to 2:15 this afternoon. As it will take some hours for the vessel to reach her dock from Sandy Hook, it was believed today's program for the reception of Prince Henry would have to be abandoned.

Liverpool, Feb. 22.—The Cunard liner Lucania (from New York, Feb. 15, for this port), has arrived here. She communicated, Feb. 19, at 11:05 a. m., in lat. 45.59 N., lon. 35.16 W., with the North German Lloyd steamer Kron Prinz Wilhelm, having on board Prince Henry of Prussia and his suite, and was assured that it would reach the North German Lloyd steamer.

New York, Feb. 22.—The Kron Prinz Wilhelm, when sighted by the Lucania, was about 1800 miles off of Sandy Hook. It is estimated that it should be off Nantuxet about 2 o'clock this afternoon; off Fire Island about 3:30 p. m., and at Sandy Hook at 11 o'clock tonight.

New York, Feb. 22.—Although no word had been received of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm up to 10 o'clock, everything was in readiness for Prince Henry's reception in spite of the storm. The reception committee, headed by Governor Roosevelt, were on the shore, and the city was in a state of excitement. The Kron Prinz Wilhelm was expected to arrive at 11 o'clock tonight. BAD STORM IN NEW YORK

The Metropolis Is Facing the Worst Weather Conditions of the Season—All Means of Communication Are Badly Impeded.

New York, Feb. 22.—After twenty-four hours of snow, sleet and rain and a night of high winds, New York awoke today to the worst weather conditions since the first of the season. The snow was piled up to a depth of six inches in many places. The wind was howling from the north, and the temperature was below zero. The city was in a state of confusion. The streets were impassable. The telegraph and telephone lines were down. The city was in a state of confusion. The streets were impassable. The telegraph and telephone lines were down. A PECULIAR TRAGEDY

Hungarian Servant Girl Fearing She Would Be Separated From Little Child, Shot Her and Then Attempted Her Own Life.

New York, Feb. 22.—A peculiar tragedy has occurred in the residence of William J. Simons, at Coney Island, a suburb of New York. It resulted in the serious wounding of a Hungarian girl, the 15-year-old Simons girl, and the probable fatal wounding of her own hands. The cause of the shooting, which was done by the girl, was supposed to have been an insane fondness for the child, whom she feared being separated from her through illness. Simons, mother of the child, went shooting, leaving the little girl in charge of the servant. When she returned, there was no response to her ring and she had to effect an entrance by breaking a window. She instantly directed strong efforts of gas and heard groans on the floor where the child was lying. The room and the children's play room, the top floor, Mrs. Simons was found to see the servant, who was lying on the floor with the little girl lying by her side. A side bracket had been wrenched from the wall and the room and hallway were filled with it. Mrs. Simons rushed to the telephone and then notified the police. Two small bullet wounds were found in the child. Both were superficial and she soon recovered from the effects of the gas. Three bullets had penetrated the servant's body and she was removed to a hospital. It was believed she would not recover. The girl, Simons, said she and the servant were in the children's room when she saw the child was going downstairs to see something. She returned in a few minutes and immediately fired two shots at the child who had gone down the servant's room when she heard Amelia coming up. Then she turned the weapon on herself and fired three shots, falling on the floor by the side of the child. The room was a cheap affair of small cells.

THIS STORY SOUNDS FISHY

Broadhead, Wis., Feb. 22.—Lucia Francis, who makes her home here, is in a critical condition from poison, which, she asserts, was forced down her throat by a man whom she detected robbing Mr. Francis's house Tuesday night. Mrs. Francis claims she saw the man running down the stairs of the house, after the burglary, and when passing a window, she saw him throw a package into the street away from general travel, the same man, she says, seized her, forced her to swallow the poison. Late in the evening the girl was found by a passerby unconscious. A posse is searching for the robber.

From The Herald State Capitol Bureau.

St. Paul, Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The tax bill is undergoing a very delicate and critical operation in the house of representatives. The operation is designed to save its life, and it was the last resort of the physicians that are laboring to preserve it for an admiring people. The burning question now is whether the operation is the saving strike or the finishing blow.

There seems to be little doubt now that the bill will pass the house when it comes to a vote, and then comes the senate. The senate is a very puzzling quantity. A strong belief exists that there is a majority against the bill among the senators, but whether enough of them will dare vote against it when it comes to the test depends largely upon the reception by the state at large of the passage of the bill by the house. If it is hailed with joy and seems to give satisfaction, the senate is very likely to approve the bill.

If, on the other hand, when the bill is passed by the house is viewed soberly, it is voted to be a monstrosity, and the people say so, the senate may turn it down. Altogether, however, the chances for the bill's becoming a law are much brighter than they have ever been, and it will take very hard work to defeat it. Most of the senators are astutely noncommittal.

The question before the house is whether the amendments that have been made have saved the day for the bill. Many of those who voted for the Wallace amendments would like to reconsider the vote, but they are confronted by a set of puzzling questions. Could they carry a motion to reconsider? If they did, where would they be? Would not that utterly destroy the bill's chances? Votes were lost for the bill by the amendments, but votes were gained, too, and it is pretty generally conceded that the gain was greater than the loss. While the operation referred to above is not yet completed, it seems rather probable that it will be successful, so far as the house is concerned, at least.

The amendments that have been adopted are extremely numerous, but only a few of them are vitally important. The vessel tax, the increase of the personal property exemption from $25 to $200 and the Wallace amendments, are the main changes. The Wallace amendments substitute the present law for the proposed one on all the provisions for the assessment of personal property, and do away with the drastic provisions of the law so far as the return of personal property by the owner and the powers and duties of the assessor are concerned.

TWO ASPHYXIATED BY GAS

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 22.—James McGowan, aged 35, foreman on the construction department of the Michigan Telephone company, and an unidentified woman were found dead today in a room in the house in Park Place. Gas had escaped in some manner from the gas stove in the room and asphyxiated the couple. The gas had also penetrated into the adjoining room in which Margaret Stevens was sleeping, and she was unconscious when the door was burst open. She was resuscitated and will recover.

OBJECTS TO THE NUDE IN ART

Mason City, Iowa, Feb. 22.—Charles City is in an art uproar. The graduating class made a gift to the school of "Venus" and "Mercury." The superintendent, it is said, is not a fancier of nude pieces, and it is alleged he has relegated them to a corner and covered them up. The election for directors is now being fought on the issue as to whether or not Venus and Mercury must stand or fall.

REV. G. M. TSILKA, HUSBAND OF MISS STONE'S COMPANION.

The report that Rev. Gregory M. Tsilka, husband of the companion of Miss Ellen M. Stone, was arrested for complicity in the abduction case, has been denied. The report of his arrest led to the theory that the missionary was not captured by ordinary brigands, but has been held by the Macedonian revolutionary committee for the purpose of obtaining money for spread of its propaganda. It will be remembered that Miss Tsilka was taken by the outlaws at the same time as Miss Stone, and those who hold to the "Macedonian committee" theory profess to believe that the young woman was at all times cognizant of the plot.

SHOCKING CALAMITY

Burning of Park Avenue Hotel, New York, Causes Loss of Fifteen Lives.

New York, Feb. 22.—Fire early this morning in the Park Avenue hotel and the Seventy-first regiment armory, this city, caused the loss of fifteen lives and the destruction of property valued at $750,000. Armory of Seventy-First Regiment Destroyed.

Mrs. C. Veach, burned face, hands and body; Charles L. Woodbury, Portland, Me., partly suffocated.

The fire started in the armory of the Seventy-first regiment, a fine granite structure which, with its equipment, cost $650,000. The flames communicated with the Park Avenue hotel, where a financial loss of $100,000 was inflicted.

Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning fire was discovered bursting from the roof of the Seventy-first regiment armory, Park Avenue and Thirty-fourth street. The flames had gained tremendous headway, and by the time the firemen arrived on the scene it was impossible to do anything toward saving the magnificent building. Several times flames were communicated to the car barns of the Metropolitan Street railway, but they were successfully extinguished there.

The heat of the burning armory became more and more intense, and shortly after 2 o'clock flames were discovered running along the windows and roofwork of the fifth floor at the northeast corner of the Park Avenue hotel, diagonally across the street from the armory. The fire was entirely unexpected, and the police up to that time had bent their efforts toward removing the inmates of adjacent houses on the cross streets. Frightened occupants of the hotel soon appeared at every window, and many were rescued by means of ladders set up by the firemen. In some unexplained manner fire got into the basement of the hotel and made its way thence upward to the roof. Most of the damage to the hotel was done in rooms south of the elevator shaft.

In the headquarters of the Fifth brigade, in the Thirty-fourth street and Park Avenue quarter of the armory, a large quantity of ammunition, both small arms and heavy, was stored. These cartridges soon began to explode and added to the intense excitement. Shortly after 3 o'clock the flames had ceased the wall on the Thirty-third street side fell inward. This crash was followed by the explosion of about 1000 pounds of powder stored in the basement of the armory. The detonation was terrific, but firemen had been warned of the danger and none of them were injured.

Ambulances were called from every hospital in the district, and the firemen turned their attention to the hotel. A line of hose was quickly run up to the third floor, while scores of guests were taken from the windows by other firemen. The firemen A. T. Stewart, who spent $3,000,000 on its construction and furnishings. The building occupies the entire front of the block on Park Avenue, from Thirty-second to Thirty-third streets, with a depth of half a block. It is seven stories in height and encloses on four sides a court containing 14,000 square feet of space. At the time of its construction it was the largest hotel in the country, with the exception of the Palace hotel, of San Francisco.

Mr. Stewart designed the hotel originally as a home for working women, but when it was found that it could not be managed on the plan adopted by its founder, it was converted into a commercial and family hotel.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 22.—Col. Charles A. Burkett, who lost his life in the Park Hotel fire this morning, was one of the most prominent citizens of Hartford. He was a civil engineer and lawyer. He was prominently identified for many years with the Connecticut bar and originated the signal corps of the military service. Later he became colonel of the First regiment, N. G., and was in that position at the outbreak of the Spanish war. He enlisted with his regiment and for a time was stationed at Ft. Meade.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Miss Esther Schlesinger, whose dead body was identified by her uncle, was well known in Chicago business circles. For fifteen years she had been connected with the cloak department of her father, Mr. Schlesinger, 140 State street, and was head buyer for him. As yet her aged father and mother know nothing of her fate. Fearful that the news would crush Mr. Schlesinger, who is over 70 years of age, the neighbors quietly took him from his place of business before he had heard of the fire.

There is some mystery surrounding the identity of the person reported as W. G. Barnhardt, of this city. The directory gives no such name, and members of the Barnhardt families here know of no kinsman in New York.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 22.—The latest news received here from Yalta (Crimea) is to the effect that Count Tolstoi is at the point of death.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—Advices received from St. Petersburg attribute the excitement among the students partially to a false report, which was spread Feb. 20 of Count Tolstoi's death. It was asserted that the authorities had repressed the news because the Holy Synod was undecided whether to proceed with the annual ecclesiastical council of the author. Several hundred students attempted to invade the Kazan cathedral here in order to have Count Tolstoi's body, shouting: "Long live the emperor! Long live the emperor!"

Down with the dogs. The police charged and dispersed the demonstrators. The university of Kiev and Kharkoff are closed. At the latter place the police have taken into collision with students and workmen.

IT IS ONE OF THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN TEXAS.
Stock 60c Now. 75c in a Few Days.
YOUR LAST CHANCE, SO HURRY.

The following letter just received explains why this stock must take a jump in the next few days. Enough contracts closed to pay at least 20 per cent dividends. It will be worth $2.00 before the close of 1902.

MR. FRED W. KUGLER, 126 EAST SUPERIOR STREET,
DULUTH, MINN.

DEAR SIR: In your letter of the 12th you desired us to furnish all we could regarding the $10,000,000 transportation company. Of course you understand that the plans of the new company are not yet completed, but will try and sketch what has already been done. The company will be organized under the laws of New Jersey, with a capital of $10,000,000, the stock being $100.00 par value, per share.

An option has been secured on five of the largest steamers capable of being converted into tank steamers of a capacity of not less than 50,000 barrels each. An option has also been secured on sufficient land in close juxtaposition to New York for the purpose of storage.

It has been definitely ascertained that sufficient contracts can be signed immediately with large fuel consumers of New York city to handle the entire amount of oil the five steamers are capable of transporting. Sufficient money has been pledged to make it unnecessary to float the stock in a public market.

A few days since a consultation was held in Boston between the projectors of the company and one of the largest coastwise transportation companies relative to their becoming identified with this new transportation company. We are not at liberty, at the present time, to give you the name of this shipping company, but will say that mutually satisfactory results were attained.

There will be three Texas companies brought into the combination at the outset, Export Oil and Pipe Line company, Central Asphalt and Refining company and the HUNTLEY OIL AND REFINING COMPANY. This will be done, of course, through Senator Towne. From the rapidity with which the project is being carried forward, we should judge that within eight months the first shipment will take place by this company. We will forward you further information regarding transportation company as fast as possible.

We received a wire from Manager Swope of the Huntley today, which states that he closed a contract for 1,000,000 barrels of oil at 26c per barrel, F. O. B. Beaumont. This contract was closed Feb. 15, 1902. Yours Truly,

FOUND TIME.

Howells Answers Harrison's Request of Twenty Years Ago.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Twenty years ago Mayor Harrison, then a young man of 22 years, wrote a letter to William Dean Howells, man of letters, and conveyed a simple request for the author's autograph. The mayor has just received an answer from Mr. Howells, and after a long wait the mayor has Mr. Howells' autograph. It is appended to the very slip of paper upon which the request was made. It came in the envelope enclosed at that time for the reply.

Here is what "Carter H. Harrison, Jr.," wrote twenty years ago:—William Dean Howells, Dear Sir:—I am collecting the autographs of American authors and would be much obliged to you if, at your leisure, you would favor me with yours and a few lines. I am, respectfully yours, "CARTER H. HARRISON, JR." Here is the reply the mayor has just received:

"Carter H. Harrison, Jr., 231 Ashland avenue, Chicago."

And it had been forwarded thence to the city hall. An old fashioned three-cent stamp had carried the message through the mails.

When the mayor opened the envelope out dropped the Howells letter of twenty years ago. At the bottom of the envelope the single sheet of paper was added:

"I have at last found time for subscribing myself. Yours very truly,"

"W. D. HOWELLS,"

"48 West Fifty-ninth street, New York, Feb. 16, 1902."

PLAYED WITH HIM

Two Bowery Troughs Rob Mike Hoot In Installments.

Things Were Coming So Smoothly That Their Work Coarsened.

Hoot's Dense Intellect Finally Penetrated and Arrests Followed.

Robbery on the installment plan is the latest. The police have the inventors under arrest, but the new phase of crime is most remarkable.

An Austrian Mike named Hoot met the promoters of this new system on the Bowery.

They gave their names as William McCarty and John O'Brien. He had worked with them in the woods for several months. When they offered to let him sleep with them he was delighted.

The next morning he was short $30. McCarty explained that the chambermaid must have taken it as he had also lost a $100 diamond. In all the time that Hoot worked in the woods with McCarty he could not recall seeing him wear diamonds. Hoot has a very young mustache, two short hairs on the left side and five on the right. He went into a barber shop on the Bowery and the barber decided to dye this mustache. He charged Hoot $25.

The Austrian sought McCarty and O'Brien and told him of the barber. O'Brien was very indignant to think that any person would dare rob a friend of his.

He went to the barber shop with Hoot and thrilled such violent monologue that the barber gave back $150. Instead of giving it to Hoot the smooth Mr. O'Brien stuck the money in his own pocket.

Last night the two men, just to show their friendship for the Austrian, insisted that he should only take a pint of whiskey at each drink. They feared if he took more he would become intoxicated. The first pint was such that Hoot was an easy victim. They took his pocketbook containing $30 and his watch.

The morning when he came to, he complained of the robbery. McCarty and O'Brien invited him to have a drink with them. He drank. They asked him to buy the drinks. Hoot said he did not have any money.

"Why yes, you have $3 left," said O'Brien. Hoot reached down in his pocket and much to his surprise he did find that amount. O'Brien then returned the watch which he claimed to have taken for safe keeping.

Hoot began to comprehend the situation and when Hoot arrested O'Brien and McCarty.

On the way to police headquarters in the patrol wagon O'Brien was noticed to throw something away. Investigation showed that it was Hoot's pocketbook.

UNFOUNDED.
The Wright-Clarkson Deal Has Not Fallen Through.

Judge Carey says that the report that the deal had fallen through for a new building for the Wright-Clarkson Mercantile company is unfounded. It may be that a building as large as it was originally hoped to erect will not be built, but a five-story addition to the present structure will probably be made.

John J. Wangenstein is preparing plans for a two-story frame residence for Dr. J. D. Titcomb. It is to be built on the site of the old hotel at Lakeside, which burned.

Mr. Wangenstein will receive bids in a few days for the erection of a two-story and basement brick building, 25 by 20 feet in dimensions, situated on Superior street, between Nineteenth and Twentieth avenues west.

DECISION IN POINT

A District Ruling on Ballots Improperly Signed By Judges.

By Judges Pond of Minneapolis and Giddings of Anoka.

Held They Were Illegal, Unofficial and Could Not Be Counted.

About the only new feature in the majority fight today was the discovery of a district court decision declaring ballots improperly signed by election judges unofficial and illegal.

This decision was made by Judge A. E. Giddings, of Anoka, and Judge Charles M. Pond, of Minneapolis. The case was a contest for the office of sheriff of Anoka county, brought last fall by J. W. Morrill, Republican, against Sheriff Tierney, Democrat.

On the face of the returns Mr. Tierney was declared elected by a majority of six votes. The contest was instituted, and in the recent sixteen ballots were discovered with the initials of only one judge of election on the back. The judges of election had counted these for the Republican contestant.

In the decision of Judge Pond and Judge Giddings it was cited that the voter received and cast these ballots without making protest and that the sixteen ballots were unofficial, illegal and unauthorized by law, and consequently should be thrown out of the count.

This increased the majority of Sheriff Tierney. Judge Giddings is a Republican in politics and Judge Pond a Democrat.

The discovery of this decision, while it does not furnish direct precedent for the approaching Truelsen-Hugo contest, may carry some weight in that fight, and it has caused a new ripple of excitement in political circles.

The Republicans admit that if the local district court and the supreme court follow the lead of the Anoka decision, Truelsen will eventually be declared mayor of Duluth by from one to eight plurality.

There was nothing new today as to the time for placing the case on trial in the district court.

Mr. Truelsen says: "I have not the slightest idea when the case will come up. It is best not to attempt too much haste. The Republicans, of course, are anxious to get the case on the trial as soon as possible, and if they choose to take the time limit, as it has been expressed, they have no means of hurrying them any."

"I feel more confident each day and am sure that the courts will decide in my favor."

SHOOTING.
About Twenty Shots Are Taking Part In Live Bird Shoot.

About a score of the crack shots at the head of the lakes are engaged in the handicap live bird shoot at the foot of Twenty-first avenue west this afternoon, and quite a crowd of spectators have been attracted to that portion of the city by the sport. The shooting is taking place on the ice at the skating rink on the bay at that point, the shooting being done toward West Superior.

The shooting began about 10 o'clock this morning, when there was a preliminary practice contest of three birds. This was followed by the twenty-five bird contest, the winner of which will represent the head of the lakes in the Great American Handicap meet at Kansas City the last of next month. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon the shooting was not half finished, and the indications were that it would be about 6 o'clock when the last man shot at his twenty-fifth bird. Some excellent scores were being made this afternoon, very few mistakes being recorded.

The contest is being refereed by Levi Fulton, of West Superior, while Col. Whipple, also of that city, is scoring. There are three traps working, and the handicaps are at twenty to thirty yards.

The sportsmen have a supply of 700 pigeons. But few of the birds get away, as men and boys on the outside usually bring down the birds that are missed by the contestants.

NOT HARD TO DECIDE.
Jury Could Settle Matter That Puzzled Court.

Exhibits of wine, beer and alcohol were displayed in police court yesterday afternoon during the trial of Mike Mainello, charged with illegally selling a gallon of wine.

Mainello's attorney claimed that the liquor sold was not intoxicating and therefore not wine. The court was unable to tell whether or not it was intoxicating and so took the case under advisement.

"What an opportunity," said one of the "professionals," "if that was only a jury case and they would let the jury take the exhibits to the jury room with them. I bet it wouldn't take long to decide whether it was intoxicating or not."

FINALLY CAUGHT

Young Swindler Who Worked Here Rounded Up at Ashland.

He Sells The Ladies' Home Journal at Reduced Prices.

Journal Denies Knowledge of Him—Got Considerable Here.

A number of Duluth women will be delighted to hear of the capture of the clever tiding, well dressed, auburn-haired young man that recently sold them the Ladies' Home Journal for fourteen months for 9 cents.

The arrest occurred in Ashland yesterday. The young man was offering the women of that city the Ladies' Home Journal at auction sale prices.

The chief of police of Ashland wired the Curtis Publishing company while the clever agent was having delightful side talks with the women. The Curtis people wired back to the effect that they would not even sell one of Mr. Bok's leading editorials to young men for the price that was offered by the agent for the entire publication.

His name was given as Hiram H. Partee. He went to Ashland direct from this city. It is claimed that he made a big sale here, many women subscribing to the Journal at his reduced prices. He had a number of subscription blanks purporting to have been issued by the Curtis company, and it is thought that he secured them from some of the company's recently discharged and for whom several warrants are out.

During his stay in Duluth young Partee was also employed as a stenographer in the engineering department of the Duluth & Iron Range road for a short time.

On the night of his arrest he was taken to the police station and put in a cell at night in Bowery resorts and put him down for a big mitt man. They shadowed him closely, but were unable to catch him.

His transactions in connection with the Ladies' Home Journal were not reported to the police until this morning when the news of his arrest was published.

SECTION 30
Decision On Motion For Review May Come Monday.

The attorneys in the section 30 case think that a decision may be rendered by the federal supreme court on Monday morning on the motion of the Milwaukee attorney for a rehearing on the law points involved. The motion was made after the members of the court and taken their vacation, but it is possible that the motion was brought to their attention and that action may be taken during the vacation.

If not, it is likely that a decision will be filed a week from Monday.

The motion was not arguable, so a decision will not have to await the appearance of counsel for the opposition.

END IS NEAR.
Legislators Think Tax Bill Will Soon Be Settled.

Senator Hawkins was one of the legislative delegation to come up from the capital yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hawkins hopes the senate will be able to finish up with the tax bill by or before the middle of week after next. He thinks the house will pass the measure as finally amended by Tuesday or Wednesday. Mr. Hawkins says that when the bill reaches the senate most of the offensive drastic features, except the grain taxation provision and the taxation of public utilities, will have been eliminated. The fight in the higher body, he believes, will be centered in these two propositions. He does not expect it to take over half the time to dispose of the bill in the senate as it will in the house.

Representatives Mallory and Pugh are spending the two-day recess at home. Mr. Laybourn remains in St. Paul. Mr. Mory says he looks for the house to finish its consideration of the tax bill at any moment, or to prolong it for two or three days. He expects, however, that the measure will be sent over to the senate within two or three days. Mr. Mallory intimates that there is still such a possibility as the house not passing a tax bill of any kind. He says it all depends on the ability of the opponents to stand pat.

WILL USE BUTTONS.
Building Trades Unions to Abolish the Cards.

Members of the union building trades of Duluth, in good standing, will henceforth be known by their buttons and not by their cards.

The building trades council has voted to abolish the card system and from now on each union man affiliated with the building trades organizations must wear a "little union" button. These buttons will be changed every three months.

The members of the council have decided to hold their meetings from now on in the engineers' hall in the Hunter block.

By comparison the Duluth streets are immaculate according to the expert dirt dermatologist.

No Money Is Wanted

I Ask Only the Name of Some Sick One; Let Me Send My Book.

I ask from you this, as an act of humanity: Simply write me a postal. Give me the name of a sick one. Tell me which book he needs.

I will do this in return: I will furnish that sick one a treatment which I spent a lifetime in learning. I will give all the advice he needs. And a promise that if my method fails, he shall not have a penny to pay.

I will even do this: With the book I will send an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I will authorize him to let you take it for a month. If it succeeds, the cost is $2.50. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself. I will leave the decision with you.

That seems an impossible offer, and with any other treatment it would be. It would bankrupt the physician who made it. But I have made a prescription that strengthens the inside nerves. I have learned how to bring back the nerve power which alone operates the vital organs. When an organ is weak, I give it the power to act.

Usually that is all that is needed. And in most chronic diseases there is no other way to get well. My book will prove that I am right.

Sometimes, even this method fails, but not often. There are causes, like cancer, which no man can cure; but those conditions are rare.

My success is so general that in every case, no matter how difficult, I take the entire risk. In five years I have done this in over half a million cases; and my records show that $9 in each 40 paid for the medicine taken. That means that only one in each forty has been disappointed. It means that there are 39 chances in 40 that I can cure you. No sick person can afford to neglect an offer like this.

If the treatment succeeds, you are well. If it fails, it is free. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose by it. Want you write a postal to learn about a remedy like that?

Simply state which book you want, and address Dr. Shoop, Box 655, Racine, Wis.

Of Monmouth, Ill., Chapter, Recommended to Daughters.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The committee appointed to investigate the Warren chapter troubles at Monmouth, Ill., today recommended to the Daughters of the American Revolution the dissolution of the Warren chapter and the formation therefrom of two new chapters. The report held that the action of the majority of the Warren chapter on June 29, 1888, in attempting to disband and subsequently to form a new chapter and elect officers, forfeited their rights and membership. The action of the minority in declaring the chapter still in existence was legal according to the report, there still being a quorum. The report precipitated a lively debate.

DR. CHAS. A. HOAG.

There is no man in America today among all of the physicians who have given such close study, deep research and successful practice to the cure of all those secret and dangerous diseases, men, of a private nature, their manifold complications and reflex nervous action, as Dr. Charles A. Hoag, the noted physician and surgeon, of Chicago. His practice extends all over the entire Northwest and he has been invited to treat those who have failed to cure you, no matter how long your trouble has stood, Dr. Hoag will tell you just where the trouble is and will move the cause which produces the result, thus effecting a speedy and permanent cure. Write for a free consultation free of charge. Remember the date and do not fail to see him.

Greene's Infallible Liniment

has often proved "a friend indeed" to the boys in blue. For Sprained Joints or Sore Muscles and every description of ailment, it is the best remedy. For Stained Tendons it is what its name implies—infallible. It is a sure cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica and Lumbago it affords instant relief. As an emergency remedy for the hurts of childhood and daily life it is a most valuable and handy remedy and housewives keep it handy. It is powerful antiseptic and blood purifying is impossible under its use.

"I have kept your liniment in my house. It has in all instances proved satisfactory to my family and myself. I have used it for sprains, cuts, etc. If your druggist cannot supply you the makers, J. W. Greene & Co., Chicago, will, to prove its worth, send a large sample return for this ad. 10¢ to cover cost of mailing. There is no substitute. Look for the name on the wrapper."

Plays and Players

"The Taming of the Shrew" Being Present at the Lyceum.

"The Telephone Girl" Will Be Seen Tuesday Night—"Yon Yonson" Will Be Here Again on Wednesday.

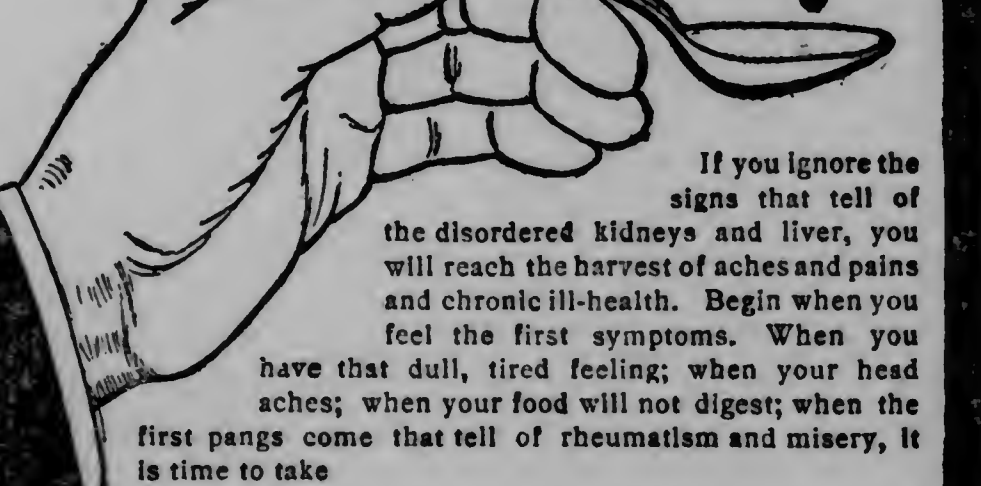

This afternoon Charles B. Hanford's company is presenting "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Lyceum, and this evening another performance of the play will be given. It was Mr. Hanford's privilege to appear with Edwin Booth when that eminent actor produced "The Taming of the Shrew." Mr. Hanford was Mr. Booth's understudy, and on several occasions, when the tragedian was ill, he played Petruchio to the entire satisfaction of the audience. These experiences are of particular importance in view of the present revival of "The Taming of the Shrew," in which Mr. Hanford will essay the role of Petruchio, thus fulfilling the prophecy of Edwin Booth, who predicted for him a shining success in the character. Mr. Hanford, in Mr. Booth's estimation, combined all the qualities necessary for the many-sided personality of Petruchio. Not a few critics have asserted that Mr. Hanford's portrayal of Petruchio in the "Taming of the Shrew" is doubtless the best work he has performed during his long career.

"THE TELEPHONE GIRL." A New York Casino gem, set to the daintiest music, the score of Gustave Kerker, the book of Hugh Houghton, who has written more successful for metropolitan audiences than any other playwright, will be seen at the Lyceum Tuesday. It is said to be one of the loveliest, most irresistibly comical and unique entertainments at present on the boards, and considering that this is the fourth season, a thing of perpetual joy. Frank Blair, who acts the principal role, is a host in himself. Audiences laugh heartily over his indescribable dialect, and his original humor. Mabel Hite, who is the Estelle, is an accomplished and beautiful artist. Douglas and Ford, the dancing comedians, have important roles; Pearl Redding, the dainty comedienne; Tom Smith, the talented comedian; Frank Murphy, George Austin, George Lyons, Alice Sanborn, and the Atkins are described as being particularly well fitted their respective roles. The play is in two acts, like the majority of musical comedies, and there is not a moment for ennui in either. Rapidity of movement is striven for from start to the final curtain.

"YON YONSON." "Yon Yonson," which will again be seen at the Lyceum Wednesday, is a play that appeals equally to both young and old, and at the same time to all of either sex, or any race, color, or religion. There is nothing to offend even the most captious. It is intended by the late Charles H. Taylor for enjoyment, for entertainment, to drive dull care away, while at the same time it points a moral.

Knute Erickson, who is to play the title role, is new to this section of the world, but he has won fame and fortune by his Scandinavian dialect and event voice in his native land, and in Germany and England. Annie Mack-Berlin will again be seen in the inevitable impersonation of the Widow Laith. Handsome Beatrice Norman will again gain the admiration and sympathy of the audiences by her clever portrayal of the heroine's role, the intensely emotional Grace Jennings. These two petite sparklers, George Bryson and Belle Gold, will also have roles which will bring them much in evidence during the action of the play, and without doubt to the delight of the large audiences.

AT CHICAGO THEATERS. Undoubtedly about the most important and charming comedies of the theatrical season, of a musical or comedy nature will be the appearance at the main theater, for two weeks, beginning Sunday, Feb. 23, of the great London Gaiety theater, entitled "The Messenger Boy," which after a most phenomenally successful run of 100 nights in London was produced on this side by Nixon & Zimmerman, and this for the past four months has been the greatest success of the Broadway season in New York city and served as a magnet of sufficient power to pack Daly's theater to its utmost capacity for 100 consecutive nights, breaking all the records of big receipts taken during long histories of this world, their making no exception whatever. All of George Edwards Gaiety theater successes

Of health, we say of a perfectly healthy woman, and it is a picture everyone loves to look upon. All the pictures of all the artists who have ever painted the glory and beauty of womanhood, are only copies and imitations of the picture which is in the mind of the artist.

Never artist mixed a color on his palette which did not come from the hues which tint a beautiful woman's cheeks.

Why should this charm be sacrificed to sickness and decay? It is a picture which is in the mind of the artist, and it is a picture which is in the mind of the artist.

The chief redeeming feature of "The Hall of Fame," now running at the New York, is a wonderful piece of scenery representing Niagara falls. The falls are reproduced with remarkable fidelity. One beautiful effect is a gorgeous rainbow which rises out of the spray at the foot and disappears over the crest of the falls. To add to the picturesqueness the Niagara falls are seen to go over the falls and to appear again as it is dashed about in the waters below until it is thrown ashore and rescued.

Easter Hats and Muffs

The First Hats of Spring Now Shown In the Stores.

One Bright, Large and Wonderfully Trimmed—Some of the New Black Hats Startling In Their Brilliancy.

New York, Feb. 22.—
Upon her head quietly
The hat of Easter sets.
Its brim a mass of tulle and leaves,
Its top of violets.

The Easter hats are in the windows.
If you doubt this, go take a walk along the shopping thoroughfares and gaze into their glassy depths and see for yourself.

There is a saying among common and too large and too wonderfully trimmed, but the brilliancy may be partially explained away under the supposition of contrast. The winter hat was dark and the Easter hat is light. Seen together, one follows the other directly, as is known, is a little heavier than chiffon and is covered with French dots.

The French dot is made of velvet
and is different on opposite sides of the veil, white on one side and black on the other.

The "nice" hat is said to be the black hat, and, for those who share this opinfolk that the first hats of spring are there only to be gazed upon and that no one ever really buys them and wears them. Like most old sayings, this has come to be utterly routed and refuted and replaced by a new one. The Easter hat, as shown in the first windows of spring, is there this year to be sold, and afterward worn, and well is it worthy its exalted destiny.

What is more, it is to be sold earlier this year than for seasons; and it is now the style to have a spring hat much before Easter, one that can be worn later, while for Easter there is reserved the brilliant piece of headgear.
Too bright the Easter hats may seem, ion, who think that every hat should be more or less black, there are millinery attractions that will tempt the dollar forth in short order.

Hats in black and white, hats with tops of mink and black flowers, are trimmed around the edge with most marvelous confections in veiling and at the back there is a wonderful buckle.
But do not think that, because a hat is black, it is necessarily inconspicuous, for some of the new black hats are positively startling in their brilliancy.
That they are inexpensive is a wrong idea also. Quite the contrary is true of them.

It is one thing to look at an Easter

YELLOW STRAW HAT.

resorts. It is made of yellow straw and trimmed with shaded rose.

hat and another thing to purchase it.
It is the thing, of course, to buy,
those who have the money should lose no time in laying it out, but there are just a few who have to think twice before they spend once, and, yet, who are of that proud build that does not want such a fact to be too apparent to the whole world.

It is one thing to be economical and another thing to be a miser. Fortunately it is not now necessary to publish one's necessity to the world, for hats can be made as well as purchased ready made, and the hats of Easter, some of them, seem specially designed for the woman who must put olds and ends together to make her a chapeau.

To the woman who makes her hat this coming Easter it can be said "the millinery is your best friend."
Go to your milliner and tell her your needs, and, if she be a kind-hearted woman, and most milliners are, she will assist you. She will probably tell you out with one of those new satin straws, new each season, and new again this year, that require so very little trimming. They come this season with a top made of straw flowers, very small, yet very pretty, and with a hat brim so arranged that it can be lifted at one side.

The draping of the brim is an important thing, but the milliner will advise you upon this point.
For an Easter brim drapery there will be many a chiffon length used and many a bit of tulle veiling. The veiling, as is known, is a little heavier than
chiffon and is covered with French dots.
The French dot is made of velvet
and is different on opposite sides of the veil, white on one side and black on the other.

The dots upon one heavy cream-col-turned up at each side and at the back, so that the front comes down low over the forehead in a point.

A lovely hat of this description was loved and marked with the name of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. It was in yellow satin straw, so open as to need a lining. It was in bands of most fancy design.

Soft pink chiffon peered through the open meshes.
The outside was looked up at the back and at each side, giving a tricorned effect. The top was trimmed very quietly with a bunch of small pink roses, set in loops of pink velvet ribbon. Three long loops of the velvet came over the brim and neatly banded it. Nothing simpler than this could be well imagined.

Easter hats will be higher than they were last year, though not of steeple height. There will be a slight tendency toward the square crown and the English walking hat, with high rolling sides will be seen.
But just Easter all the English hat of spring is with flowers. Let them be massed low at one side of the crown and let the hat be made so that they appear to be crowded together. Let them reach from the front around to the back and down the side, and just one bed of low, crushed roses.

It is a noticeable fact about the coming Easter hat that simplicity is aimed after and accomplished. This is quite contrary to the complicated arrangements of the past season. The hats are of medium size, of very simple shape, round in the brim and medium high in the crown, and the milliners are working. Then comes the looping of the brim, the draping of the crown and the evolution of the shape.

The wire hat is to be very popular.

This is the hat made of wire in underneath, bent and shaped to the head.
It is afterward trimmed with amaline and chiffon, and with flowers, and it becomes a hat.
Toques are made in this way and the loveliest of little flower hats.

A big soft tulle toque was made of wire, with a wire crown and a wire brim. The whole was prettily covered with chiffon and with the outside layer of chiffon dotted with lozenges of black velvet. The toque was slightly tilted and there was an exaggerated rose at one side.

Veils will be numerous and costly.
Such fascies as appear in the veil line must really be seen to be fully appreciated. The modish hat requires not only, but these veils, all worn together, though each in its appointed way.

The complexion veil is the very thin one that comes next to the face. It is in rose color and gives a pretty glow to the cheeks. Then there is the veil that is draped around the back of the hat, the plume veil it is called, because if there be a bird's breast around the brim it holds the feathers in place.
Finally there comes the medium heavy veil, all dotted, or squared or open—this shows just that the veil from the hat brim over the face. It is merely a matter of arrangement, the wearing of these veils, and not so very difficult when one becomes accustomed to handling them.

Mrs. Admiral Dewey wears two veils always and so protects that complexion of which she is so proud.
The Easter muf is a thing not to be forgotten. It is a soft, chiton-like affair to be carried Easter day and after Easter until June. The people who are planning a Newport season, Mrs.
Stuyvesant Fish and Mrs. Duncan
Elliot, and the others who lead the society of matrons, have ordered their coming wardrobe.

Mrs. Fish is to have a muf of blue chiffon, very light, and underneath save by flounces of the chiffon and puffings without number of the same color. Such a muf is a thing not to be forgotten. It is a soft, chiton-like affair to be carried Easter day and after Easter until June. The people who are planning a Newport season, Mrs.
Stuyvesant Fish and Mrs. Duncan
Elliot, and the others who lead the society of matrons, have ordered their coming wardrobe.

The Easter muf may be of fur. There is the coronation muf, which shows ermine with ornaments, and there is another coronation muf of miniver and little roses. The middle of the muf, the muf proper, is quite concealed under the bank of roses that is upon the hat.
At each side roses project, dancing at the end of their long stems, and making a lovely bouquet.

It is very ingenious to select roses that can be easily matched in the natural blooms. Then one can select a half dozen natural roses to the artificial ones upon the muf and be elegantly gowned indeed.

They say that the muf will be carried on the hottest of August evenings as a piazza accessory, just as the ermine shoulder cape is worn all summer, and the fur traveling cape. Be that as it turns out later, certainly there are enough muffs making now to insure such a result.

The Lady Lenox long cloak is a lovely thing. In deep blue, with light velvet satin cloth, it is trimmed down the front with a jabot arrangement of red silk, edged with white and embroidered in black dots. This mixing of red and blue is much seen and has the merit

MRS. THEO. FULLER,

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB PRESIDENT.

A FAMILY doctor who has attended father and mother in sickness, watched over the children as babies and given them advice as they grew up to maturity and manhood has a very close relation to the family. When he comes in half the suffering seems over, half the danger past. He comes at all hours of the night and day and after years of such service confidence in him is almost unbounded. But in time the mother begins to all and the daughters growing up develop the troubles and weaknesses of womanhood. Here the physician very often makes his mistake. The mother may be going through the change of life, but the physician calls it a general running down of the system or thinning blood. He frequently treats bearing-down pains as kidney trouble and says deranged menses are more temporary troubles that will wear off.
In treating every case from whooping cough to diphtheria and typhoid fever the average physician has no clue to the cause of the trouble. He has no opportunity any one class of diseases—he has no opportunity to make a study of the particular maladies of women. And he has another disadvantage in that thousands of model women will not tell the details of this kind of sickness to a doctor. But Wine of Cardui is a family physician, a specialist of female diseases that has never been discredited as a regulator of menstrual disorders. It seldom fails to effect a perfect cure and when cases are absolutely incurable, it never fails to benefit the patient.

Mrs. Theodore Fuller, of Neenah, Wis., is one of the thousands of women who have cause to praise Wine of Cardui. She is one of the prominent women of her town and her letter cannot fail to attract the attention of thousands of sufferers. As President of the Social Science Club she is a leader of the best thought in her community. She writes:

"Three years ago I suffered with inflammation of the womb caused by catching a bad cold during menstruation. I had violent pains in the lower part of the abdomen, also along the spinal column, and frequent headaches. At times my menses would stop altogether and then suddenly I would flow without ceasing.

"I consulted my family physician and he prescribed for me, but I got no relief. Reading an advertisement in the paper of what McClure's Wine of Cardui could do for such a case I decided to try it and took it faithfully for three weeks, when to my relief and delight I found myself entirely cured and my general health much improved."

To cure a woman suffering like Mrs.
Fuller, in three weeks, is truly a great thing for any medicine, but with Wine of Cardui this very thing is occurring every day. The story of Wine of Cardui is an old one but it is coming home with renowned force to thousands of women.
Mrs. Fuller's letter is only one note in the great chorus of praise that is going up to

WINE OF CARDUI

RELIEVES
ALL "FEMALE ILLS".

of looking well always, for no two colors mix better and stand the climate extensively and regardless of price,
said: "No matter what else I buy, I always have a 49-cent silk. I couldn't live without it. That is the best all-round hot-weather dress I know."

A sleeve that will be seen upon not a few of the coats of Easter is the coat sleeve slashed below the elbow. It is a cloth sleeve and looks decidedly commonplace down to the point indicated.
Then, just below the elbow, there is a sharp turn in the goods and the sleeve comes out, hanging in a great bag.

The feature of the sleeve is this lining, which may be in soft, delicate shades of blue, or in a more pronounced shade of pleated and trimmed with narrow ribbons put on to lie between the little chiffon pleats. These ribbons hang down in loops on the outside of the sleeve.

Then the sleeve comes in small again,
and is finished at the wrist in a fancy cut.

Easter gowns are to be very attractive this season—wonderfully so—and the woman who wants to look well should begin to think about her purchases, for Easter is March 30, and Easter Sunday will be here before she knows it.

There is a peculiarity that is not a counterpart of things feminine.
She would seem to assume at will an unbecoming close-mouthed pose. She keeps her edicts to herself until it suits her own capricious fancy to tell them. Perhaps this is only another phase of the moods of femininity in enjoying an opportunity of being mysterious and looking knowing. However, this much she has disclosed. We are told it is to be a tan-colored spring gown, with the black and white different shades of blues incline to hold their own.

Last year it seemed as if all those women who wanted something especially gorgeous in a gown immediately intended to their modist's advice that nothing was quite so exclusive as a gray nun's veiling, and heard even all the vaudeville celebrities sing exactly the same refrain. Their enthusiasm must have grown somewhat less, so expensive grays will come second best now;
the tan color of spring may be a modification of brown that we had all winter.
Plain-toned goods are usually on the etamine weaves, though it would seem that all the etamines in the world are not going to effect the steady sale of that good, old-fashioned foulard silk.

A wealthy shopper who was buying extensively and regardless of price,
said: "No matter what else I buy, I always have a 49-cent silk. I couldn't live without it. That is the best all-
round hot-weather dress I know."

The silks this season, whether expensive or otherwise, come in smaller designs than the usual large foulards.
Small checks and stripes or the always popular polka-dot combination also promise to be favored.

The soft, plain-tinted Louisines or Pau de Cygne, in different shades of blue, are very satisfactory, both for service and beauty. These are only a yard.

There is nothing as cool in the summer as one of those inexpensive Indias, either flowered or polka dotted, made of simple shirt-waist lines, with some embellishment in the form of lace: they are at once dressy and comfortable.

The inclusion of Amalgamated dividends would be a duplication. The total dividends of reporting American companies to the close of 1901 reached
the great sum of $185,515,294, exclusive of $15,809,491 paid by the Amalgamated Copper company. Of this total the
Lake Superior mines contributed $14-245,920. The figures are not complete, however, and an injustice to both Montana and Arizona, as the magnificent earnings of the Anaconda mine previous to 1899 are not included in Montana's total, while the close corporations operating in Arizona have their millions not shown in the foregoing figures.

The production of copper in 1901 was in excess of consumption. The price of the metal scored a sensational advance, from perfectly natural causes, in 1899.
This high price has the natural and manipulation, to the ultimate confusion of the entire copper trade. The price of the metal is now finding its level. Whether it will be 15 cents or 15 cents is a matter of opinion, but it will not be 17 cents. The situation must work itself out according to the time-tested laws of commerce. Lower prices will stimulate consumption, while their restriction production by closing the weaker mines. Copper mining will remain a highly remunerative business for the best mines, but the day of exorbitant profits has passed.

OUTPUT OF COPPER

already become considerable producers, and other properties of unusual promise are being developed. The Utah mines nearly all carry considerable value in gold and silver. Many of the Arizona mines carry silver, nearly all of the Montana mines have silver in large quantities, and most of the lake properties carry more or less silver, though not so extensively as do the best Western mines.

Tennessee and North Carolina are both mining copper. The 1901 production of Tennessee should reach nearly 15,000,000 pounds. A little mining is being done in Virginia and Maryland.
Several producing properties are found in New Jersey, and old mines, abandoned many years ago, are now working in Vermont and New Hampshire.
South Dakota is developing copper mines in Pennington county. Wyoming has some promising properties in the Battle Lake and Grand Encampment districts of Carbon county. Copper mines are being opened at several points in Colorado, and Idaho has mines of promise. Washington and Oregon have copper mines in process of development, and several meritorious copper properties are being opened in Nevada. New Mexico has several producing mines and a number of developing properties. Native copper and copper ores have been found in Texas, Alabama, Missouri and other American states. It is evident that there will be no dearth of copper mining ventures for investors to put their money in.

There were, however, only sixteen copper mines in the United States that paid dividends in 1901, though it is likely that other mines, operated by close corporations, also returned profits.
The total dividends paid by American copper mines in 1901 amounted to $20-$12,675, exclusive of $3,304,000 paid by the Amalgamated Copper company, the dividends of the latter being excluded because derived solely from the dividends of subsidiary companies, hence
the inclusion of Amalgamated dividends would be a duplication. The total dividends of reporting American
companies to the close of 1901 reached
the great sum of $185,515,294, exclusive of $15,809,491 paid by the Amalgamated Copper company. Of this total the
Lake Superior mines contributed $14-245,920. The figures are not complete,
however, and an injustice to both
Montana and Arizona, as the magnificent earnings of the Anaconda mine
previous to 1899 are not included in Montana's total, while the close corporations operating in Arizona have
their millions not shown in the foregoing figures.

The Revised Bible.

The new American standard revision of the Bible brings it up to date, without changing its meaning; but do the people who buy it from the origi-

"No." This would also be the popular answer to the question: "Do you

AMENDING FINISHED

House Is About Ready to Vote on Tax Bill.

Non-Partisan Tax Commission Is Provided.

St. Paul, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the house took a recess at noon today, the table was cleared of amendments, and unless the members did some hurried thinking during the intermission, it was considered entirely probable that the bill would be voted upon during the afternoon. There were intimations, however, that the store of amendments was not yet exhausted and that some more might be introduced this afternoon to take up time a little longer. It will be difficult to postpone the vote till tomorrow. The house put in the entire morning passing upon all sorts of amendments and nearly a couple of dozen were passed and nearly a dozen were turned down. Doubtless the most interesting amendments are in the "also ran" class. One change that created some stir, and that was the feature of the morning, was offered by Mr. Pennington, of Dakota county, and it makes the tax commission non-partisan by providing that not more than two of its three members shall be members of the same political party. This was adopted by the house by a vote of 55 to 47. The division was not on party lines, though the Democrats all voted for it. The Duluth delegation divided on it, Messrs. Pugh, Alford and Jury voting against and Messrs. Mallory and Laybourn voting for it.

When the amendment was introduced, Mr. Pennington spoke in favor of it, and said he thought the tax commission ought to be non-partisan. Mr. Roberts thought the state had had enough of the non-partisan nonsense in the railroad and warehouse commission and Mr. Pennington said that if there were invertebrates on the railroad and warehouse commission that was the fault of the appointing power, not of the people. The amendment went through, and if the bill becomes law, as amended by the house, one of the members of the tax commission will have to be a Democrat.

AGAINST VAN SANT

Governor Gets a Black Eye
In the Merger Case.

Supreme Court Denies Motion to Start Suit.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court gave the state of Minnesota a knockout blow in denying the petition to file a bill of equity against the Northern Securities company. The merger people are jubilant. They say that they have no fear of the suit to be brought by Attorney General Knox under the Sherman anti-trust law. The state must therefore make its own fight in its own courts.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The supreme court of the United States today delivered its opinion in the case of Minnesota vs. the Northern Securities company in an application of the state to file a bill of complaint in that court. The opinion was read by Justice Shiras and the motion for leave to file the bill was denied on the ground that this court is without jurisdiction.

St. Paul, Feb. 24.—The announcement of the United States supreme court's decision against the application of the state of Minnesota for leave to file a suit against the Northern Securities company was received in this city today without surprise. President Hill of the Northern Securities company, when notified by the representative of the Associated Press, refused to discuss the opinion of the court, contenting himself with the remark that it was no more than he had anticipated several weeks ago. Governor Van Sant was not inclined to express any views on the matter, and Attorney General Douglas was also averse to saying anything. It is known, however, that since the announcement by United States Attorney General Knox that he would bring suit against the Northern Securities company under the Sherman act, the state officials here have looked for just such a decision as that now announced by the supreme court of the United States. Such action by the federal officials will not be allowed to stop further action by the state of Minnesota, but no definite announcement has yet been made as to the form such proceedings will take.

Kaiser's Representative Reaches Washington and Visits White House.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Prince Henry, of Prussia, accompanied by the welcoming delegations from both the president and the German embassy, arrived here at 10:25 o'clock this morning, promptly on schedule time. The trip from Baltimore to Washington was without incident. In the outlying districts of Baltimore crowds gathered to watch the departing train and at several points from there onward there were little groups at the stations past which the train sped. No stops were made until this city was reached. The train, which consisted of the cars Columbia, Ohio and Indiana, was closely guarded by the secret service men, with a care that will be exercised throughout its journeying, during the prince's stay on American soil. The prince occupied the time during the run from Baltimore to Washington in democratic fashion, talking freely with those about him as they discussed the country and the details of his visit. He told the president's delegates that he wished to see as clearly as possible the places through which he was to travel and that as there will be interest on the part of the public in seeing him as well, he thought it would be best to use open carriages in the driving portion of the itinerary everywhere. The delegates told him they would arrange the matter.

Secretary of State Hay, Secretary of the Navy Long, Assistant Secretary of State Peace, who had immediate charge of the arrangements at the depot, and Count Guenther and other attaches from the German embassy awaited the arrival of the prince at the depot. The prince, who was dressed in a dark suit, remained in an improvised reception room, the walls of which were heavily draped with the American flag.

The atmosphere was redolent with the fragrance of flowers. The embassy officials were in full uniform. A bugle call by a cavalryman stationed outside announced the arrival of the prince. It was halted just outside the depot, the engine detached and the cars backed to a point opposite the receiving room, midway down the train shed. The welcoming party passed quickly into the prince's car and informally extended to him the welcome to the city.

A few moments later the party entered the reception room. Commander Cowles, President Roosevelt's brother-in-law, and Adj. Gen. Corbin were the first to greet the prince, who was not far behind them. Walking rapidly, and with the erect bearing of a trained naval officer, smiling to the group of officials, detectives and newspaper men, through a double line of whom he passed, saluting with a touch of his hand to the glittering chapeau he wore, he crossed the carpeted depot aisle and entered the reception room. There he remained ten minutes. Assistant Secretary Pearce and Mr. Williams stood at the door while the prince was waiting. Finally Prince Henry, accompanied by Secretary Hay and Rear Admiral Evans, entered the last of the open carriages. The carriages of the others were drawn up in the line of the prince's carriage and at rapid speed to the head of the column. Instantly the police and military escorts wheeled into position and the party started up Pennsylvania avenue for the White House.

Intermingled with the crowd at the depot was a small army of secret service men, detectives and policemen. Special precautions had been taken to insure the safety of the prince and his escort, and to keep people from pressing closely upon the party at any stage of its journey through the public place in the city. Maj. Sylvester, the chief of police, had 250 of his uniformed men on special duty, and 125 of these were detailed at the depot. Assisting the local detectives were a corps of detectives assembled from a number of other cities for familiar faces of criminals and suspects from other points. The South Side men were also watching for men at the hotels and elsewhere. Several mounted policemen guarded the rear of the train shed. The safeguarding of the prince was effected not only by his immediate escort, but by special detail of policemen under several lieutenants, among whom was divided the responsibility of the order of route from the depot to the White House, each having a separate but interlocking jurisdiction.

There were thirty policemen spread over the first three blocks, and a half hundred from there to within a block of the White House, and two score more of them assembled in Pennsylvania avenue immediately in front of the executive grounds. All these were reinforced by a large number in citizens' clothes. At the White House a detail of police assisted the regular men in keeping the grounds free from intrusion of unauthorized persons. When the line of carriages bearing the prince and cortege started from the depot a platoon of sixteen mounted policemen wheeled into line and took positions at the head of the column, Acting Lieut. Matthews in command of them. They constituted the front platoon, and a similar squadron of mounted police, under Sergt. Harry, protected the rear.

Between the police and the carriages marched the military escort, comprising Troops A and G, of the Second United States cavalry, from Fort Myer, headed by the cavalry band and the Fourth battery of field artillery, all under the command of Lieut. Col. Dimmick. They were immediately in front and back of the line of open carriages flanking the prince's carriage. On each side were two mounted policemen with equipment of gauntlets and dress saddle clothes. They were within range of the carriage so as to avoid as much as possible any annoyance or embarrassment to the royal guest. A score of policemen on foot also marched alongside the carriages on each side, at intervals of six paces, in single file.

It is only a short block from the Sixth street depot to Pennsylvania avenue, and as the marching column swung around it, they found that broad driveway swept bare of people and vehicles from that point as far as the eye could reach in a westerly direction.

From shortly before the schedule hour of arrival all street car service along or across the line of march had been suspended, all vehicles except those belonging to the arriving party had been barred, and only authorized persons were allowed within the lines. There were only a few of these banded along each side of the route. In addition to the police there were over 1400 men of the District of Columbia militia, who formed a double line of sentinels at intervals of four paces, facing, of course, inward.

The militia were commanded by Gen. George H. Harry, who, with his general staff and non-commissioned staff, together with the brigade band, which played patriotic airs at intervals, his position opposite the east gate of the White House.

Rarely in its history has the White House been the scene of a more brilliant spectacle than today, when President Roosevelt welcomed to the United States Prince Henry of Prussia. Ever since the announcement was made that the prince would visit this country as the personal representative of his brother, the German emperor, the president and other officials of the administration have taken a lively personal interest in the arrangements for his reception.

It has been the president's wish that, avoiding all ostentation, the prince be given a cordial welcome.

So far as federal authority controls in the matter, that plan has been carried out. The prince met the president, and the welcome he received was hearty and open-handed, and he, in turn, giving a cordial welcome.

Special preparations were made at the White House for this event. Unusually display had been avoided, but the rich furniture and draperies, and the artistically arranged vases filled with great clusters of freshly cut and fragrant American Beauty roses and other blossoms, the evergreen draperies and the gorgeous uniforms of the prince and his party combined to make the scene one of exceptional brilliancy and beauty. It was 10:45 o'clock when the prince and his party entered the main entrance, facing north. The first carriage, containing the prince, Secretary Hay and Rear Admiral Evans, drove up at a rapid pace, and as it passed under the portico, here the Marine band struck up the German national air, which was continued until all the company had left their carriages.

showed evidence of the pleasure it gave him to meet the president of the United States. Nothing could have been more cordial than the president's greeting to the German prince, and it was returned in kind in full measure.

Postmaster General.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Harry S. New, of Indianapolis, has been offered the office of first assistant postmaster general to succeed William M. Johnson, of New Jersey, who has resigned. Mr. New has not yet given his final answer. He is a member of the Republican national committee from Indiana and is the editor of the Indianapolis Journal. The change will occur within the next two months.

IN A STATE OF TERROR

Preconcerted Attack on Assay Offices in Cripple Creek District Causes Danger and Consternation to Inhabitants.

Victoria, Col., Feb. 24.—Cripple Creek is in a state of terror owing to a preconcerted attack upon all the assay offices doing business in the district. Beginning at 3 o'clock this morning and following in rapid succession six explosions, which wrecked as many assay offices in the centers, ranging from Victor to Cripple Creek and up to Goldfield. In every instance the object sought by the incendiaries was accomplished by the destruction of the offices, with their fine equipment of delicate balances.

The raiders did not hesitate to jeopardize life, as all but one of the buildings were also occupied by sleeping families. As it was, men, women and children were hurried out of their beds by the shocks and injuries inflicted. The full extent of the damage cannot be estimated.

In this city the Duvenport office was wrecked by two explosions, involving a loss of fully $1200. Almost at the same time the assay offices of Vandewalker, Morgan & Williams were treated likewise. The loss was approximately as large as Duvenport's. One man, a miner, was severely injured at the explosion at Williams' office. He was passing at the moment of the explosion, grazing his eyes and may result in total blindness. In Cripple Creek, Ben Assum's assay office, north of the Florence and Cripple Creek depot, was blown up.

In the town of Goldfield, about a mile and a half north of here, almost simultaneously Boyce's office, and an assay establishment were wrecked. Boyce's family occupied an adjoining room. Mrs. Boyce was badly injured. She was badly shocked. A family living in the other assay office was also blown out of bed, but escaped serious injury. The giant powder was blown through the windows at Goldfield.

In this city the powder was placed under the building. The house in which a family lived next to the Williams' assay office here was much damaged, and a woman was prostrated. Sheriff Tolbertson has called out deputies and is taking all means to discover, if possible, the perpetrators of the crimes. The general impression here is that the act is the result of a general movement to rid the district of all high grade ore purchasing institutions.

Bloodhounds from Canon City have been called for.

TILLMAN IN DISGRACE

President Withdraws Invitation to the Senator to Attend Dinner in Honor of Prince Henry at White House.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The president has withdrawn his invitation to Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, to attend the dinner to be given to-night in honor of Prince Henry, of Prussia, at the White House. It is stated that this action on the part of the president was made necessary from the fact that owing to his occurrences on the floor of the senate last Saturday, the senator from South Carolina was declared in contempt of the senate. Senator Martin, of Virginia, a member of the committee on naval affairs, has accepted an invitation to Mr. Tillman's place at the dinner. The extension was originally to Mr. Tillman, owing to the fact that he is the ranking minority member of the naval affairs committee.

SHE IS REALLY RELEASED

Miss Stone and Her Companion Appear at Stru-mitza, Macedonia, in Good Health and Start For Salonica.

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary who, with Mme. Tsilka, was captured by brigands in the district of Salonica, Sept. 3 last, has been released, and arrived at Strumitza, Macedonia, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

Nobody was at Strumitza to meet Miss Stone, as the brigands had given no indication of where they proposed to release the prisoners. Mme. Tsilka and her baby were also released at the same time. They are all well. Miss Stone immediately made herself known to the authorities at Strumitza. The first news of Miss Stone's release was contained in a telegram received by Mr. Dickinson, the American consul general at Constantinople, from the American vice consul at Salonica. The telegram gives no details of the release. As Strumitza is near the Salonika-Uskub railroad, Miss Stone will proceed to Salonica without delay.

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—A. A. Gargallo, the first dragoon of the United States legion, and Dr. House, one of the missionaries, who have been in Zores, Macedonia, awaiting the release of Miss Ellen M. Stone and Mme. Tsilka, have started for Salonica to meet Miss Stone and her companion. The United States minister John G. Leishman is the recipient of congratulations on the success of his action in trusting the brigands with the ransom before the release of the captives. This step was much criticized by Mr. Leishman's colleagues, but the accomplishment of the difficult mission is now considered by the diplomats to be a decided score for the American minister and the committee acting under his direction.

SCHOONER CAPSIZED

Sealing Vessel, Struck By Heavy Sea, Rolls Bottom Up—The Crew Saved With Exception of One Man.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 24.—The sealing schooner R. I. Morse, of Victoria, is a wreck, and G. Donaldson, one of her crew, was drowned. The survivors were landed here by the steamer Umattila at midnight. The R. I. Morse was caught in a heavy southeast gale with tremendous seas on Feb. 16, when forty miles off Cape Orford, on the California coast. She was holed by her sails and the wheel lashed, and Donaldson posted on the lookout. The others were below. A heavy sea broke alongside her and she careened over on her port beam, and another sea striking her, she went over and was bottom up. Soon she righted, half full of water, and those below rushed on deck. Donaldson could be seen on the stern on a piece of wreckage shouting, although he could not be heard. The boats being broken, his comrades could not aid him, and he sank before their eyes. The survivors worked with all bags and two kegs forward to keep the schooner from being wrecked. On Tuesday were picked up by the schooner Penelope, of Victoria, who came upon the wreck. The Umattila was spoken and she took the sailors from the Penelope and landed them here last night.

GREWSOME AWAKENING

New York, Feb. 24.—Found frozen in a snow drift and apparently dead after Friday's storm, William Ferry, a farmer near Anthony, N. J., lay for ten hours on the cooling board of an undertaker's shop, surrounded by coffins and the paraphernalia of death. But for the absence of the undertaker he might have been buried alive.

Ferry was found lying in the snow. The body was cold and the supposed corpse was taken to an undertaking establishment. A half dozen neighbors gathered to watch over the body. The absence of the undertaker prevented further action. When he arrived the party gathered in another room. Upon their return to the cooling room they were horrified to find the supposed corpse missing. "Body snatchers" was their first thought. An alarm was sent out and a messenger hurried to Ferry's home. When he arrived Ferry was disposing of a hearty meal. He said he suddenly became conscious and observing his surroundings, fled through a side door and hurried home.

OLD POSTMASTER LOSES JOB

Dubuque, Iowa, Feb. 24.—The post office at Campton, Delaware county, Iowa, is to be discontinued. It has a unique record. In 1857 E. V. Brown was appointed postmaster and has held the office ever since. His commission has never been revoked. The men who signed his bond are still alive and on his bond. His wife has been his deputy all through these years and the office is still in the building where it was first located in 1857. He is believed to be the oldest postmaster in Iowa, owing to rural mail delivery the office will be dropped from the list.

The movement via the C. P. R. and Great Northern roads has already begun, and about thirty cars a day are being received here. The Great Northern is advancing cars to the C. P. R. and when they are loaded return them to Great Northern, where they are brought to Duluth. This method consumes so much time for the equipment that the Great Northern does not feel free with present security of cars, to furnish as many as could be loaded with this wheat.

THE WEATHER

February Records of Other Years Not Yet Broken.

The very mild weather that has prevailed at the head of the lakes during the past few days has called up a few records of February weather here in the past years and the statement made that this has been the warmest February for the past twenty years bids fair to be true in a large degree.

The February month of recent years that most nearly approached the current month was 1887. During that month the weather was very mild, but the current month was milder. The head of the lakes and zero weather prevailed for the first of the month. The present month differs from February, 1887, from the fact that the weather is milder and is closing with mild spring weather.

There have been other Februaries when there were intervals of mild weather alternating with cold weather, but the February is to be considered as the continuation of the cold months of the year.

In February of the years 1877 and 1888, the weather was mild throughout the month, no zero weather being recorded. In February, 1889, the weather was mild up to Feb. 10, when the zero mark was reached.

During the present month there was some zero weather during the first of the month, but the temperature has ranged from 4 to 40 degrees above zero.

PLANS ARE SHAPING

Highland Canal Company Amends Articles of Incorporation. Ordinance Granting It Franchise to Be Presented Tonight.

Agrees to Complete Its System By September 1, 1904.

Amendments to the articles of incorporation of the Highland Canal and Water Power company was filed in the office of the secretary of state at St. Paul today. One of the most important features is that it changes the headquarters from Minneapolis to Duluth. At the time the company was formed and began its plans for the bringing of the water back of the hill to Duluth, and dropping it down in the city, thereby creating an enormous water power, it was formed with headquarters in Minneapolis, largely to avoid publicity and keep its object somewhat vague. All necessity for secrecy has been removed, and the company now brings its headquarters to what has been the headquarters of the company since its formation. The amendments also provide for the increase of the powers of the corporation, making them more definite. It provides for the building of dams, etc., the erection of works and power stations in connection therewith, the erection of poles and wires, etc. They also provide for an increase in the limit of debt of the company from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, and for an increase in the number of directors from three to nine.

PEET CABLES

That Release of Miss Stone Has Been Effected.

Boston, Feb. 24.—The American board late this afternoon received a cablegram from its representative, W. W. Peet, sent from Yendjanli, Bulgaria, saying: "Stone's deliverance completed. Inform friends."

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—Later in the day a dispatch was received here announcing that Miss Stone and Mme. Talika are now at Strumitza, five hours ride on horseback from the railway station. The Salonicia-Uskela railroad, Miss Stone is suffering from the strain of the journey, and is unable to take the horseback trip. But Gargiulo and Mr. House, who are with her, will probably be compelled to rest at Strumitza for a few days, and then it is expected that they will be able to continue their journey to Constantinople by sea.

MADE TO SIT DOWN

Senator Wellington Has a Tilt With Senator McComas.

Invites Latter to Repeat Outside.

Senator McLaurin Wants Tillman's Charges Investigated.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The senate met today at 11 o'clock to dispose of the Philippine tariff bill. More than ordinary interest attached to the meeting today, not only on account of the last day of the debate and the final vote on the bill which has caused so much discussion, much of it in a bitter and partisan spirit, but also because of the fact that during the day Prince Henry would visit the senate. Both of the South Carolina senators were on the floor when the senate was called to order. Mr. McLaurin came in first and Mr. Tillman just as the chaplain offered prayer. A small bunch of red roses and white carnations lay on Mr. Tillman's desk.

Mr. Fritchard (R., N. C.) at the request of Mr. McLaurin, offered a resolution directing the privileges and elections committee to investigate Mr. Tillman's charges that the former was influenced by the interests of the Philippine Islands in the Philippine tariff bill. Mr. McLaurin moved that the resolution be referred to the committee on Philippine affairs.

Senator McLaurin, replying to Mr. McComas, said that if Mr. McComas would believe the statements made by Mr. McLaurin in his speech earlier in the day, he would believe that Mr. McLaurin was a liar. Mr. McLaurin said that he was a liar and a cheat, and that he was a liar and a cheat.

SANDOW TELLS

Of the Only Two Fights He Ever Had.

If you imagine that you are strong and, to prove your strength, are in the habit of picking quarrels with strangers, be a little more careful than usual this week, says the New York World.

Do not select for a test of your fighting ability a conspicuously well-dressed young man about 5 feet 8½ inches in height, with light curly hair, unobtrusive bearing and a pink complexion. You might get a surprise.

He can take a good-sized man with one hand and without any sign of effort use the man's body for a mallet and give an imitation of a regulation drill. He can lift with one hand to a point above his head, and then throw the man over his head.

He can support on a gangplank placed across his breast three horses at a time. He can break big iron rods across his arms and legs, but he does not do so often, because he considers it trivial.

He wrestled at one time with three expert wrestlers, each weighing over 200 pounds, and he won. He was another flat at the same time prevent the other two from throwing him. So he is a bad man to "stump" for a fight.

A reporter had a talk with Mr. Sandow last Thursday. "Did you ever have a fight?" was asked. "I mean—er, did you ever have to defend yourself to protect yourself from injury?"

"I've had two or three little difficulties," he replied, but they didn't amount to much. Not worth talking about, in fact."

"Still, it's worth while knowing just how the strongest man in the world would act under such circumstances." He took from a box two black cigars just twice as large as the ones you're familiar with. He lit one and offered the reporter the other.

"I'm not a giant," the reporter remarked. "Oh, they're very mild. Try it." And the reporter began to smoke. "In Chicago, in 1893, I had to use my strength in my own defense," he said. "One evening I was walking in a hotel to look at the ruins of a great building which had been destroyed by fire. I was looking at the ruins of the smoldering ruins two men sprang out at me and the barrel of a revolver glared into my eyes. I was a little startled, but I was not afraid. I was a little startled, but I was not afraid."

"Hands up!" cried the owner of the gun, while the other man prepared to examine my pockets. I made as if to obey him with the revolver a blow under the chin that would have felled an ox. He then stepped in the air and fell back on a heap of charred timber—motionless, of course."

"The other would be robber fired at me twice, but missed both times. Then he ran off. I pursued him. In trying to climb over a railway fence his clothing caught in the spikes and held him. I picked him up while he was struggling, and I undid it. I gently cast him with the other. Then I continued my walk home."

"Next morning the Chicago papers were full of 'A Strange Discovery.' Two men armed with revolvers had been found lying unconscious on the sidewalk. One of them had just emerged from prison, after serving a long term of imprisonment for the offense he tried on."

"Any other time?" the reporter questioned. "Oh, yes, in Paris in 1889, after my first London season. I was in a restaurant parlor with a friend when several Frenchmen entered. We were speaking German, and they seemed to take offense. They came and talked their gibberish there. I was a little startled, but I was not afraid. I was a little startled, but I was not afraid."

"Why can't you tell us while you're here?" I asked. "I was growing curious. 'Why?' I asked. 'I promise,' I said. 'Well,' he said, 'if I had known that you were Mr. Sandow I would have never struck you that blow in Paris.' And then in enthusiastic French fashion he begged over and over again to be forgiven."

"Today," added Mr. Sandow, "we are the fastest of friends, and when I am in Paris I stay at his house. He is, in fact, a count."

Mr. Sandow lit another cigar. The reporter asked him for his measurements. You can get a slight idea of his muscles from them. Here they are: Neck, 15½ inches; biceps, 19½ inches; forearm, 17 inches; chest, normal, 52 inches; contracted, 58 inches; thigh, 26½ inches; calf, 18 inches; height, 5 feet 8½ inches; weight, 204 pounds.

Of the Only Two Fights He Ever Had.

If you imagine that you are strong and, to prove your strength, are in the habit of picking quarrels with strangers, be a little more careful than usual this week, says the New York World.

Do not select for a test of your fighting ability a conspicuously well-dressed young man about 5 feet 8½ inches in height, with light curly hair, unobtrusive bearing and a pink complexion. You might get a surprise.

And in doing this he wouldn't raise his voice perceptibly. That's the first surprise. He can lift a 500-pound weight with his little fingers.

He can take a good-sized man with one hand and without any sign of effort use the man's body for a mallet and give an imitation of a regulation drill. He can lift with one hand to a point above his head, and then throw the man over his head.

He can support on a gangplank placed across his breast three horses at a time. He can break big iron rods across his arms and legs, but he does not do so often, because he considers it trivial.

He wrestled at one time with three expert wrestlers, each weighing over 200 pounds, and he won. He was another flat at the same time prevent the other two from throwing him. So he is a bad man to "stump" for a fight.

A reporter had a talk with Mr. Sandow last Thursday. "Did you ever have a fight?" was asked. "I mean—er, did you ever have to defend yourself to protect yourself from injury?"

"I've had two or three little difficulties," he replied, but they didn't amount to much. Not worth talking about, in fact."

"Still, it's worth while knowing just how the strongest man in the world would act under such circumstances." He took from a box two black cigars just twice as large as the ones you're familiar with. He lit one and offered the reporter the other.

"I'm not a giant," the reporter remarked. "Oh, they're very mild. Try it." And the reporter began to smoke. "In Chicago, in 1893, I had to use my strength in my own defense," he said. "One evening I was walking in a hotel to look at the ruins of a great building which had been destroyed by fire. I was looking at the ruins of the smoldering ruins two men sprang out at me and the barrel of a revolver glared into my eyes. I was a little startled, but I was not afraid. I was a little startled, but I was not afraid."

"Hands up!" cried the owner of the gun, while the other man prepared to examine my pockets. I made as if to obey him with the revolver a blow under the chin that would have felled an ox. He then stepped in the air and fell back on a heap of charred timber—motionless, of course."

"The other would be robber fired at me twice, but missed both times. Then he ran off. I pursued him. In trying to climb over a railway fence his clothing caught in the spikes and held him. I picked him up while he was struggling, and I undid it. I gently cast him with the other. Then I continued my walk home."

"Any other time?" the reporter questioned. "Oh, yes, in Paris in 1889, after my first London season. I was in a restaurant parlor with a friend when several Frenchmen entered. We were speaking German, and they seemed to take offense. They came and talked their gibberish there. I was a little startled, but I was not afraid. I was a little startled, but I was not afraid."

"Why can't you tell us while you're here?" I asked. "I was growing curious. 'Why?' I asked. 'I promise,' I said. 'Well,' he said, 'if I had known that you were Mr. Sandow I would have never struck you that blow in Paris.' And then in enthusiastic French fashion he begged over and over again to be forgiven."

"Today," added Mr. Sandow, "we are the fastest of friends, and when I am in Paris I stay at his house. He is, in fact, a count."

Mr. Sandow lit another cigar. The reporter asked him for his measurements. You can get a slight idea of his muscles from them. Here they are: Neck, 15½ inches; biceps, 19½ inches; forearm, 17 inches; chest, normal, 52 inches; contracted, 58 inches; thigh, 26½ inches; calf, 18 inches; height, 5 feet 8½ inches; weight, 204 pounds.

Brooks-Scanlon Logging Road Pushed to Limit.

The new logging road of the Brooks-Scanlon company at Scanlon, Minn., is being worked to its capacity to keep the mill supplied with logs for day and night cutting. Forty-five cars of logs per day are being hauled to the mill. Since the company has started up its gang saw it has been found that the logging road cannot supply lumber fast enough, and the Brooks-Scanlon company has begun to ship in logs over the Virginia branch of the Eastern Minnesota road. The log receipts over this road from the vicinity of Adberg and Bunden are about ten cars per day. The lumber company recently bought 5,000,000 feet of these logs from P. F. Murray, and the logs are to be cut up at the mill before the river is open for rafting purposes.

Scrofula

This root of many evils—Glandular tumors, abscesses, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions, sore ears, inflamed eyelids, rickets, dyspepsia, catarrh, readiness to catch cold and inability to get rid of it easily, paleness, nervousness and other ailments including the consumptive tendency—Can be completely and permanently removed, no matter how young or old the sufferer.

Hood's Sarsaparilla was given the daughter of Miss Verney, Wauwatosa, N. Y., who had broken out with scrofula sores all over her face and head. The first bottle helped her and when she had taken six the sores were all healed and her face was smooth. He writes that she has never shown any sign of the scrofula returning.

ARE USING MANY MEN

Interests at Head of the Lakes Employing Many Machinists.

Eastern Minnesota Road Is Scouring County
For Them.

Large Number of Men to Be Employed Throughout Season.

There is a big demand at the head of the lakes for experienced machinists, particularly for men to work in the railroad shops. The Eastern Minnesota Railway company, whose shops are in West Superior, is sending all over the country in its efforts to procure enough workmen to take care of the work in the shops. There is not so much work now on the equipment actually in service, but there is a rush of work in getting the equipment ready to employ an army of workmen at the shops, and the repair work after operations are actually under way will require a still larger force.

The Eastern Minnesota road is now paying $2 per day for experienced men, the working day being ten hours long. The shops are running steadily at night, holidays and Sundays in the effort to keep up with the work and the men are paid for a time and a half when they work overtime. With the opening of the Northern Pacific roundhouse and machine shop in this city, which it is expected will occur early in the coming summer, there will be a still larger demand for experienced machinists, although the Northern Pacific company will, doubtless, bring a large part of its force here from Brainerd.

BIRD SHOOT.

Warren Mendenhall Wins
Out in the Handicap Contest.

It took a second contest in the live bird shoot to determine which of the crack shots at the head of the lakes should represent the Duluth and Superior interests at the Great American Handicap shoot at Kansas City next month. Warren Mendenhall, of this city, won out in the second contest, which occurred yesterday.

In the Saturday shoot three of the shooters tied for first place. Mendenhall, Storey and Kennedy, of West Superior, each shot twenty-four out of the twenty-five birds allotted in the contest. A number of the other marksmen shot 22 out of 25 and others made nearly as good scores.

In the second contest between the shooters that tied in Saturday's shoot, Storey missed his third bird, that is, the bird, though hit, managed to get over the line. Kennedy missed his seventh bird, leaving Mendenhall in first place.

The Saturday contest was witnessed by Humane Agent Withrow and Walter Turle, a prominent member of the Humane society, and it is said that the matter of live bird shooting will be brought up at the next meeting of the society.

The contest on Saturday is the first live bird shoot that the head of the lakes shooters have participated in for nearly two years. The birds were brought here from St. Paul.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured.

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh of the blood.

Campaign For County Offices Is But Few Months Away.

September 16 Is the Date
For the Primary Election.

Congressional Candidates to Be Nominated at Primary Election.

This is the year of a general election. This means that there will be a campaign for office during the coming summer and that party lines will again be closely drawn and the man who believes that there are too many elections will find more argument to back his contention. The campaign during the coming summer promises to be an unusually interesting one. It will be the first time that congressional and county candidates have been selected under the primary election law. The old delegate convention is no more. Each voter will go to the polls and vote for a candidate of his choice, which in this case will be the primary election, and will vote there for the candidates he supports from the top to the bottom of the ticket. He will not go there and vote for a couple of delegates who will go to a county convention and nominate whom they please.

candidates for the Republican nomination for county offices in this county. A nomination is equivalent to an election and the desire to get before the people will be strong among the men who have a hankering for serving the people in office that pay high salaries. The time for holding this primary election is not so far distant. Sept. 16 is the date. This means that declarations of intention to run for nomination for office must be filed by about Aug. 27—within a day or two of that date.

CONFESSES.

Charles Woods, Tells How Charley Yim Was Murdered.

Charles S. Woods, the negro who was arrested in St. Paul last Saturday, charged with the murder on Christmas day of Charlie Yim, the West Superior Chinese laundryman, was put in the sweat-box by the West Superior detectives Saturday evening, and made a confession, in which he admitted that he was an accomplice to the man that struck down the laundryman. Woods charges Peter Jackson, another colored man living in West Superior, with the killing, and to the detectives described the manner in which the crime was committed. Woods says Jackson and himself went to the laundry on Third street, about 11 o'clock on the night of the tragedy; that Jackson went in while he remained on guard at the door. He claims that Jackson struck Yim over the head with a piece of gas pipe wound with old suspenders as the latter was fixing the fire. The first blow dazed the Chinaman, who began calling for help, when Jackson struck him twice to silence his cries. The murderers then took all the money they could find in a hasty search and fled, for they feared Yim's cries had been heard. Their flight amounted to less than $5, although the authorities later found $140 in the building. It is supposed to be this money that the murderers were after.

Woods belongs in this city and formerly occupied a shack down on St. Croix avenue, where, it is said, that he fixed up the club that was used to kill Yim.

TWO KILLED.

Woodsmen Lose Their Lives at Mitchell &
McClure Camps.

Two woodsmen were killed at their work Saturday.

Michael Mullen, employed at Mitchell & McClure's camp No. 7, about forty miles up the Duluth & Iron Range road, was the first killed.

He started a log off a load on skids, and stumbled and fell before he could get out of the way. The log rolled down on him. He got up and apparently was not badly hurt. He only walked a short distance, however, when he fell and shortly afterward died.

Edward Floyd, employed by the same company in a camp near Barker, was struck on the head by a falling log and killed almost instantly.

Late Saturday night the two bodies were brought to the city. That of Mr. Mullen was removed to Tibbets' undertaking rooms, where it is held pending a search for friends or relatives.

The body of Mr. Floyd was taken to Durkan & Crawford's undertaking rooms and from there forwarded to Saginaw, Mich., for interment.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and kidneys strong and active. Burdock Blood Bitters does it.

Inspection of Property.

The property of the Duluth National Guard companies will be inspected in the Armory on May 1, by Capt. W. W. Price, of St. Paul, assistant inspector general.

As announced in these columns some time ago, the regular inspection of the companies will occur at Camp Lakeview next June.

ARRIVAL OF HENRY

The Prince Landed at New York Sunday Noon.

Was Received Down the Bay By Admiral Evans.

A Royal Welcome Was Given the Distinguished Guest.

New York, Feb. 23.—Prince Henry of Prussia, representative of his brother, the emperor of Germany, at the launching of the latter's American-built yacht, reached New York yesterday and was cordially welcomed as the guest of the nation.

The land batteries that guard the outer harbor sounded the first greeting in a peal of salute to the prince and his suite, and the guns of the special naval squadron assembled in his honor responded to the salute, there were ver-out their salute. When that ceremony was over, the Kron Prinz was stopped, and the Nina hauled around to her port side, and Admiral Evans and his staff boarded her. The passengers were gathered on the main deck, and there was a hearty cheer as the admiral came up the gangway. Admiral Evans was escorted forward at once, and in the quarters of Capt. A. Richter, master of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm, he and the prince met. The prince came forward, and taking the hand of the admiral, shook it warmly.

"I am very glad to see you, sir," said the admiral. "Everybody in the United States is waiting to welcome you. It is my pleasure, sir, to formally greet you on their behalf."

"I thank you, sir, and through you, the people of your country," responded the prince. "I am very glad to be here, and on this splendid day. The emperor directed me to convey his compliments to you, admiral, and I do so with very great pleasure."

After a brief halt the liner moved ahead, and at 10:30 was abreast of the special squadron off Tompkinsville. The German standard was run to the foretop of the Kron Prinz and its appearance gave signal to the American fleet to salute. The San Francisco, Cincinnati, Olympia and Illinois lay in perfect alignment.

The prince stood at attention on the bridge and back of him were Admiral Evans and his staff and the numerous suite of the German visitor. The prince and his staff, especially the admiral, were warmly welcomed by the American admiral and his staff.

The prince said he was very anxious to visit this at the earliest moment.

The first of the large crowds was met at the battery and from there on up to Recreation pier, where the largest crowd of all had gathered, every pier to which admission was demanded

Von Baudissin, commander of the Hohenzollern, and his officers. Meanwhile the band from the Kron Prinz Wilhelm was playing the German national air.

The first callers to arrive after he had boarded the Hohenzollern were Gen. Brooke, U. S. A., accompanied by two aides, Admiral Barker and his aide, Capt. West, representing the United States navy, followed and then came the German ambassador at Washington and his brilliant suite of military and naval attaches and secretaries, and the military attaché of the German embassy at Mexico, Lieut. Burtis. Following the German ambassador came the special representatives of the president of the United States, headed by Dr. Hill, first assistant secretary of state, and including Gen. Corbin, Col. Hinchman and Commander Cowles, the brother-in-law of the president.

Capt. Nathan Sargent then called on the prince as the special representative of Admiral Dewey.

The captain said he had been sent by the admiral especially to express to the prince the admiral's regret at not being able to greet him personally and to pay his respects. The list of callers was ended with the mayor's party, which included himself and his private secretary. The German consul general at New York and his suite formed a part of the German ambassador's party.

About an hour was spent by the prince in receiving his callers and in making an admiral's inspection of the troops and crew of the Hohenzollern. Then followed lunch.

The prince invited to this luncheon those of the American staff whom he represented the navy, and besides these, there were the land and naval members of the prince's suite and the members of the German embassy at Washington.

On Prince Henry's right sat the highest representative of the emperor in this country, Ambassador von Holleben, and on his left Admiral Evans. Next to the ambassador on the prince's right sat Capt. Converse, of the Illinois. The other Americans present at the luncheon were Lieut. Chapin and Ensign Evans, son of Admiral Evans.

The luncheon, which was informal, was finished about 3 o'clock, and then the prince answered to his guests that he would repay in the afternoon all his official visits.

The prince landed the tug Nina at 3:30 to repay his calls. He was accompanied by one aide, and by Admiral Evans and bal greetings from the representatives of President Roosevelt, the army, the navy and the city of New York, and a great crowd lined the way into the city to see and cheer the sailor-prince of Germany.

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, commander of the special squadron, and honorary aide to the prince, left the flagship Illinois at 9:40 o'clock in the naval tug Nina. With him were Capt. G. A. Converse, his chief of staff, Flag Lieut. Frederick Chapin, Ensign Frank T. Evans, aide, and Capt. Von Roubor Paschwitz, naval attaché at the Washington embassy of the German government. They were all in full-dress uniform. The Nina met the Kron Prinz Wilhelm beyond Fort Wadsworth, and swung around on the starboard side of the liner, steaming up the bay.

Prince Henry, attired in the uniform of an admiral of the German navy, and surrounded by his naval and military staff in brilliant uniforms, stood on the bridge of the liner.

As the naval tug drew over to the side of the steamship, Prince Henry was partly filled. The number of salutes increased and the welcome was a noisy one. The crossing ferries sounded their whistles and the ever-increasing fleet of tug boats kept up their noise. The big liners in port were dressed, and the German colors were displayed at several points along the harbor shores. The prince frequently went to the side, and either saluted or waved his hand in acknowledgment. To the Americans present he expressed his appreciation of the warm welcome extended to him.

The last greeting in the run up the river was from the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, which is to be the home of the prince while in New York. She wore a full dress of flags and her white paint on her hull and masts shone in the brilliant sun. Her jacksies were new uniforms and straw hats and manned the sides, while the officers in full dress uniform were drawn up on the deck. The prince smiled at the sight of her and again stepping to end of the rail saluted. The jacksies of the Hohenzollern gave a lusty cheer and the prince smiled and saluted again.

Five miles north of Kippack, a village twelve miles from Peoria, early Sunday, a woman named J. Anderson, an ex-brained her husband while asleep in bed. She then placed the muzzle of a revolver against her temple and blew her own brains out, falling dead. The couple had been employed as assistants on the farm. Three small children witnessed the tragedy.

Charles A. Anderson, of Whiting, Ia., has filed a claim with the state department at Washington for $30,000 damages for the death of his sister, Hilda S. Anderson, who was killed by the Boxers in Mongolia province, China, in 1900.

Two of Mr. Anderson's sisters were killed in China during the late uprising against foreigners, but only one was a subject of the United States, the other sister being a citizen of Sweden. Hilda S. Anderson was naturalized at Rockford, Ill., in 1897, and went to China as a missionary for the Christian alliance.

Angered because his persistent demands for a dowry sufficient to give him a start in housekeeping were refused, and seeking revenge on the family of his sweetheart, George Childrose, a stenographer, Sunday, shot and killed Henry Meyer, the girl's father, and slightly wounded Emma Meyer, her sister. Her mother and another spectator escaped with shots intended for her by rushing into the street. Then, believing he had killed the entire family, Childrose sent a bullet through his own brain and fell dead at the door of his sweetheart's room.

The coroner is investigating the sudden death. At Cincinnati, of Paul French, a Frenchman, 50 years of age, who died of morphine poisoning. Jennie Pailoux, who came from France with French many years ago, and who was with him at the time of his death, is very low from the effects of an overdose of the same drug. She denies that they attempted self-destruction. The couple had lived sympathously here for several years, and were reputed to be in receipt regularly of large remittances from France.

HIS ASHES.

Queer Disposition of Remains of Noted Scientist.

Cincinnati, Feb. 24.—After the remains of Dr. Daniel Schuyler Young were cremated yesterday, it was learned that he had provided for the ashes to be taken to his old boyhood home in Montgomery county, N. Y., where his wife was buried; one-fourth to be buried on her grave, one-fourth over the path to his old school home, one-fourth at his old home and one-fourth shot out of a gun at the old homestead. This specific disposition of the ashes caused

A Bad Disease

There is a certain disease that has come down to us through many centuries and is older than history itself, yet very few outside of those who have learned of its nature or experience know anything of its nature or characteristics. At first a little ulcer or sore appears, then glands of the neck or groins swell; pimples break out on the breast, back or some other part of the body and fill with yellow pustular matter; the mouth and throat become sore and the tongue is at all times badly coated. Headaches are frequent, and muscles and joints throb and hurt, especially during damp, rainy weather. These are some of the symptoms of this most loathsome of all diseases, Contagious Blood Poison.

This strange poison does not affect all alike; some are literally eaten up with it within a short time after being inoculated, while others show but slight evidence of any taint for a long time after exposure, but its tendency in every case is to complete destruction of the physical system, sooner or later.

S. S. S. is a safe and infallible cure for this bad disease—the only antidote for this specific poison. It cures Contagious Blood Poison in every form and stage thoroughly and permanently. S. S. S. contains no Mercury, Potash or other harmful materials, but is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy, and we offer $1,000.00 reward for proof that it is not.

OUR MEDICAL was established in 1872, and is doing a noble work in relieving suffering. Give our physicians a short history of your case and get their advice. This will cost you nothing, and what you say will be held in strictest confidence. With their help and a copy of our book on Contagious Blood Poison you can manage your own case and cure yourself at home.

Of Emperor Not Approved By Minister of Interior.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—During the course of today's discussion in the lower house of the Prussian diet of the non-confirmation by the emperor of the election of Herr Kauffmann as second burgomaster of Berlin, the minister of the interior, Baron von Hammerstein, practically admitted his personal disapproval of Emperor William's actions. Herr Richter, the radical leader, had kept the house in roars of laughter by a caustic attack on the minister of the interior, whose speech of yesterday he declared to be full of contradictions and demonstrating that he did not know his own opinions much less that of the emperor. The minister's responsibility, Herr Richter said, was a Prussian tradition, but Baron Hammerstein was desirous of escaping therefrom. If the ministers had nothing to do but to countersign royal decrees they did not differ from ordinary clerks.

Referring to a remark by the minister yesterday, Herr Richter said he thanked God the radicals had not yet reached the point of matching their strength against that of the king. He also thanked God that he had not so valued a minister of the interior. But recent ill-feelings between the municipality and the crown had made bad blood and had only improved the prospects of social democracy.

In a later rejoinder, the minister of the interior, refused to be drawn into the debate, but he committed himself to the somewhat unexpected statement that he was "prepared, in accordance with Prussian tradition to take the odium of a royal decision which was not agreeable to himself," and that "he would leave the house to draw its own conclusions" of his conduct.

CLARK SELLS.

Disposes of Group of Mines For Millions.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Butte, Mont., says: United States Senator W. A. Clark has sold his Colusa-Parrott group of mines to the Amalgamated or Anaconda company. The consideration is withheld from the public, but the price was understood to be in the millions. The purchase by the Amalgamated company was made as a settlement of litigation between the Anaconda and Senator Clark's Colusa-Parrott company. The great Anaconda mine was involved in the controversy, it having been charged that there was an union between that vein and the Colusa-Parrott vein, and from the Anaconda had been mining on the Colusa-Parrott property. The litigation, it is said, will now be discontinued.

FUTURITY

Race For 1904 Will Be a Most Valuable Event.

New York, Feb. 24.—The futurity of 1904 promises to be one of the most valuable of that series of rich turf fixtures. The Coney Island Jockey club, sponsor for the great American classic event, has received 148 nominations for the race.

The entry list promises to eclipse all previous records. One hundred and twenty-eight breeders of thoroughbreds in this country entered their best mares. The foals of the matrons nominated will be eligible to race. All the best stallions in the country are represented.

J. B. Haggin, who owns more thoroughbreds than any man in the world, is the heaviest nominator, naming 198. Milton Young is a good second with 110 entries. W. C. Whitney, who has been on the turf only a short time, makes an excellent showing with 73 nominations, which places him third on the entry list. August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey club, is represented by 65 of his choicely-bred mares.

THREE KILLED

In Wreck on Northwestern Near Antigo, Wis.

Antigo, Wis., Feb. 24.—A head-on collision between two freight trains occurred late Saturday night, near Summit lake, on the Northwestern road, sixteen miles north of this city. Fred Lyons and Roy Middaugh, brakemen, and Bert Nightseer, fireman, were instantly killed, and Harry Hogan, engineer, badly hurt.

Twenty cars of lumber, logs and mer-

A LEGACY OF THE GRIP
Is often a run-down system. Weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys, the greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of stomach, liver and kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system, and restore to health after suffering from an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c. WHY?

IS ELECTRIC LIGHT BEST?

Because it is healthy, clean, pure and brilliant.

HEALTHY—

It has no odor. Prof. Thompson states that one cubic foot of gas consumes as much oxygen as four cubic feet of electricity.

CLEAN—

As electric light work, no danger of suffocation.

CHEAP—

It costs a little more in turning on lights when not in use, it is cheaper than any other illuminant.

STEAMSHIP KRONPRINZ WILHELM, ON WHICH PRINCE HENRY CAME TO THIS COUNTRY

and Admiral Evans caught sight of each other and exchanged formal salutes. The distance from the steamer to the tug was too great for conversation, however. As the two vessels, with a flotilla of tugs and official craft, moved in past Fort Wadsworth, the first of the salutes of twenty-one guns was fired.

As the first gun sounded, the prince advanced to the end of the bridge of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm and stood at attention. As he passed the big American flag floating over the fortifications he touched his cap in salute. Likewise, the members of his suite did. The flag of the jackstaff of the Kron Prinz was dipped, and the German naval band accompanying the prince played "The Star Spangled Banner." The guns of Fort Wadsworth were not silent before those across the Narrows, at Fort Hamilton, boomed

The Kron Prinz was abreast of the pier at noon and was quickly warped into her berth, but there was some delay in getting a gangway arranged. There was no demonstration at Recreation pier, for the prince was not seen by the great crowd that choked up the end of West Thirty-fourth street. Cavalry squadron A, of the National Guard of New York, and a heavy force of police kept the pier clear.

Prince Henry disembarked at 12:55 p. m., at that moment walking down the decorated gangway from the Kron Prinz Wilhelm into the elaborately decorated gangway and arch to the gang plank of the Hohenzollern, which had been decorated in the German colors and was covered half its length. STORY BY YEOMANS Touching Mention of Him as a Presidential Candidate.

Discharged Census Employee Who Assumed Threatening Attitude.

Tailor Who Knew the Results of Army Examinations.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is a favorite pastime of some editors of party newspapers to name presidential candidates two years or more ahead of the dates for the quadrennial conventions. One of these editors out in Iowa has selected Hon. J. D. Yeomans, one of the interstate commerce commission for the Democratic nomination in 1904.

"What have you to say on that subject?" was the question propounded to Mr. Yeomans when his attention was called to the article referred to. Mr. Yeomans usually answers such queries by telling a story. He did not depart from his custom in this case. "Some years ago," he said, "I was building a railroad out in Northern Michigan. In the construction gang was an athletic Dutchman, named Jake Spruett. Jake liked to brag of his powers as a jumper. He made a bet that he could jump over a hill about seventy-five feet high. In order to get up the necessary momentum he started on a run about five miles back—and when he reached the jumping place he was too tired to jump at all."

The completion of much of the work of the twelve census necessitated much distress in many of the census districts. The dismissed employees, but to the congressmen who secured the places for them originally. In most of the districts those who have been dropped from the roll have gone to their friends in congress and have pleaded for help to get in somewhere else. But occasionally there have been threats instead of pleadings.

One of the threatening kind appeared at the capital a day or two ago. He was a man who came from a small village in New York state in 1899 and begged for a temporary place, saying that he would be entirely satisfied if permitted to stay in Washington one winter on a small salary. He got a place through the efforts of his representative in the house. That was two years ago. The other day he was discharged.

He went to the capitol at once, sought out the man who had befriended him, explained the situation, and demanded: "What are you going to do about it?" "I can do nothing," responded the congressman. "I told you at the time that the position was a temporary one, and it is impossible to have you reinstated."

The ex-employee grew angry at once: "If you don't get my place back for me I'll go back home and do everything in my power to beat you in the country this fall," he exclaimed. Then the member lost patience. "Take the next train," he said. "Get right up there, take off your coat and work against me all you can. Work until the polls close on election day and then go to the devil. Start quick! If you don't get out of here in ten seconds I'll help you on your journey from the toe of my boot." The member said other things not to be reproduced and the man went.

There is a well defined suspicion in the minds of many young men who have tried to get commissions in the army during the past three years that the applicants must not of necessity assure the desired appointment. Bearing on this is the story told by a Western representative. "A young friend of mine," he said, "was ordered for examination before a board assembled at a post not very far from New York. He came after I went with him to the adjutant general and we were both greatly surprised to be informed that the applicant had failed. The young man was very wise. As we walked away from the adjutant general's office he reached the adjutant general's office and he would drop into his tailcoat and command the order for a uniform which he had prepared."

When he explained his desire to the adjutant general he believed that what they call themselves—the tailor inquired the name of the establishment to which they friend proposed to transfer his patronage.

IMPROVING CAPITAL

Great Projects Are Already Under Way at Washington.

Improvements to Cost More Than Thirty Million Dollars.

Will Be Carried Out On Lines of Burnham Commission.

Washington, Feb. 24.—For the next few years the hammer of the mechanic and the artisan will be heard vigorously in the city. Projects are already under way or reasonably sure to be before long which will cost upwards of $30,000,000. These will all be carried out along the lines laid down by the Burnham commission for the beautification of this capital, and while no formal vote of congress is expected or desired in ratification of the plan, the expenditure of such sums in consonance with it accomplishes the same result.

The first object which the Burnham commission aimed at was the removal of the railroad tracks from the main thoroughfares of the city. The plan has been passed at the last congress, before the commission undertook its work, to provide for the removal of the tracks from the main thoroughfares of the city. M'GOVERN WON FIGHT

Defeated Sullivan After Fifteen Rounds of Lively Battle.

One of the Warmest Contests Ever Seen In Ring.

Former Featherweight Champion Regains Lost Laurels.

Louisville, Feb. 24.—Terry McGovern defeated Dave Sullivan Saturday night in the arena of the Southern Athletic club after fifteen rounds of a desperate fighting as was ever seen in any ring. From the first tap of the gong until the end it was a slam-bang, hammer and tongs nearly every second, both men working away with all the energy they possessed.

There has seldom been seen a battle where the issue was more in doubt in one round than it would be Sullivan, and in the next McGovern. Then Sullivan would come strong again and even things up once more.

McGovern, knowing that the fight meant his position in the front rank as a fighter, was after his man every second. In the majority of the rounds he was the aggressive and Sullivan was forced to be defensive. He put up a wonderful fight, however, and through a blunder of his own that he was knocked out. When the fight was over, McGovern was the victor.

OLD-TIME TRAGEDY.

Loss of Whaling Ship Essex Is Recalled.

The recent arrival of the Morning Star, one of the few remaining whaling ships engaged in the business, recalls to mind the days when New Bedford and Nantucket were the famous whaling centers of the world. Back in the early part of the last century seventy-two whaling ships sailed from Nantucket port. Among these was the ill-fated Essex, which sailed Aug. 2, 1820, bound for the Pacific ocean, says the Boston Herald.

The commencement of a series of mishaps and disasters occurred on the second day out, when a sudden squall accompanied by lightning, completely destroyed two boats and stove a third. The damage to the ship, however, was slight, and she was enabled to proceed on the voyage, making fair headway.

On Aug. 30, Flores, one of the Essex's boats, was sighted, where the Essex lay in port two days. Here Capt. Pollard purchased a whaleboat from the survivors of the American ship Archimedes, then recently wrecked off the island.

Severe gales were encountered off Cape Horn. Five weeks the Essex buffeted with wind and wave. Finally, however, she succeeded in doubling the cape and crept up the western coast of South America, arriving Jan. 15, 1820, at St. Mary's island, off the Chilean coast.

After a delay of almost nine months for repairs the whaler weighed anchor and set sail. It seemed now as if the end of the mishaps had been reached. Whales might be sighted any day, look-outs stationed at the mast-head, eagerly scanned the horizon. Past delays and disappointments were forgotten. The spirits of all on board were buoyed up by hope, but alas—not for long. For the ship was reported as having sailed all these days, while in fact, it had sailed 400 miles and longitude 119 West. The vessel was destined a week in port while the leak was being repaired.

On Oct. 7, 1820, the Essex weighed anchor for the last time. She was bound in cruising the Southern Pacific waters on a fruitless search for whales. It was not until Dec. 15, 1820, that the vessel was sighted, while in latitude 40 north and longitude 119 West. That the welcome cry from the lookout aloft rang out, "she's here!" was a large school of whales to southward.

Three boats were hastily manned, the first commanding officer, Matthew P. Joy, the first and second mates. Each boat was soon on the water, and the commander, Mr. Chace, was in the bow, with lance poised to give the death blow.

OLD-TIME TRAGEDY.

Loss of Whaling Ship Essex Is Recalled.

The recent arrival of the Morning Star, one of the few remaining whaling ships engaged in the business, recalls to mind the days when New Bedford and Nantucket were the famous whaling centers of the world. Back in the early part of the last century seventy-two whaling ships sailed from Nantucket port. Among these was the ill-fated Essex, which sailed Aug. 2, 1820, bound for the Pacific ocean, says the Boston Herald.

The commencement of a series of mishaps and disasters occurred on the second day out, when a sudden squall accompanied by lightning, completely destroyed two boats and stove a third. The damage to the ship, however, was slight, and she was enabled to proceed on the voyage, making fair headway.

On Aug. 30, Flores, one of the Essex's boats, was sighted, where the Essex lay in port two days. Here Capt. Pollard purchased a whaleboat from the survivors of the American ship Archimedes, then recently wrecked off the island.

Severe gales were encountered off Cape Horn. Five weeks the Essex buffeted with wind and wave. Finally, however, she succeeded in doubling the cape and crept up the western coast of South America, arriving Jan. 15, 1820, at St. Mary's island, off the Chilean coast.

After a delay of almost nine months for repairs the whaler weighed anchor and set sail. It seemed now as if the end of the mishaps had been reached. Whales might be sighted any day, look-outs stationed at the mast-head, eagerly scanned the horizon. Past delays and disappointments were forgotten. The spirits of all on board were buoyed up by hope, but alas—not for long. For the ship was reported as having sailed all these days, while in fact, it had sailed 400 miles and longitude 119 West. The vessel was destined a week in port while the leak was being repaired.

On Oct. 7, 1820, the Essex weighed anchor for the last time. She was bound in cruising the Southern Pacific waters on a fruitless search for whales. It was not until Dec. 15, 1820, that the vessel was sighted, while in latitude 40 north and longitude 119 West. That the welcome cry from the lookout aloft rang out, "she's here!" was a large school of whales to southward.

Three boats were hastily manned, the first commanding officer, Matthew P. Joy, the first and second mates. Each boat was soon on the water, and the commander, Mr. Chace, was in the bow, with lance poised to give the death blow.

The 14th and Capt. Pollard divided the remaining turtle flesh and biscuit between the two boats. The boat which carried the 14th and Capt. Pollard, and Charles Shorter died the following week. The last shreds of food had been eaten, and the bodies of the two dead seamen were eagerly devoured by members of both crews. Two other boats, the 15th and the 16th, were also running low on food. The members in the third boat being now nearly reduced to skeletons, the remaining food was divided among them. The morning of Feb. 1, 1821, broke on a cloudy day. The 14th and 15th, huddled together in a drifting whaleboat, waited for death to overtake them. Every vestige of their recent companions had been consumed. They remained but one course to keep the spark of life long alive. In weak voices they talked of the dreadful thing, and finally agreed to draw lots. Owen Collin was the one chosen to be the food of his mates. He submitted to his fate with fortitude, and was shot by Charles Ramsdale, chosen by lot to do the deed. On the 11th Brazilia Ray died.

The captain and Charles Ramsdale, the only survivors of the two boats, were picked up unconscious on March 17, in south latitude 37 degrees off the side of St. Mary, by the ship Dauphin, hailing from Nantucket, the same port from which the Essex had sailed nearly two years previous, and 117 days from the time the Essex was disabled. It is said to note that the commander of the Dauphin, Capt. Coffin, was a relative of the seaman by the same name who had been shot by his mates for food.

The trials of Wright, Chapple and Weeks, the three seamen left by their comrades on barren Ducie's island, were held on the last chapter of this sea drama. After the secret provisions left by the boats had run out, the three men lived on sea gulls and wild berries. While exploring the interior of the island they discovered a tree, the trunk of which, carved on a tree, was the name of the ship Elizabeth, of London, while within the tree trunk was a skeleton lying together. In their weak condition the sight proved too much, and their tottering minds gave way. They lived after that they could scarcely relate when rescued by the ship Surry, bound for New Ireland. The shipwrecked creatures had spent four weary months on the island, and were all but dead when picked up.

TAX BILL DEFEATED

Proposed Law Fails of Passage in the House.

Vote Was 54 In Favor and 60 Against Measure.

State Capitol Bureau.

St. Paul, Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The tax bill was killed in the house of representatives this morning by a vote of 54 for and 60 against the measure. The vote came shortly after the noon hour, and the settlement of the question that has vexed the legislature for more than three weeks was greeted with a cheer. The friends of the bill were despondent, and some of them were heard to say they were ashamed to go home. Many senators were present, and they joined in the cheer at the action of the house in relieving them of responsibility on the bill.

The entire morning was occupied in more debating. It was supposed last night that the talking on the bill was about ended, but a fresh start was taken this morning, and the minutes were eaten up until, to the impatient house, it looked as though the vote were to be put over another day. Toward the end of the session, the question after each speaker subsided, but everybody that wished to speak had his say, nevertheless.

Mr. Sweet, of Hennepin county, started off by talking in favor of the bill, saying that the representatives should vote for the interests of the state and not for the interests of any special portion of it, or any class of people.

Mr. Schurman, of Ramsey county, wanted unanimous consent to reconsider the Oppenauer amendment adopted yesterday, cutting down the price paid the publisher for publishing delinquent tax lists, but Mr. Laybourn objected.

Mr. Jackson, of Ramsey, made a speech for the bill, and Mr. Hickey, of the same county, made one against it. He said he would have voted for the bill before it was amended, but he could not now. He spoke particularly of its effect upon farm lands, which he said the measure would take in assessed valuation from three to six times.

Mr. Roberts, of Hennepin, and Mr. Armstrong, of the same county, spoke for the bill, after which Mr. Sageng, of Otter Tail, made one of the strongest speeches that has been made against the bill. He spoke for the element that had been alienated by the Wallace amendments, and said that the talk of taking the crippled bill came with ill grace from those who helped to cripple it. They say it is the best thing they could get, but they do not know whether it is or not. The bill's goal and weak-kneed friends had not heart enough to test their strength, but mutilated the bill by striking out its most essential features.

Mr. Peterson, of Minneapolis, made a final plea for the measure, after which Mr. Anderson, of Winona, replied to some misrepresentations of his stand that had been made. Mr. Roberts spoke against it briefly, after which the call for the question came so thick that it was impossible to postpone the vote any longer, and it was taken at 12:10. A call of the house was demanded, and it was found that there were 114 present, only four being absent, and all of them were ill and excused. There were Messrs. Benbrook, Daggett, D. Peterson and Potter.

On the roll call the vote was as follows:

For the bill—Armstrong, Alley, G. W. Armstrong, Babcock, Bean, Brubaker, Burns, Bush, Cooke, Dooley, Downing, Dursey, Galney, Galt, Ganrud, Grass, Harden, Haugen, Haugland, Hendricks, Herbert, Hilary, Hillman, Hinton, Huggan, Huhn, Hunt, Jackson, Jacobson, Johnson, Larson, Lee, Lommen, W. Nelson, Neuhauer, Nichols, Nolan, Nyquist, O'Neil, Ostrum, J. A. Peterson, Rapp, Roberts, Sander, Schwarg, Stark, Stevenson, Stites, Swanson, Sweet, Tursen, Wallace, Ward, Wilder, Mr. Speaker.

Against the bill—Alford, Allen, Anderson, J. A. Armstrong, Barreau, Benson, Berg, Boasworth, Bury, Butler, Cunniff, Dobbin, Dunn, Feeney, Ferris, East, Galney, Heustead, Hickey, Hurd, Hynes, Johnson, Kelly, Lane, Laybourn, Lemke, Mahood, Mallory, Mark, Marston, Miller, Morley, Morris, H. K. Nelson, Norman, Noyes, Osoebok, Oppenauer, Pennington, S. D. Peterson, Phillips, Plovman, Pope, Pugh, Rich, Rider, Riley, Ryan, Sageng, Scherf, Schurman, Schultz, Sikorski, Smith, Smolander, Stites, Wald, Washburn, Wells, Whitford, Wilcox.

The Democrats divided on the measure. Tomorrow an attempt will be made to reconsider the vote, and the friends of the bill will try to get enough members to come over to carry the reconsideration. Failing in this, bills will be put in to incorporate some of the leading features of the law into the present system.

The senate held a short and uninteresting session this morning. Both branches adjourned until tomorrow.

METEOR IS LAUNCHED

Kaiser's Yacht Consigned to Native Element.

Released and Christened Fifty Thousand Horse Power By Miss Roosevelt.

New York, Feb. 25.—In the presence of a brilliant assemblage, amidst cheering and the roar of cannon, but in a drizzling rain, the German emperor's new schooner-yacht, Meteor, was launched from Shooter's Island today.

Unlike the weather, the arrangements were perfect and no untoward incident marred the occasion. The president, Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt, Prince Henry and the distinguished party accompanying them were enthusiastically cheered on arriving at the platform built just back of the bow of the Meteor. Without delay, after greetings had been exchanged, Miss Roosevelt stepped forward and taking hold of a silver covered bottle containing German champagne, broke it on the side of the vessel. Immediately she seized a silver axe and severed the rope which released the weights holding the Meteor. The vessel went gracefully into the water with the American flag breaking out at the taffrail. American and German national airs were played and from the scores of craft containing excursionists, came enthusiastic cheering.

Miss Roosevelt wore a dress of sapphire blue velvet, a large black hat trimmed with ostrich feathers and a fur muff and boa.

New York, Feb. 25.—The special train bearing President Roosevelt from Washington to the launching of Emperor William's yacht Meteor reached Jersey City at 6:40 a. m.

The president remained on board until the arrival of the prince's train, a few moments after 8 o'clock. A cylinder head on the engine of Prince Henry's special blew out and the train was more than an hour late in reaching Jersey City.

Two Bottles Cured Her

One of a Thousand Nurses Who Praise the Wonderful Work of PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Miss Teresa Cartel, the beautiful Sister who won so much credit by her untiring efforts in nursing the wounded after the Maine explosion, is one of more than a thousand nurses who have testified to the wonderful results of Paine's Celery Compound among their sick, debilitated and exhausted patients.

Sister Cartel herself was cured of one of the most serious affections of the liver by only two bottles of this marvelous restorative.

Paine's Celery Compound has accomplished more in behalf of suffering humanity than any other discovery in the history of medical science. It has rescued from a sick bed thousands of despairing victims of disease. Men and women in all walks of life have been permanently cured by its use. Old and young, the feeble and the infirm, praise its curative powers. It is the one true nerve tonic. If taken in time, it never fails to restore to activity weakened kidneys and a sluggish liver. The body has been made foul and unhealthy with impure blood and bile that originate in a diseased liver. Chills, jaundice, fatty degeneration, cancer and dropsy often result from a diseased liver. The appetite is impaired, the blood is filled with poison-

HAS ITS DEFECTS

"The Higher Education" Is Discussed By the Unity Club.

W. G. Crosby Finds This Country Lacking In Original Research.

Some Sharp Remarks Passed on the Present Commercialism.

Important defects in the higher education of this country were charged at the Unity club last evening with responsibility for lack of literary production, nose and original research.

"The Higher Education" was the theme of the evening's discussion. Mrs. C. M. Rice led with a gracefully written and finished paper treating on the need and value of higher education. She traced to its possession the power of a better judgment in all things, through the influence of a broader mind. Trained fingers and eyes and a trained observation, she held, were essential to accurately judge differences and emotions were necessary to finer sensitivities. The importance of forethought was pointed out and its relation to trained thought and imagination was traced. Man was so constituted that content with what is commonest, that he must continually strive to bring out what is best in him. The higher education, Mrs. Rice believed, should begin in the home, should be carried on in the schools and rounded in life.

With such strong influences from commercialism, Mrs. Rice believed that the ideal was needed. Life itself is a good educator, but a slow one. The object of the higher education was to make good the defects of human nature. So much was expected of the education, and that is why we are disappointed in its results. Graduate students make the man academically any more than it does actually. Higher education worked for security of mind and habits to the ability to discover between the good and the bad.

Mrs. Rice spoke of Dr. S. Weir Mitchell's work on the mind and the emotions that he had seen many wrecks come ashore. She confessed that she believed a valid objection to the higher education, if broadening of the mind really meant a narrowing of the heart, for woman is looked up to as the saint and the ideal.

Mrs. Crosby pointed out in a most thoughtful discussion of the subject how the higher education was the least of the ways in which this claim might be justified. She believed that the education of the mind was the least of the ways in which this claim might be justified.

The best physicians openly endorse it, use it, recommend it and authorize the public use of their statements that Paine's Celery Compound, in case after case, cures rheumatism and kindred diseases, purifies the blood, regulates the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys and rejuvenates the fagged out or diseased nervous system.

Thousands of letters have been received by the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound and by newspapers and medical journals from men and women in every walk of life, all telling one experience—the immediate relief and perfect cure effected by Paine's Celery Compound.

What reason can any person have who is not in perfect health for not at least giving this greatest of all remedies a trial?

ICE GETTING UNSAFE.

Teams Break Through on the Bay.

The ice on the bay is said to be very unsafe in places for teams, due to the continued warm weather for the past few days, that has caused the ice to thaw on top. This is particularly noticeable where there is a current. Yesterday afternoon there were few teams between Duluth and West Superior that ventured to take the route across the bay over the ice. Late in the afternoon one of the horses attached to a drag broke through the ice with one foot and fell, where the current had worn the ice thin and was broken. The animal was released after nearly half an hour's work, men trying it out with heavy timbers.

Struck a Horse.

Shortly before 7 o'clock last evening a Duluth bound intermediate car struck a drag team belonging to McMillen Bros. of West Superior, while running on Connor's Point, and knocked one of the horses down, and caused the car to shake up that it was some time before it was able to regain its feet and walk. The team was going in the opposite direction from that of the car and the driver neglected to swing the horse close enough to the curb. One of the windows in the front end of the car was broken by the shock of the collision.

RULES OF LIFE.

Do not worry. Keep sweet. Vinegar in a jug is a good thing, but in people it is a nuisance. Never depart from the truth. Be courteous. Never blame another when it is possible to blame yourself. Touch elbows with the rank and file. Speak every day to some one whom you know to be your superior. Speak every day, if possible, to some one whom you know to be your inferior.

DIVORCE SUITS.

Three Are Begun In The District Court.

Three suits for divorce were filed in district court today. Anna Elizabeth Von Campen charges Arson Von Campen with not only abandoning her in 1900, after living together about four years, but also charged that Von Campen has circulated false and malicious stories about her wife without cause or provocation. Absolute divorce is demanded. Default answer is alleged. D. M. Devoro is plaintiff's attorney.

Mary Hillman has sued Hans Hillman for divorce. Eckman & Stevenson are her attorneys.

Lissa Koski Forst, of Hibbing, assigns cruel treatment and intoxication as the causes for which she seeks a divorce from Forst, who she married at West Superior in 1898. D. M. Devoro is her attorney.

Taken From His Mother.
Probate Judge Bonham has made an order committing James Cattinack to the custody of the Children's Aid society of Minnesota.

The little fellow is about 4 years old and has no father or guardian living. His mother is Nellie Ca. anack, who for a couple of years has drunk heavily and associated a great deal, it is said with women of ill repute. The child has been badly neglected and ill treated. The application for commitment was made by Alderman J. Washburn and Trevellon of the ward in which the child has lived.

Harriet Sheddell was found insane yesterday afternoon and was committed to the insane hospital at Fergus Falls.

AT WEST DULUTH

The report was current in West Duluth this morning, and is said to come from very reliable sources, that the street railway company will not appeal its case regarding the extension of the car line on West Third street on Grand avenue to Sixty-third avenue west. The action to compel the company to extend its line under the old franchise was brought by the city at the instigation of Alderman Cochran, the retiring alderman of the Eighth ward. The case was first tried in district court, and about two weeks ago Judge Dill held judgment for the city, ordering the street railway company to begin the extension of its West Third street line by Nov. 1. The stay of proceedings was granted by the court, which will be Friday of this week, and in case the company does not ask for a stay, the city will file its appeal.

The announcement, coming as it does from a source that the West Duluth-Grand avenue line will be so soon with much pleasure, for it means that the people in that residence portion of the city will not have to wait for the extension of the line to Sixty-third avenue and Grand avenue will get a service that they have been for a long time striving to obtain. The West Duluth real estate men claim that the building of a street car line on Grand avenue will mean the settling up and starting of active building operations in that portion of the city that has for a long time lain dormant in the matter of the want of adequate street car facilities.

The news that the street car company will not take an appeal is not given out officially, nor will it be, probably, until the stay of proceedings is granted. It is understood that the company, while not taking an appeal, will ask the city for an extension of time in beginning the construction of the required line. It is thought by some that the street car company will endeavor to get the line in running order by the time that tunneling work under the Northern Pacific tracks near the ore docks had progressed to such an extent as to shut off travel over the old line to West Duluth.

A COMING MARRIAGE.
The marriage of two popular young people in Duluth is to be solemnized tomorrow evening at the Assembly M. E. church by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Rice. The bride is Miss Edith Smith, of Fifty-fourth avenue west, and the groom is William J. Smith, of Twenty-third avenue west. The ceremony will be at eight o'clock.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.
A delightful skating party was given by a number of the West Duluth young people at the skating rink last evening, followed by a social session at the home of Miss Georgiana Ross.

The charge laid by Justice Wooding brought against Samuel Koss, and Oscar Luoma, of stealing his pocketbook at the skating rink last evening, and the defendants were discharged. The charge was brought by the Flinn on Friday of last week and then committed to Justice Briggs for trial.

The two defendants were represented by John H. Norton. The case was heard by Justice Briggs on Friday of last week and the defense had put in all its evidence.

The Pedro team from the West Duluth came out from about No. 10, K. O. T. M., met last evening for the third game in the Great Eastern hall, and the team from Duluth won by ten games. Up to last evening the Duluth team led by a narrow margin. The last game of the series will be played March 12.

Miss Gertrude Smith, who has been visiting relatives at Duluth, is now in Duluth, and is in Southern Michigan. Charles Gustafson has accepted a position with the West Duluth fire department.

Richard Carr, of St. Paul, is visiting relatives here for a few days.

Two Big Oil Wells.
A telegram from Platt Lick, Ky., yesterday evening stated two more big wells had been brought in—a 200-barrel well on the farm and a 100-barrel well on the Tye Bend property. Both of these wells are in the same district as the Carnegie Oil company's property.

Lost Some Fingers.
Albert Forest, who is employed at Alger, Smith & Co.'s, lost a couple of fingers on his right hand this morning. The fingers were lost while he was working on a machine. The fingers had to be taken off at the knuckle and the fingers were sent to the first joint. The operation was performed by Dr. Pare and Dr. Davis, of the West End.

TO HAWAII.

Steamer Albatross Will Sail on Scientific Expedition.

San Francisco, Feb. 25.—Dr. Charles H. Gilbert, head of the zoology department of Stanford university, will sail in a few days on the United States steamer Albatross on a six-months scientific expedition to Hawaii. He will take charge of the United States fish commission that was conducted last year by Dr. David Starr Jordan and Dr. Oliver P. Jenkins. Dr. Gilbert will be accompanied by Professor C. C. Nutting, head of the zoology department at the University of Iowa. John I. Snyder, instructor in zoology at Stanford, and Walter J. Washburn, a Stanford graduate from the same department. The party is to make investigation in all branches of natural history.

BANK CLOSED.

First National of Belmont, O., In Trouble.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The comptroller of the currency today appointed National Bank Examiner J. W. Delay receiver of the First National Bank of Belmont, O., upon telegraphic advice from the directors of the bank that they had closed the doors.

THE DAKOTAS.

Mitchell—Fred L. Stevens, who was committed two months ago in the circuit court in this county for having received money in the bank of Plankinton when he was insolvent, appeared before Judge Smith to receive sentence. The court imposed a sentence of four years and six months. Judge Fellows, attorney for Stevens, presented a writ of error and certificate of probable cause from the supreme court which stayed execution of the sentence until the supreme court rules on the case as to whether Stevens shall have a new trial. His bail was fixed at $25,000. The motion for a new trial will likely be argued at the April term of the supreme court.

Blunt. The people of Blunt, in sinking an artesian well last fall, secured a supply of "dry gas," that is, gas without water, at a depth of about 300 feet, but as they went deeper, this flow was shut off, and they secured no gas, with their flow of water. They believe this supply of dry gas is sufficient to light the town, and intend to make a trial of it by sinking a well to the right depth. The drill went through a stratum which is believed to be coal, and in sinking the well this year this will be thoroughly tested in the hope of finding coal as well as gas.

Richard Connolly, who had a peculiar accident at the home of his brother, is now in a serious condition, and the physician says he is not hopeful of his recovery. While he was spending an evening at his brother's home, he was thrown from a horse, and he sustained a fracture of the spine. He is now in the hospital at Sioux City, and is recovering from his injuries.

Custer. Capt. Paul D. McClelland, who sustained a fracture of the bone of the left leg, a dislocation of the neck and other injuries by having a horse fall on him from the stock farm and a 100-barrel well on the Tye Bend property. Both of these wells are in the same district as the Carnegie Oil company's property.

Deadwood. Mrs. Nettie Ammerman, wife of Dr. A. Ammerman, of Rockford, died at her home of dropsy. She had resided in the Black Hills since 1877.

STRUCTURE

"I cure Stricture without cutting or dilating, thus avoiding the horrors of surgery."

HAVE YOU ANY OR ALL OF THESE SYMPTOMS?

Tenderness in urethra, at times accompanied by dull or shooting pains; frequent desire to pass urine, but not able to empty the bladder; voiding the urine at frequent intervals during the night; a gradual decline of vitality, resulting eventually in complete loss of power. The physical suffering is equalled only by the accompanying mental distress, which generally takes the form of gloomy forebodings, and feelings of impending disaster.

OUR ELECTRO-MEDICAL TREATMENT
Will promptly correct this serious trouble. It acts immediately and directly upon the stricture, dissolving and completely removing all diseased tissue, allaying all irritation and inflammation; restores the sexual powers completely, and leaves the urinary canal entirely free from obstruction, and in a healthy and sound condition.

Stevens Sentenced to Four and Half Years In Prison.

Mitchell—Fred L. Stevens, who was committed two months ago in the circuit court in this county for having received money in the bank of Plankinton when he was insolvent, appeared before Judge Smith to receive sentence. The court imposed a sentence of four years and six months. Judge Fellows, attorney for Stevens, presented a writ of error and certificate of probable cause from the supreme court which stayed execution of the sentence until the supreme court rules on the case as to whether Stevens shall have a new trial. His bail was fixed at $25,000. The motion for a new trial will likely be argued at the April term of the supreme court.

Blunt. The people of Blunt, in sinking an artesian well last fall, secured a supply of "dry gas," that is, gas without water, at a depth of about 300 feet, but as they went deeper, this flow was shut off, and they secured no gas, with their flow of water. They believe this supply of dry gas is sufficient to light the town, and intend to make a trial of it by sinking a well to the right depth. The drill went through a stratum which is believed to be coal, and in sinking the well this year this will be thoroughly tested in the hope of finding coal as well as gas.

Elk Point. The mysterious disappearance of Miss Josie Smythe is creating consternation among her relatives and friends. She left her home about a week ago for the ostensible purpose of visiting friends in Sioux City, Iowa. Her friends are now looking for her, but have not heard from her since. It is believed that she is in the hospital at Sioux City, and that she is recovering from her illness.

Richard Connolly, who had a peculiar accident at the home of his brother, is now in a serious condition, and the physician says he is not hopeful of his recovery. While he was spending an evening at his brother's home, he was thrown from a horse, and he sustained a fracture of the spine. He is now in the hospital at Sioux City, and is recovering from his injuries.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves, and washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, will be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents per package, is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

During the dinner the president proposed the health of the German emperor and the German people, saying:

"We admire their great past and great present and we wish them all possible good in their future. May the bonds of friendship between the two peoples grow even stronger."

The president also proposed the health of "Our Guest," Prince Henry of Prussia. In these words:

Bouck's Habeas Corpus Proceedings Come to Naught.

Emerson, Neb. 25.—The result of Leon Bouck's attempt by habeas corpus proceedings to regain possession of his girl wife, who was Miss Pearl Hooper, whom he married after an elopement to Sioux City last week, was to have her formally turned over to Sheriff Dully. He has given her back to the care of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hooper, who have kept her in their home ever since the marriage.

they remained in social conversation. The prince chatted freely with the company, many of whom he had met during the day. At midnight the party dispersed, the prince leaving directly for the railroad station, where his special train awaited him. A troop of cavalry and a squadron of mounted policemen acted as escort to the station and saw him safely aboard the train which left at midnight for New York city.

He came there to determine that if he could he would propose a solution of what he would propose to vote against that bill.

Judicial Function.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Attorney General Knox talks freely about the Noyes case. Yesterday he said:

"I never have believed Noyes was dishonest or corrupt, and do not believe so now. But he is a weak creature, in my judgment, and some of his official acts at Nome show he has no perception of the judicial function. He certainly is not competent to discharge judicial functions."

CONSULAR CHANGE.

New Scheme Adopted By Sweden and Norway.

Stockholm, Feb. 25.—Now that a joint committee of Swedish and Norwegian experts have set to work to devise separate consulates for Sweden and Norway, the Swedish foreign minister proposes that the two governments substitute fixed salaries for consuls in place of the present system of fees.

The shipping world of Sweden and Norway has long been a subject of controversy, but it has been defeated by political considerations, as the politicians of the two nations find it difficult to agree on a solution. It is thought that the proposition to divide traffic by salaries will be welcomed on both sides of the frontier.
